German and Basque.
More Money for Girls.
Modern Disciples Learn.
Earth's Worst Killing.

—By ARTHUR BRISBANE—

UZCUDUN, Spanish Basque, and Max Schmeling, powerful German, pounded each other through fifteen rounds in New York, while gentlemen and ladies enjoyed themselves IMMENSELY.

There is joy, for many, in watching a fight, when you know you can't be hurt.

AT the end of 15 rounds, Mr. Runyon, sport historian, reports, "Paulino's countenance was completely mashed in. Both of Paulino's eyes were almost closed, his face was a red smear. He was drunk with dizziness."

THE non-sporting historian observes, with mild interest, that Americans, in these days of wealth, prosperity and bootleg cocktails, seeking a heavyweight champion, must pick men born abroad.

When Rome began sliding down hill, real fighters for the forum and the army were imported from the North and East. The Romans had become good watchers of fights, ceasing to be good fighters.

MR. MILLER, new president of the Loft Company, big candy concern, announces an increase of almost 100 per cent pay for girls that sell candy.

Instead of $14, they will get $27 a week.

Mr. Miller thinks this will enable the girls to look neater, increase their interest in work, also the company's profits.

IT will do that and something more important. It will give the girls enough to live decently. And as many of them are destined to have babies, it will provide a better next generation.

DISEASE germs are real. The Rockefeller Institute can show them to you, under a microscope, rushing frantically around in a single drop of human blood.

The germ of sleeping sickness looks like a red hot coiled spring. The germ of the most horrible blood disease looks like a dragon with a big head rushing to and fro in it's little lake, the blood drop.

The "modern disciples of God" and others might change their minds about medicine if they could look through one of those microscopes.

THE world war began 15 years ago yesterday at Sarajevo, when the Archduke Franz Ferdinand, heir to the Austro-Hungarian throne, was assassinated. That spark started the warfare that killed nearly 20,000,000 human beings, cost 350 billions of dollars and threatened to wipe out civilization in Western Europe.

TWO Bosnian students murdered the Archduke and his wife "to free Serbia from the Austrian yoke." In Jugo-Slavia they are national heroes, martyrs, and memorial services praising them were held at their graves yesterday.

EXCEPT when Cain killed Abel there never was a murderer on this earth as disastrous to human beings as the murder of that otherwise unimportant Austrian archduke.

IN the campaign to get votes for women, some men, extinct, as "Krazy Kat" says, "from the shoulders up," objected to women voting because they couldn't fight.

A lady bandit of Topeka, Kan., would suit them.

Yesterday she took away $14,000 from Mr. Stalons, cashier of the Securities Benefit Association, having kidnaped A. J. Perlich, of Kansas City, forcing him to drive her to the scene of the holdup.

Read Euripides' "Bacchae" and pray that women may never discover their fighting qualities.

A CYCLONE in Pennsylvania yesterday did serious damage over a wide area, houses unroofed, telegraph and telephone wires down, towns isolated.

The damage will soon be repaired and the incident closed. If it had happened in Florida, it would be talked about for a year.

IN Russia, Judge Pashkov is sentenced to death with the famous bandit, Sokolov. The judge co-operated with bandits supplying them with arms, giving them judicial protection.

BUT let us retain our humility. We have judges accused of co-operating with bandit-lawyers, helping their schemes of robbery in connection with bankruptcy cases. It isn't quite as bad as murder, but bad enough, considering our "higher civilization."

EVANS HOLDS UP BIG GARBAGE PAYMENT

Contends Company Owes City $1,000,000 Overcharges; Plans Quick Legal Action

City Controller H. O. Evans announced today he had held up payments amounting to $146,000 claimed by the American Reduction Company for collection of garbage in May.

The garbage company has refused arbitration proposals and legal steps in some form will be taken the first of next week, Controller Evans told Council today, to secure the return from the reduction company of more than $1,000,000 in excess charges that he alleges the company has obtained from the city during the eight years 1921 to 1928 under the cost-plus contract.

SUIT TO BE FILED

Suit will have to be filed, he disclosed, because of the company's unwillingness, to permit the claim to be submitted to arbitration, as he proposed.

Evans has stated that the company charged to garbage and rubbish disposal costs the following items:

Donations, $12,000; advertising, $11,000; radio set for an official of the company, $135; initiation fee and other expenses incident to the membership of W. F. Hill, president of the company, in the Duquesne Club; salary of another executive for four years during Hill's incumbency, $93,000; plant replacements, $276,456; rent, $148,999; factory incidental experiment, $52,691; investigations,

PIRATES, REDS IN DUAL BILL

The first double-header of the season is on the books for Forbes Field today as the Cincinnati Reds and Pirates tangle in a dual bill. The Buccos, displaced as National League leaders yesterday by the Cubs, who won over St. Louis as the locals lost to the Reds, will be fighting to regain the top position.

Red Lucas won his tenth consecutive victory over the Pirates in two years as he tamed them yesterday, 10 to 3. It is getting so that all the Red hurler has to do is to throw his glove out on the mound and the Pirates are beaten. The locals haven't beaten Lucas since 1927.

Home runs by Traynor and Paul Waner were the only bright spots in yesterday's defeat. The Cincinnatians slugged Irwin Brame from the mound, and followed up by hitting Jess Petty and Larry French, a pair of southpaws, hard.

If the Pirates win two today, they go back into the lead, but in the case of a split, and if the Cubs beat St. Louis, the Bruins will remain on top.

Trial Marriage On Rocks in 30 Days

MUSKOGEE, Okla., June 29.—(AP.)—An unusual court record was filed here yesterday when W. D. Halfhill, Muskogee lawyer, asked annulment of a companionate marriage contract entered into a month ago with Flora S. Ferry.

Because of the precedent the case may establish by virtue of the pleading of the prenuptial agreement, considerable interest was aroused in legal circles. The question of whether an annulment can be granted will be decided by the same official who performed the marriage ceremony—District Judge Enloe V. Verner.

Judge Verner said that so far as he knew the case was the first on record asking a judicial opinion on a companionate marriage.

SLAYER IN LOVE TRAGEDY DIES

WASHINGTON, Pa., June 29.—A pathetic bit of verse—a few more pitiful notations in a diary—and a death note, pieced together today by Washington County authorities, tell a tragic story of romance between a daughter of the mines slain by her coal and iron policeman sweetheart, himself dead with a self-inflicted bullet in his head.

John M. Farr, 32, former coal and iron policeman at Vestaburg, is the man whose rejected love for Mrs. Edith Michales Johnson, 17, of Morgan, prompted him to end her life, then turn the weapon on himself, according to county detectives and deputy coroners. He died in the Canonsburg Hospital shortly after 4 a. m. today.

"Hearts never break,
Grief never kills;
Mine just aches
From loving you still."

DEATH NOTE FOUND

The finale in this drama of the mines was enacted in a sequestered little country lane near Van Eman, about five miles from Canonsburg, just off the McMurray road. Mrs.

WINGED FOOT CLUB, MAMARONECK, N. Y., June 29.—(AP.)—A sensational eagle three on the ninth hole enabled Bobby Jones to score 35, one under par, for the outward nine of his third round today in the open golf championship and gained a stroke on Al Espinoza, who had 36, and three on Gene Sarazen, who had 38. The 45-hole standings: Espinoza, 178; Jones, 179; Sarazen, 180; Tommy Armour, 180.

WINGED FOOT CLUB, MAMARONECK, N. Y., June 29.—(AP.)—With Al Espinosa and Gene Sarazen tied for the lead, the field of 67 still in the running for the national golf championship got away on the third round of play today. Weather conditions hardly were ideal.

There was a stiff cross wind and heavy clouds carried more than a hint of rain to come. It was much cooler than it had been on the first two days of play.

Espinosa hit the turn in a par 36, retaining his two-stroke lead over Tommy Armour, who also went out in 36. Whereupon, Tommy started to blow badly, taking a 5 on the par-3 tenth, another 5 on the par-4 eleventh and a 6 on the par-5 twelfth.

In the vicinity of the Azores, their aim as a refueling point on a Spain-to-U. All of the fliers are alive and safe. Search has been constant.

VIOLA'S FRIEND STILL FLIES

ROOSEVELT FIELD, N. Y., June 29.—(AP.)—There were sorrow and anxiety in the monoplane, Three Musketeers, as it circled over Long Island today striving for a new endurance flight record.

Snatches of radio conversation between the plane and the field station indicated that Martin Jensen and his wife, Marguerite, were in a conspiracy of kindness to keep from William Ulbrich, third member of the crew, details of the tragedy which befell their friendly rivals, Viola Gentry, "The Flying Cashier," and Jack Ashcraft.

Miss Gentry, in Nassau County hospital, with her chances for recovery doubtful, frequently called for Ulbrich, as she did when she was lifted from the wreck of her plane yesterday. She, too, was striving for an endurance record.

Ulbrich, knowing that Miss Gentry had been injured, but not how seriously, kept grimly on with the grind upon which he and the Jensens embarked at 7:32:02 Wednesday night in their effort to better the record of 172½ hours set in Fort Worth in May.

The crash of Miss Gentry's plane, The Answer, in which her co-pilot, Ashcraft, was killed, near Old Westbury, N. Y., revealed that a stronger sentiment than the companionship of the air existed between Ulbrich and Miss Gentry.

TRANS-OCEAN PLANE CREW ALL WELL

Rescued Near Mid-Sea Goal By British Plane Carrier; Countrymen Celebrate

International News Service.

LONDON, June 29.—Alive and safe after more than a week of drifting on the seas, Maj. Ramon Franco and his three companions who had been given up for lost while attempting a trans-Atlantic flight, have been found near the Azores by the British aircraft carrier Eagle, according to an official message from the vessel to the British admiralty today.

After several days of searching the waters between the Spanish and Portuguese mainlands and the Azores, watchers aboard the Eagle sighted the huge Dornier-Wahl seaplane drifting on the waves.

FIND ALL WELL

The vessel steamed close, and ascertained that in spite of their hardships and incredible escape from disaster, the airmen were safe and apparently in good physical condition.

Word of the rescue was immediately relayed by the Eagle to Gibraltar and then to the admiralty here.

Maj. Franco and his companions, Capts. Gallarza and Ruiz De Aida and Petro Madriaga, a mechanic, took off from Los Alcazarez airdrome, Cartagena, Spain, at 5 p. m. a week ago Friday.

They expected to reach the Azores the following morning, but were not seen or heard from after being reported sighted over Tarifa in the straits of Gibraltar a few hours after the start.

SEARCH BEGUN

When a day overdue at the Azores, where the airmen planned a refueling stop before proceeding to New York, search was begun for the airmen. Portuguese, Spanish and English warships in the vicinity participated in the search, and for a week an unceasing patrol was made of the steamer lane be-

Gladys Brockwell's Condition Critical

LOS ANGELES, June 29.—(AP.)—The condition of Gladys Brockwell, motion picture actress, was reported by physicians today as "extremely critical." Miss Brockwell and Thomas Stanley Brennan, Los Angeles advertising man, were seriously injured when their motor car plunged over a 75-foot embankment at Calabasas, Cal. A blood transfusion was resorted to yesterday in an effort to save Miss Brockwell's life.

Sewickley Hotel Held Up By Lone-Masked Robber

Elmhurst Inn, Sewickley residential hotel, was held up early today by a lone masked robber, who threatened the night clerk with a pistol. The robber took the money in the cash register and the clerk's watch.

Pierre Andree, the clerk, told Sewickley police he was sitting behind the desk when the robber, revolver in hand and with a mask over his face, entered. He ordered Andree to open the safe, but the clerk told him he did not know the combination.

The holdup man then took Andree's watch and the money in the cash register and severed the telephone wires to prevent sending of an alarm.

When the bandit had left, Andree summoned R. R. Kuhn, proprietor of the inn, who notified Sewickley police.

Elmhurst Inn is occupied by many persons prominent in Pittsburgh society, a new addition having been added to the old hotel recently. Mrs. Margaret M. Morgan, justice of the peace at Sewickley, occupies a room directly over the office where the holdup occurred.

MISSING SPANISH FLIERS RESCUED ADRIFT NEAR AZORES

ADRIFT WEEK ON PLANE; ALL WELL

British Aircraft Carrier Finds Crew Feared Lost On Trans-Atlantic Hop

tween Spain and the Azores for some trace of the airmen.

Their safe discovery comes just when all hope had been abandoned for their recovery.

IN PORT WEDNESDAY

The message from H. M. S. Eagle did not indicate at what hour the Spanish plane was found, but the wireless was dispatched early this morning, and from the text of the message it was indicated the plane and its fortunate crew were being hoisted aboard the vessel at the time the radio was being sent. The Eagle is proceeding at a speed of 15 knots an hour and is expected to reach Gibralter on Wednesday.

Under ordinary conditions, hope would have been abandoned long ago, but the plane in which the flight was being made was an exceptionally heavy and substantial craft, well equipped to ride the seas for an unlimited period, except in heavy storms.

The brief laconic message received from the master of H. M. S. Eagle this morning telling of the fliers' rescue read as follows:

"Numancia found latitude 36.28 north, longitude 26.14 west. Aircraft is being hoisted on Eagle. Little damage. Crew all well."

The spot designated in the Eagle's wireless message is about 100 miles southeast of Horta, on the Island of Fayal in the Azores, where the airmen planned to descend for refueling and reconditioning before continuing the flight to New York.

RESCUE MIRACLE

The rescue is a miracle of the sea, and recalls that of Capt. Harry Hawker and Robert Grieve, British airmen, who attempted a trans-Atlantic flight soon after the war, and were picked up by a steamship after a week of drifting, out of touch with the world and given up for lost.

Also in this category falls the rescue of Ruth Elder, the daring trans-Atlantic airwoman, who with a man companion was picked up near the Azores by the Dutch freighter Barendrecht. But in that case, the position of Miss Elder's plane had been given by wireless before the forced descent on the ocean was made.

In this case, however, no direct word had been received from Maj. Franco, although his plane was equipped with wireless, since after the take-off from the Los Alcazares Field.

TROUBLE UNKNOWN

It is not yet known what trouble crippled Maj. Franco's radio, but it is understood it worked only when the plane was in flight, and that the airman did not have time to send out a message of distress before his plane made a landing on the waves.

It was only yesterday that Gen. Primo De Rivera, the Spanish dictator, and Spanish aviation officials definitely gave up hope that the fliers would be found. It was known they had sufficient rations on board to last for several days, but after fast gunboats, warships and any number of planes had sought unavailingly for a full week for the Spanish hydroplane, even most sanguine hopes of their recovery were given up.

H. M. S. Eagle, one of the largest aircraft carriers afloat, is capable of a speed approximating 30 knots an hour, and carries a complement of half a dozen planes. All during the search these planes took off frequently from the broad deck of the carrier to scour the seas over a large area for trace of Maj. Franco's plane, and it was when the search was about to officially abandoned that a bobbing spot on the waves gave the location of the long-sought airmen.

SENDS MESSAGE

MADRID, June 29.—(AP.)—"We are all right. Kind regards and embraces.

(Signed) "Ramon Franco."

That was the message which Commander Franco sent from the British airplane-carrier Eagle to the commanding officer of the air port of Alcarzares today. The fliers used the Alcarzares air port as their base on their hop for the Azores.

MANY FLIERS SAVED AT SEA

NEW YORK, June 29.—(AP.)—The Azores has been the scene of other fortunate rescues since man with his air machines first defied the elements in efforts to span the Atlantic.

Ruth Elder and George Haldeman, American trans-Atlantic fliers, and Commander Francesco De Pinedo, of Italy, were saved from almost certain death by the timely rescue by steamships.

NOTABLE RESCUES

Other notable sea rescues of aviators elsewhere after hope almost had been abandoned, were those of Harry G. Hawker, English daredevil, in 1919, and the late Commander John Rodgers and his crew of naval aviators who were found floating on the wreckage of their plane off the Hawaiian Islands in 1925.

Miss Elder and Haldeman were rescued off the Azores when a broken air line forced them down September 13, 1927, as they were picked up by the Dutch tanker Barendrecht, near which the fliers made a fortunate landing.

Commander De Pinedo was flying home after a tour of four continents. Forced down on his flight from Trepassey, N. F., to the Azores, he was towed safely into Fayal.

DRIFTED DAYS

Probably the most notable rescue during the past decade was that of Commander Rodgers and his crew in the seaplane in which they were flying from San Francisco to Honolulu. Missing for days, they finally were sighted off Kaui. Although they had fallen short of their goal, they established a long distance flight record. Rodgers later was killed in an airplane accident at Philadelphia.

The luck which followed Harry Hawker, famous English aviator for many years while he wrote new records into the sky, was with him on his flight with a companion from St. John's, Newfoundland, to Europe, May 18, 1919. For seven days wild reports of their fate stirred the world until a message from the S. S. Mary told of their safe rescue in mid-Atlantic. They had been forced down 14 hours after they had taken off and were in the water 90 minutes when they were picked up.

Weather Conditions.

The disturbance that produced the thunderstorm conditions over this section yesterday is now in the far Northeast and high barometer covers the central valleys and eastward to the coast. The high is attended by clear skies generally, and moderately cool weather. A low pressure area centered over Manitoba and extending southwestward over the northern plains and the Rocky Mountain states is causing some cloudiness over that section and thunderstorms in Manitoba and Saskatchewan and in North Dakota. There was a change to warmer over the northern plains.

River Conditions.

Light to moderately heavy rains occurred over all of Western Pennsylvania and West Virginia, causing a rise in the rivers. Stage at Pittsburgh is 11.3; Dam No. 2, 8.0; Dam No. 6, 7.5; Dam No. 9, 7.9, and Dam No. 12, 5.0. The dams are up. About 13.0-foot stage expected at Pittsburgh Sunday morning.

EX-POLICEMAN WANTED

Police today were looking for Herman J. Steubenrach, former patrolman, and one-time investigator for William L. King, fugitive Citizens' League director, alleged by Ralph H. Dixon, of 202 Cutler street, North Side, to have beaten him Thursday night. According to Dixon, Steubenrach drove his automobile into the former's car in front of his home, and when Dixon remonstrated with him, jumped out and beat him.

Dixon reported the attack to Patrolman James L. Shaw, whose report to headquarters caused an order to be sent out for the former investigator's arrest.

Steubenrach was dismissed from the police department several years ago, but later was reinstated by Director James M. Clark, of the Department of Public Safety, and assigned as an undercover man in the office of Supt. Peter P. Walsh.

Ford Favors Men 35 to 60 For Stable Production

PHILADELPHIA, June 29.—(AP.)—Henry Ford, in the July issue of the Ladies Home Journal, says that he should prefer, if he could make the choice, to have all his employes between 35 and 60 years of age.

"For then," the automobile manufacturer adds, "we should have a stable and experienced force. We would not care how much over 60 the men were so long as they could do their work.

"Under no circumstances would we have a working force made up of only young men," Ford says. "It is absolutely necessary, in order to get the work through, to have a solid framework of older and more experienced men who know exactly what they are doing.

"It is not to be expected that a man of 70 will have as much endurance as one of 25. It is not at all necessary that he should have, for, by the time a man has reached 70, he ought to have something a great deal more valuable than physical strength."

HAWKS BREAKS AIR RECORDS ACROSS U. S.

Round Trip From Coast to Coast Made in 36 Hours, 48 Minutes; Smashes Plane

International News Service.

ROOSEVELT FIELD, N. Y., June 29.—In New York at 5:21 a. m. Thursday, in Los Angeles at 8:23 (Pacific Standard Time) on the same evening, and back on the Atlantic coast again at 1:16 a. m. today.

This was the epochal feat completed by Capt. Frank M. Hawks early this morning when his Lockheed air express emerged from the shroud of darkness and fog over the field here, narrowly averting a serious crash in landing. He made the return flight in 17 hours, 38 minutes and 16 3-5 seconds, clipping 43 minutes off his own west-to-east nonstop record.

The transcontinental flier's actual flying time for the round trip was only 36 hours, 48 minutes and 48 3-5 seconds, for he rested in Los Angeles seven hours and 14 minutes before taking off for Roosevelt Field.

SETS NEW RECORDS

In less than two days the speed demon of the skies set a nonstop record for both east-to-west and west-to-east flights, for his time of 19 hours, 10 minutes and 32 seconds from this field to Los Angeles eclipsed the record of 24 hours, 51 minutes set last year by Capt. C. B. Collyer and Harry Tucker.

When Hawks arrived, 800 persons were on the field, including his wife, who has flown 7,000 miles with him.

PLANE DAMAGED

Either blinded by the flood light or else trying to avoid hitting the crowd, he swung the plane from the east side of the field toward the south side, overshot the field and crashed clear through a galvanized wire fence. The left wing tip of the plane was damaged, but the flier was not hurt and jumped out smiling.

His plane was equipped with landing lights, but only two beacon lights and one flood light were on at the field. As he got out of the damaged plane, Capt. Hawks was heard to mutter: "not enough lights on this field."

He was hustled into an automobile and started promptly for his home in New York City.

GREETED BY WIFE

Mrs. Hawks was one of the first to greet him—with a kiss.

"My heart was in my throat," she admitted, "when I saw the plane go into the fence."

He had last been sighted over East St. Louis, Ill., at 5:32 p. m. (7:32 p. m. New York daylight time) last evening. He dropped a note over the Parks airport there stating that head winds had retarded his progress since leaving Los Angeles 11 hours and 45 minutes earlier.

JENSEN NEAR RECORD

Soaring about in the bright morning sunshine and giving no evidence of any intention of coming down, the Three Musketeers, Martin Jensen, his wife Marguerite and William Ulbrich were attempting today to establish a new world's record for sustained flight. At 8:32:02 a. m. they had been in the air 61 hours.

Their monoplane was riding easily and all apparently was well. Shortly after 7 o'clock Jensen dropped a note asking for fuel and the Exclamation Mark, which is the refueling ship for the record seekers, was made ready to go up.

CLEVELAND, O., June 29.—(INS.)—First refueling of the Stinson-Detroit monoplane City of Cleveland, in which Pilots Byron Newcomb and Roy Mitchell are trying to set a new endurance record, took place over Cleveland airport at 7 a. m. today. Newcomb and Mitchell took off at 6:38:51 last night.

JAPAN CRISIS THREATENED

TOKIO, June 29.—(AP.)—There was every indication today a sudden cabinet crisis, threatening the government of Baron Giichi Tanaka, has arisen. The trouble was understood to have its roots in the report of the investigation into the death of Marshal Chang Tso-Lin, defeated Chinese war lord, in Manchuria last June.

The leading native papers today freely asserted that the cabinet, formed from the Seiyukai, or Conservative party, in 1927 and reconstituted in 1928, was tottering and that the Minseito, or Liberal opposition, was preparing to take over the reins of government.

Official circles were evasive, professing not to have any knowledge of how far the reports of imminent fall were true, although averring they "probably are exaggerated."

HUNDREDS SEEK CITIZENSHIP

Desiring to avoid increases in naturalization fees effective July 1, and also more rigid requirements for citizenship that will be put in force in the autumn, foreigners desirous of becoming American citizens have been flocking to the Federal Building in unusually large numbers during the last few days.

A large proportion have been in the United States many years, and have been thoroughly Americanized, but for one reason or another have neglected naturalization.

The corridors of the fourth floor of the Federal Building, where the offices of the Naturalization Bureau of the Department of Labor and the clerk of the United States District Court are located, have been thronged with Hungarians, Lithuanians, Czechs, Slovaks, Jugoslavs, Italians, Poles, Germans, Swedes, Irish and Scotchmen. Some are declaring their intentions, others petitioners for final papers. Scores are examined daily by William M. Ragsdale, district director of naturalization, and C. L. Hapgood, deputy clerk of court in charge of naturalization.

SLAYER IN LOVE TRAGEDY DIES

Johnson's lifeless body lay in the road alongside Farr's automobile, in which he slumped with his police pistol lying on the floor where it had fallen from his inert hands, and a half-empty bottle of liquor were mute evidence of what had happened.

Neighbors who heard the shooting Thursday night found the victims yesterday morning after they had laid out in a heavy downpour of rain. In Farr's pocket was found a note which he expressed as being "sick and tired of everything."

In Mrs. Johnson's pocketbook was found a diary. One notation read: "Started going with J. M. Farr June 2, 1926. Cokeburg Junction."

Cokeburg is a mining village. Edith Michales was a daughter of the mines. She lived with her mother and step-father, Alfred F. Henderson.

About the time she met Farr, the coal miners of Western Pennsylvania were in the midst of a bitter strike. Coal and iron police patroled the peaceful mining villages where once all had been quiet and happy.

"Frank E. Johnson and Edith E. Michales married in Uniontown, Pa., Monday, June 11, 1928."

"F. E. Johnson killed in mine, Jones, Pa., July, 27."

The diary contains much of importance to the young woman. Methodically she entered a detailed account of compensation awards following her husband's death and subsequent events.

More recent entries concerning Farr were found in the last few pages, which also contained the verse under which the young woman signed her name.

"Edith was a good girl," her parents told detectives, "but she could not decide whether she loved Farr enough to marry him."

Farr, who had been living with the girl's parents for about five days, took the young woman for an automobile ride Thursday night, promising to return home about 9:50. The parents believe their daughter's refusal to marry him precipitated the tragedy.

THREE GIVEN FARM JOBS BY HOOVER

Stone of Kentucky, Williams Of Oklahoma, Denman of Missouri Get Board Places

WASHINGTON, June 29.—(AP.)—James C. Stone, of Kentucky; C. B. Denman, of Missouri, and Carl Williams, of Oklahoma, have been appointed by President Hoover as members of the Federal Farm Board created by the new administration farm relief act.

The Chief Executive said he hoped to have the acceptances of three or four more members by the middle of next week and added that it was his belief that the full board of eight would be able to organize by August 1.

While Mr. Hoover made no designation of a chairman among the group of three, the general expectation is that Mr. Stone, who is the founder and president of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association, will be named. When he was here recently for conferences with the President, Mr. Stone was quoted as saying that he could not afford to relinquish his present position except for the chairmanship of the farm body.

After the names were made public by the President it was explained at the White House that Secretary Hyde, of the Agriculture Department, had been earnestly co-operating with farm organizations and others interested in making the selection for the board and there was made public the names of the organizations and individuals who indorsed each of the three men.

The list appended to the brief sketch of Mr. Stone was by far the most formidable and included Frank O. Lowden, former governor of Illinois.

EVANS HOLDS UP GARBAGE CASH

HOLDS REBATES SHORT

Under the cost-plus clause of the contract, the company has refunded during the last eight years about $960,000, but the rebates should have been twice that amount, according to Evans.

CITY EMPLOYE QUITS

Disclosures of the company's accounts have been followed by the resignation of H. E. Breitenstein, an employe of the Controller's office for 20 years. He was chief accountant during the years the cost-plus contract was in force and his duties included the auditing of the company's books each year to determine the amount of excess profits that should be returned to the city.

Garbage and rubbish disposal has cost the city $9,600,000 during the eight years of the cost-plus system. Annual appropriations ranged from $1,157,000 to $1,580,000.

Evans has said that his audit would require a minimum of two months and might run five months.

SHOALS ONLY MAJOR TASK UNSETTLED

Topics of Perennial Battle Passed, Money to Be Chief Care Unless Tariff Drags

WASHINGTON, June 29.—(AP.)—Unless the tariff bill drags into the regular session, Speaker Longworth believes that, shorn of most of the major subjects of perennial controversy, the principal work of Congress next winter will be the annual supply bills.

Muscle Shoals alone remains of the most controversial tasks that have vexed former congresses for many years, although inland waterway legislation and railroad problems also fall to a relatively moderate extent into the same category.

Both the speaker and Representative Tilson, of Connecticut, the majority leader, however, view the coming session now as one which will have as its major task the work of allotting some four billions of dollars to the departments and other agencies of the government to carry on their work.

BIG PROBLEMS SOLVED

Farm relief has been transferred from the legislative to the executive field after more than a decade of controversy. Boulder Canyon has been disposed of similarly. Reapportionment of the House membership is assured. The national origins basis for determining the immigration quotas of the different nations will be in effect next Monday. Taxes have been reduced. Tariff revision may remain for the regular session, but leaders hope to have it out of the way before December.

The task of allotting more than $4,000,000,000 to carry on the government's work will fall largely to the House Appropriations Committee. Experts of that committee, the Treasury Department and the Budget Bureau will begin work on it during the summer. Before the special session ends, the committee will be organized, and a month before the regular session begins, the various sub-committees will open their hearings.

APPROPRIATIONS AT PEAK

These will continue far into the regular session until at least 11 appropriation bills have been completed. Nine of these carry the regular supplies for the different departments. The other two provide supplemental funds to care for emergency needs that have arisen.

The last Congress at its final session appropriated $4,665,236,768, all but $200,000,000 of which goes for the work of the government during the fiscal year of 1930, beginning Monday. The last amount went to make up deficiencies incurred during the fiscal year now ending and for claims and judgments.

Of the total $1,378,679,735 is a permanent, fixed appropriation that goes to the departments regularly for specified purposes. The remainder goes in varying sums, fluctuating to meet the changing needs.

The last session of the Seventieth Congress exceeded by $31,180,629 the total appropriated by the same Congress at its first session. Altogether it accounted for $9,299,292,906, the largest amount ever appropriated by any peace time Congress, and exceeding by $8,142,294 the recommendations of the Budget Bureau.

FIVE-DAY WEEK FOR BUILDERS

An agreement for a five-day week for most of the building trades was signed yesterday by representatives of the Building Trades Employers' Association and the Building Trades Council, to become effective July 1. The agreement does not affect the present wage scales.

A five-day week was granted bricklayers, tile setters, plasterers and several other trades some time ago, Saturday being observed as a full holiday. F. E. Rust, secretary of the Building Trades Council, said today that negotiations are now under way for a five-day week for all trades not included in the agreements.

Town Swept by Cyclone Clears Up Debris

UNIONTOWN, Pa., June 29.—Work of clearing up the $25,000 damage caused by a cyclone that hurt a 3-month-old infant and menaced two girls and a boy was being rushed today in the little village of Farmington, nestled in the mountains, 12 miles from Uniontown, on the National pike.

The storm, which hit about 8:15 o'clock yesterday morning, first swept the roof off the one-story frame general store of Mrs. F. C. Rush on the pike at the Elliottsville road. The swirling pool of wind then tore the roof from the two-story service station and home of Roy Cable. The home of G. C. Coleman, housing the Bell Telephone exchange, on the same side of the road, was struck next, the front porch roof being swept away while a portion of the roof was damaged.

Crossing the road at this point, the cyclone struck the home of Wilma Rishel, in which Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wolf resided on the second floor, demolishing the front porch and bulging the sidewalls. An unoccupied one-story frame bungalow a short distance to the east was slightly damaged. A small frame stable in the path of the swirling wind was demolished.

Margaret Rishel, infant daughter of Mrs. Margaret Rishel, was showered by window glass as she slept, suffering cuts on the face. Mrs. Rishel, who was in the kitchen with her 3-year-old son, Austin, was compelled to force the door leading into the babe's room. It was held tight by the warped walls.

JOB PROBLEMS LINKED WITH NAVY CUT

Work for Arms Makers Vital If Pact Is Reached, Aide To MacDonald Declares

LONDON, June 29.—(AP.)—Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, in a public speech here last night, said that his government was working actively at its great task of international peace.

"Right up to the moment I left Downing street to come here," he said, "I was engaged in trying to lay the foundations of what will be the finest and fairest fabric that any government has ever built for the delight, the honor and comfort of the nation for which it is responsible."

Lord Privy Seal J. H. Thomas in discussing his task of finding a cure for unemployment, alluded at the same meeting to one of the difficulties of disarmament.

"Don't be unmindful of the fact that you must bear the consequences of your actions," he admonished. "It is no good to talk about peace and naval disarmament unless you are prepared to face the consequences for those who are employed in making armaments. You must realize that situatinon and all that it involves"

U. S. ADVISES CAUTION

WASHINGTON, June 29.—(AP.)—Suggest: have been made by the American government to Great Britain that the naval disarmament question should be approached with caution in view of the present status of that problem.

There is a feeling of uneasiness in official circles here that a conference of naval powers might result without sufficient preparation.

The United States has been informally sounded out by Great Britain, it became known here, on its attitude toward a conference of the principal naval powers either separate from the League of Nations preparatory disarmament commission, or under the League machinery.

Although the Washington government is willing to participate in almost any plan which would mean further disarmament, it is felt here that the present nebulous status of the question which has followed the preliminary work of the preparatory commission does not justify the calling of an immediate conference of the powers.

APPROVAL DENIED

The attitude of this government is that the whole problem must be approached slowly and only after a long and laborious arrangement of details.

Secretary Stimson emphatically denied that Ambassador Dawes had been instructed to indicate the United States' unqualified approval of an immediate conference either under the auspices of the league or a separate conference involving the five major naval powers, the United States, Great Britain, Japan, France and Italy.

The Secretary of State also said that in the recent conversations in London between Ambassador Dawes and Prime Minister MacDonald and the diplomats of the other naval powers nothing definite had been decided concerning procedure to be followed in future disarmament discussions.

Lawyer Has His Rival Act as Interpreter

Finding it necessary to find a Hungarian interpreter in Common Pleas Court, Attorney W. H. Coleman suggested that George Arpad Varady, opposing counsel, act in that capacity, and Judge George V. Moore ordered "Swear the interpreter."

The incident occurred in the divorce case of Helen Meszaros, 1813 Soles street, against Paul Meszaros. The husband unexpectedly contested the action brought by his wife. Mrs. Meszaros protested at having the opposing lawyer interpret, but Attorney Coleman, her counsel, waived her aside.

Mrs. Meszaros said her husband drank and abused her. When the respondent was questioned as to his drinking, he answered: "I drink like all gentlemen."

ST. LOUIS HOST TO LINDBERGHS

ST. LOUIS, June 29.—(AP.)—Entertained by the backers who first believed the obscure National Guard captain could fly from New York to Paris, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and his bride had a program of business and informal pleasure today with the intention of taking off for Kansas City on their leisurely western flight late this afternoon or tomorrow morning.

While Col. Lindbergh yesterday conferred with Transcontinental Air Transport officials and inspected the facilities of the line, Mrs. Lindbergh was entertained privately by Mrs. Harry Hall Knight. Col. and Mrs. Lindbergh were guests at a small dinner party given by Maj. William B. Robertson, a backer of the New York-to-Paris flight and the Colonel's old air mail boss.

Lindbergh told interviewers that St. Louis was a logical crossroads in the future of commercial aviation and advised the construction of permanent runways "before freezing weather sets in, at any rate," at Lambert-St. Louis Field.

"My duties in the future with Transcontinental Transport will require more of my time in St. Louis than heretofore," he said, "but, of course, I'll be spending quite a bit of my time in New York."

Charles Vitelli, 37, a boarder at 300 Baldwin street, Hays Borough, was in a serious condition in St. Joseph's Hospital today as a result of being slashed by a knife during a fight in front of the boarding house late last night. Police were looking for a man known as Patsy Malba, 42, of 103 Eighth avenue, Hays, alleged to have done the cutting.

Vitelli told hospital authorities that his wife is in Italy, and that during her absence he has been staying at the boarding house. During a quarrel last night he said Malba invited him out into the street, where the cutting took place. He suffered a deep gash on the left cheek and the right side of his head.

Deputy coroners today were investigating two automobile accidents yesterday and last night which cost the lives of three men and a woman. Two of the men were killed instantly when their automobile turned over at Forbes and Beeler streets early yesterday. Another, injured in the same wreck, died in Homeopathic Hospital last night. The woman died when struck by an automobile last night in front of her home.

Daniel Donohue, 36, of Dawson and Frazier streets, one of four men injured when their car turned over, killing Patrick Walsh, 25, of 3234 Juliet street, and William Good, 35, of 62 Wakefield street, died last night. If their condition permits, they will be questioned today.

WOMAN VICTIM

The fourth victim of the day was Mrs. Rebecca Alexander, 58, of 25 Semicir street, North Side. She was killed when struck by an automobile in front of her home last night. Frank W. Schaffer, of Ingomar, alleged driver of the car which struck her, took her to Allegheny General Hospital, where she was pronounced dead. He then reported the accident to North Side police, who held him as a suspicious person, for the coroner.

Two men and a woman were injured when their automobile skidded and overturned on Babcock boulevard, 14 miles out of Pittsburgh, last night. A passing motorist dragged the victims from the wreckage and brought them to Allegheny General Hospital.

THREE HURT

CRISIS FACES POINCARE ON DEBT

French Cabinet Likely to Fall When Adverse Reply Of U. S. Is Given Deputies

PARIS, June 29.—(AP.)—French politicians believe a cabinet crisis will be the probable aftermath of the note to Washington asking for postponement beyond August 1 of the maturity date on the surplus war stocks debt of $400,000,000.

Washington's reply to the request, presented by Ambassador Claudel, was understood to be in Premier Poincare's hands. While its contents were not divulged, there was little doubt it was polite but firm "no."

It was considered certain the premier would have his troubles when he took that answer back to the Chamber of Deputies. Even should his "Armistice Day Cabinet" of last November fall, though, the task of reorganization of the government would be left to him, since even his enemies feel no one else in France is so well qualified to see the liquidation of the war through to its end.

Meanwhile the deputies have had a chance to cool off some after their explosion Thursday night which resulted in the premier's request to the United States government for the maturity date postponement. The fact that the whole list of stocks and bonds on the Bourse took a tumble yesterday was believed to have led to many sober second thoughts.

SNOOK MENTAL INQUIRY ON

COLUMBUS, O., June 29.—(Ins.)—Two alienists, Dr. John Berry, of Athens, O., and Dr. G. W. Heffner, of Circleville, O., started an examination of Dr. James H. Snook, confessed slayer of Miss Theora K. Hix, 24-year-old co-ed.

The alienists were engaged by Snook's attorneys and caused the report that the 49-year-old deposed Ohio State University professor would plead insanity at his trial which is scheduled to open here July 22.

Alienists who were hired by the state several days ago, in an attempt to forestall an insanity defense, are still conducting their examinations.

Employer Sued Over Auto Crash

Infant Siamese Twins Die After Two Days' Show

NEWARK, N. J., June 29.—(INS.)—The bodies of Wanda Mae Lenz and Juanita Fae Lenz, Siamese twins, who died in the Babies Hospital here yesterday at the age of 9 weeks, will be sent back to the home of their mother in Mattoon, Ill.

The twins, who were brought here from Mattoon on Wednesday for exhibition at a local amusement park, died from malnutrition, due not to improper care, but to their physical deformity, according to Dr. Edward G. Wherry, chief of staff of the hospital.

They were in charge of two trained nurses, Gertrude Young and Idella Treviston. Wednesday afternoon, Wednesday night and Thursday afternoon they were exhibited at the amusement park. Thursday night one of them was taken ill, then the other, and they were rushed to the hospital.

When their condition grew worse, Dr. Wherry was called in. They died about the time he arrived—within two minutes of each other.

Dr. Wherry examined them and said they could not have lived. He was amazed, he said, that they had lived as long as they did. They had two hearts, two sets of lungs, two bladders, two livers—but only one abdomen. They were joined from chest to knees, on the side, with the head of one near the feet of the other.

In Mattoon their mother, a farmer's wife, has six children, ranging in age from 1 year to 16 years, all normal.

CALL FOR LAW AID PLANNED IN PULPITS

Dr. Kerr and Dr. Macartney Leaders in Plea to People For Support of President

The Rev. Dr. Hugh T. Kerr and the Rev. Dr. Clarence E. Macartney have been chosen to represent Pittsburgh on the National Loyalty Commission which has issued a call to the Presbyterian churches in the United States to observe tomorrow as National Loyalty Day.

The call was issued under the authority of Dr. Cleland B. McAfee, of Chicago, moderator of the Presbyterian General Assembly, subsequent to the conference with President Hoover at Washington. The conference was attended by the 17 ministers and eight laymen constituting the Loyalty Commission.

Dr. Macartney

In its call for Loyalty Sunday, the commission asks the pastors to give special emphasis in all services to the following message:

"The recent general assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America was deeply impressed by the public word of the President of the United States regarding the threatened breakdown of the moral sentiment of the country by reason of widespread disobedience to law, of which the most conspicuous example is the prevailing attitude toward the Eighteenth Amendment.

Dr. Kerr

"A National Loyalty Commission, appointed by order of the assembly, met in Washington, June 19, and had a most impressive interview with the President. He asserted anew his sense of the dependence of his office on the moral character of the people and his realization that no agency is so necessary for the development of a right moral sentiment as the Christian Church. He urged that the issue is not one of enforcement of law, so much as one of obedience to law and that obedience must issue from the hearts of the people.

"The National Loyalty Commission urges that earnest attention be given to this issue of law obedience and that every member of the church place himself and his influence on the side of law obedience."

Pre-Views of Mergers By U. S. Court Asked

By HOWARD CASSIDY,
Staff Correspondent.

BEDFORD SPRINGS, June 29.—The proposal that a federal industrial court be established, to determine in advance of a proposed corporate merger, whether it offends the Sherman anti-trust law, was advanced last night by Col. William (Wild Bill) Donovan, of Buffalo, former assistant attorney general, as the closing feature of the thirty-fifth annual conference of the Pennsylvania Bar Association.

It aroused deep interest and met with considerable initial approval among the jurists and lawyers. Pennsylvania is a state of large mergers, with a number of important ones impending.

George Wharton Pepper, retiring president, declared after the conclusion of Donovan's address that the agency proposed must be created, for the benefit of business as well as the individual.

FAVORS MERGERS

Donovan favored business mergers prompted by proper motives of industrial efficiency, but condemned monopolies designed to eliminate competition, destroy individual initiative or yield disproportionate profits. He found the Sherman act sound in principle.

The forceful address of Donovan and the glamour of his personality featured the forum of the conference. Donovan said:

"For the purpose of this discussion it is assumed that the Sherman anti-trust act is sound in principle; that it represents a political and social theory as well as an economic theory; that it is a philosophy of human relationship and has for its object conserving the public interest by protecting it from economic exploitation.

"The enactment of the Sherman law was intended to secure equality of opportunity and to protect the public against evils incident to monopolies and to those combinations which had for their purpose the suppressing of competition. It is recognized that business mergers may be prompted by perfectly proper motives of industrial efficiency, and that in order to avoid industrial decay a fair chance must be given for the growth of business units.

"It has been said that size itself is not an evil and that the mere existence of power that is unexerted does not constitute an offense. Business combinations, to the extent that they advance the interest of economic life, are not condemned, but where the purpose of the consolidation is to control an industry so that a particular group may eliminate competition, destroy individual initiative, and by skillful devices award themselves profits disproportionate to their services, then such combinations constitute a serious economic and social danger."

CONSTITUTIONAL

The constitutionality of an industrial court, created to function by advisory proceedings in aid of executive action, Donovan asserted, is established by a ruling of the Supreme Court in the Bakelite case Donovan continued:

"Criticism of the Sherman law comes today from two sources. First, those who insist that it should be repealed because it constitutes an undue limitation upon industry and a shackle upon the development of business; that it gives no definite rule by which business men may be guided and that this results in confusion and uncertainty. Then there are those who assert that the anti-trust laws are not properly enforced, and as proof of their assertion cite the continued growth of industrial combinations.

"Those who assert that the Sherman act should be repealed because it is too general, are attacking it in its strongest point, because that generality gives it a resilience and power of growth that makes it responsive to changing economic conditions. Many of those who contend that the number of mergers now taking place is proof of the ineffectiveness of the law or of laxity in its enforcement base their contention on the fact that mere consolidation is a violation in and of itself. They forget that many combinations are only the necessary expression of our industrial development. They forget also the test of legality laid down by the Supreme Court so tersely expressed in the opinion just read.

ALWAYS UNCERTAINTY

"There is bound to be always some degree of uncertainty the growth of business will always invade some field not yet delimited by court decisions. Nevertheless, it must be true that there can be elimination of delay and that more quickly the test of legality ought to be applied. But the reason for the difficulty complained of does not really lie in any fault of substance, rather is it a fault of procedure, a need of method in carrying into effect the purpose of the law.

"In its enforcement features, the Sherman law was based upon the idea that monopolies could be prevented and illegal trade agreements thwarted by a system of repressive legislation. It was believed that the effective method was to be sought under the provision of the criminal law. We have been proceeding all these years upon that theory. We had believed that all we need do in the enforcement of our trust laws was to pursue the conventional method of a public prosecutor, who, acting upon complaint, will submit the case to the determination of a court. But the Sherman act itself, in fact, was not so much a criminal statute as the definition of a common law policy. The 35 years of its existence ought to show that the effective approach for carrying it into effect is through some preventive method that would arrest the evil before it could work harm."

Presidents Roosevelt, Taft and Wilson were cited by Donovan in their efforts to give force to anti-trust laws. He said under Coolidge there was a deliberate policy of attempting to meet at the threshold proposals which might come within the prohibition of the Sherman act. He considered the result was the creation of a great reservoir of capital for the development of industrial enterprises.

Law Meeting's Sidelights

BEDFORD SPRINGS, June 29.—An expert is an ordinary man away from home, says former Senator George Wharton Pepper. His definition came in commenting on an exhaustive discourse on federal tax procedure given by Kingman Brewster, Washington tax expert, sent a ripple of laughter through the hall. The lawyers were astonished at Brewster's knowledge of so complicated a subject. They voted him an honorary member of the Pennsylvania Bar.

A Washington County jurist, in seconding the nomination of Bernard J. Meyers, of Lancaster, to be president, spoke of the relationship between Washington countians and those of Lancaster. Years ago, he recalled, companies of pioneers traveled westward from Lancaster to Washington.

"They builded their homes and their churches and their stills," he said, "and their homes are their still."

In Meyers, Lancaster County has furnished the second president of the bar association in 32 years. The first was W. U. Hensel, one of the most brilliant of the county's long line of legal lights. A background of romance is furnished, as Hensel was Meyers preceptor and the latter now occupies the same office Hensel used.

Nearly 100 Pittsburghers who had a prominent part in the convention's discussions and formulations of policy started home over the Lincoln Highway last night and today.

Representatives from Pittsburgh and Erie are making a bid for the next convention. Time and place for this meeting will be decided upon within the next three months.

COME TO CHURCH

The Church Is the Meeting Place of God and His People

SERMONETTE

"CHURCH ATTENDANCE, AN APPRECIATION"

By REV. W. S. TROSH, Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church, Beech and Allegheny Avenues, North Side

NUMEROUS reasons are assigned for the alarming and nation-wide falling off in church attendance among Protestants. The blame is directed at the auto, radio and the industrial grind, which compels sleep on Sabbath morning. The preacher is dull, stale and impracticable. A mechanistic philosophy has led some to doubt and to depart from the narrow way.

Rev. W. S. Trosh

A better explanation is found in the fact that the church and the world have always occupied opposite camps. The world bulks large at this hour and compels the allegiance of the masses. The church is a place for worship. It reminds the people that the supreme values are spiritual and that the unseen God can be found by his children. On the other hand, the multitudes are absorbed in materialistic pursuits. They are very busy in the quest for gold and the satisfaction of the physical appetite. They bend the knee daily to the gods of comfort and pleasure. They are dominated by selfishness and pride. The world and many in the membership of the church do not understand the language of the cross. Jesus is an enigma to them. "He is the antithesis of all that our day deems most worthwhile."

Despite all this, it is still true that a prodigal people cannot be satisfied forever on the husks of this world and the heart of the individual still panteth for the water brooks. The church holds out the bread of life and the living waters gush from the Rock on which she is built. No man, no civilization can neglect the higher values for which the church stands and not suffer. If only someone could stop this wild stampede, compel it to look at things in a sane perspective and to listen to the wisdom of God in Christ, there would be a larger appreciation of the value of the church and the people would return to her altars. This day needs a prophet sent from God.

STENOGRAPHER, ONCE "FIRED" BY MRS. PICKFORD, NOW PROMINENT STAR

By DOROTHY HERZOG

(Copyright, 1929, By Premier Syndicate.)

HOLLYWOOD, June 29.

TO our wild and woolly village came Harry Ruby, W. K. song writer. He brought with him a full baseball outfit—bats, balls, gloves, and suit. Mr. Ruby, it seems, loves the game. When in New York, between song hits, he also manages the fire department baseball team.

On a particularly hot, sunny day, Mr. Ruby, Allan Lane, George Bancroft, Billy Rose, Walter Catlett, and Gene Towne assembled two baseball teams. A telegram was despatched post-haste to Buster Keaton requesting him to join 'em at Fannie Brice's home at such and such an hour, bringing his own gloves and bat.

Well, they assembled at Fannie's, all except Buster. After waiting a little while, the "boys" departed in search of a diamond. They found a public school one that was a pip, but the only way they could get in was to climb a 15 foot fence. They climbed it! only to be shooed out by an orate watchman.

Buster Keaton

Undaunted, they searched for another ball field. And found it. This time, a private school.

In the meantime, Buster Keaton arrived at Miss Brice's house, ready for a game. He had just finished a nine inning game with his own team, but he craved more, despite the intense heat. When he learned the gang had departed without him, Buster was highly indignant and went home mad.

The "Boys," in the meantime, ended their game and returned to Fannie's house. They were possessed of baseball madness by now and nothing would do but they carry on, which they did, in Fannie's backyard! A gala audience of cheering spectators encouraged them. In the "grandstand" were Fannie Brice, Ann Pennington, Vivian Seegal, Betty Brown, and umpty ump others. Is dis a town??

Alva White Now Alice and Star

SOME ten years ago, a chap named Russell Birdwell handled publicity for Mary and Jack Pickford. He engaged a stenographer named Alva White. One day, Mrs. Pickford came into the office, espied Miss White and informed Mr. Birdwell if his stenographer did not wear more clothes he would have to discharge her. Mr. Birdwell delivered the message. The next day Miss White arrived with fewe clothes on. She also arrived with a demand, namely that her salary be raised from $18 a week to $20. Mr. Bidwell was very unhappy about it, but the only raise he could give her was out of the door. A little later, he, too, was fired. Today, Alva White—now Alice—receives a four figured weekly salary. Birdwell, in his capacity as Fox director, receives a plump three figured one. U never know. . .

(By Harry Green)

At one time, while playing in England, there was a general strike. Times were hard, food scarce, and theater business poor. As an inducement to come to theaters, the management would give foodstuffs with each ticket purchased. At the particular theater, the manager walked out on the stage to make his announcement for next week.

"Ladies' and Gentleman. Owing to the big strike the management will next week give with each 12 shillings or more ticket a plate of soup."

A man in the audience made a rude noise—A razzberry.

The manager frowned and started again: "As I said before the interruption, next week the management will give away free soup."

Again the razzberry.

Player's Saintly Face Gets Him New Part

The man with the saintly face has again been selected for motion picture priesthood.

Nigel de Brulier, the Cardinal in Douglas Fairbanks' "Three Musketeers" and "The Iron Mash" was signed for the role of Lama, India high priest, in Richard Dix' new all-talking vehicle, "The Wheel of Life."

"The Wheel of Life," marks de Brulier's debut in dialogue films, although he has been featured on the screen since 1908, when he came to this country from England to join the old Selig Polyscope Company. Abroad, he was a favorite in comic opera, the dramatic stage and did much concert work.

De Brulier scored a notable success as the Stranger in "The Four Horsemen." He had other big parts in "Ramona," "Salome," "Surrender," "The Hunchback of Notre Dame," "Ben Hur," "The Bond Between," "Joan the Woman" and "Loves of an Actress."

La Goudal May Return to Stage

SCREENALITIES: EDDIE LOWE is notorious for being late for interview appointments. A newspaperman dated him. They were both to be at the Fox lot at 10. Both broke records. Neither appeared. COLLEEN MOORE'S swimming pool was filled 'tother day for the first time. Colleen celebrated by getting a wicked sunburn. Ergo. Every move is an ache. JIMMY GLEASON figures mebbe he'll take up polo. His wife gave him a horse for his birthday. Who'll give the polo mallet? Address Mr. Gleason, Pathe Studio. MR. and MRS. WILLIAM DE-MILLE lunching together in the M. G. M. commissary. JETTA GOUDAL discussing a play with a fem. playwright. It's just possible La Goudal will return to the footlights. I spilt iced coffee on my dress and "CHUCK" REISHER wanted to know if I'd put that in the colyum. Too bad his new picture, "Hollywood Revue," is such a pip.

One Arrest After Another for Sam Hardy

Sam Hardy recently had handcuffs clapped on his wrists for the fifty-fourth time.

However, his friends need not worry about the genial Sam's incarceration just yet. It is all in the interests of art, since the good-looking Mr. Hardy is one of the foremost portrayers of screen villains in the motion picture industry.

Sam's latest sally of cinematic crime is in "Big News," am all-dialogue picture in which he portrays a very suave restauranteur, whose supposedly respectable cafe earns much more of its income from illegal liquid refreshments than from solid edibles.

"Big News" is a story of modern newspaperdom, with Robert Armstrong in the featured role. Carol Lombard has the leading feminine role in this talkie which was directed by Gregory La Cava.

Will Rogers Says

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., June 29.

I guess I was a little too optimistic a few days ago when I said we had got rid of Congress for the duration of the heat season. It looks like they are still doing a little light work on the tariff, each member according to the needs of his own state. Being 48 states that makes 48 versions of the tariff. In fact, 49, as the north and south of California both raise different stuff.

The tariff is an instrument invented for the benefit of those who make, to be used against those who buy, as there is more buys than there is makes. It is a document of the minority. But what a minority.

Yours, WILL.

Chases Fox

After chasing foxes for two days in making fox hunting sequences for the film, "Her Private Life," Billie Dove decided that it wasn't a sport but hard work. "In fact, I have decided I don't want any foxes," said the screen beauty.

Asks $20,000 Over Automobile Smash

Alleging that I. Rubinowitz, Vandergrift, drove in a reckless manner on a rainy day, Jack Stern has brought suit on behalf of himself and daughter, Jean, 17, for $20,000 damages.

The accident happened February 6 at a point between Hillsdale and Arcadia. Stern alleges that he repeatedly warned Rubinowitz regarding the manner in which he was operating the car.

Walter Winchell On Broadway

NEW YORK, June 29.

Things I Never Knew Till Now

THAT a command performance will be given at Buckingham Palace on July 23, which is the date the Prince of Wales' engagement will be officially announced.

That if the cork pops too easily it isn't good champagne.

That any player of a reed instrument, particularly the oboe, will in time have his mind affected, which is why ukes are so popular.

That since June 1 there has been absolutely no kick in the beer peddled in the German Hofbraus on E. 86th St., New York.

That Charles Cochran, the British manager, was once Richard Mansfield's secretary and was fired because he had failed to deliver a note to Margaret Anglin on time.

POTENT COCOANUT

THAT if you let some air into a cocoanut, put in a tiny bit of sugar, and let it rest on ice—Ouch-a M'Gouch-a!

That Sam, the handsome cabbie in front of the Plaza, is 76 years old and once was Ford Sterling's paw-in-law.

That the composer of the tremendously popular song, "I Kiss Your Hand, Madame," is a Berlin, Germany, waiter.

That the expert pianist in Abe Lyman's great crew of syncopators (at the Pavilon Royal) hasn't any index fingers.

That certain mid-west preachers and such who dread being seen playing cards, but are disturbed by a yen to do so, get around the problem by playing with a special deck of colors and numbers, but no pictures. The thought is, that since it isn't a real deck, they're really not playing cards.

HIGHER EDUCATION

THAT a coolitch man and a member of America's oldest and haughtiest fraternity is office-boying for "Beatrice Fairfax."

That the origin of the internationally famous fable, "The Man in the Moon," is in Numbers XV., 32-36.

That what a rich man wants; a poor man has; a miser spends; a spendthrift saves, and what we all take with us when we die is—Nothing.

That the reason Doug Fairbanks was inactive for a year was because he swore he wouldn't work until he broke 80 in golf.

That the first couvert charge in New York was only 10 cents and the first squawk was registered by "Diamond Jim" Brady.

That there are more window-washers in Venice, Cal., than in any other town in the world because of the greasy-fog there, but that its redeeming features are its swell hamburger steak sandwiches.

WHO CARES?

THAT all foreign-made Rolls-Royce cars have right-hand drives and all domestic Rolls' are southpawed.

That the reason they put a black tie on a dead man is because he can't put it on himself. (What dog threw that knife???)

That New York City practically has no alleys and that Chicago has more than any other place in the world.

That more people than you can count on the fingers of Venus do not know that Socony is an abbreviation of Standard Oil Company of New York.

That farmers who husk corn wear gloves containing two thumbs.

RAZZBERRIES!

THAT in Britain the lymies who give "the bird" to a show they dislike do the same to talkies, the dopes!

That the late Arnold Rothstein's earliest trick was to frequent tennis courts, size up the various players and then get them excited by saying: "I can bring a guy around who could beat you left-handed!" This invariably led to a bet and Rothstein's brother, Edgar, entered the scene, Edgar being one of the greatest of the southpaw racqueteers.

That the clowns are now saying that if Arthur Schreiber, the stowaway, was alone in his home town, he couldn't get elected.

That Camomile tea, which comes from the tops of hay, and which once was a remedy for colic, is being used as a hair bleach.

OUR PLAYBOY

THAT when Frank Tinney opens at an Atlantic City cafe next week he will get $100 per just to play piano, and that it isn't for old time's sake, but a cruel publicity gag.

That the New York taxicabs make more in fares than the El, trolley and subway lines combined. (This is tricky; a taxi rating one dollar is equal to twenty subway passengers, see?).

That one of the smarter New York department stores is importing a real Grand Duchess to excite their tall millinery clientele.

That Chief Red Tomahawk, a "hero," got into the papers for only one day this week by claiming he killed Sitting Bull (the villain) who got his likeness on all the nickels.

And that glass blowers cannot sing at their work.

Hibernians Outing In Kennywood Today

Today in Kennywood Park, the Ancient Order of Hibernians is holding its twenty-fifth annual reunion and outing. Mlle. Adele Nelson's Baby Elephants close a two-weeks' engagement in the park tonight, to be followed by the Sensational Jacks, aerial performers. Tomorrow's concerts will be played afternoon and evening by Lieut. T. J. Vastine's Westinghouse Band.

Carpenter?

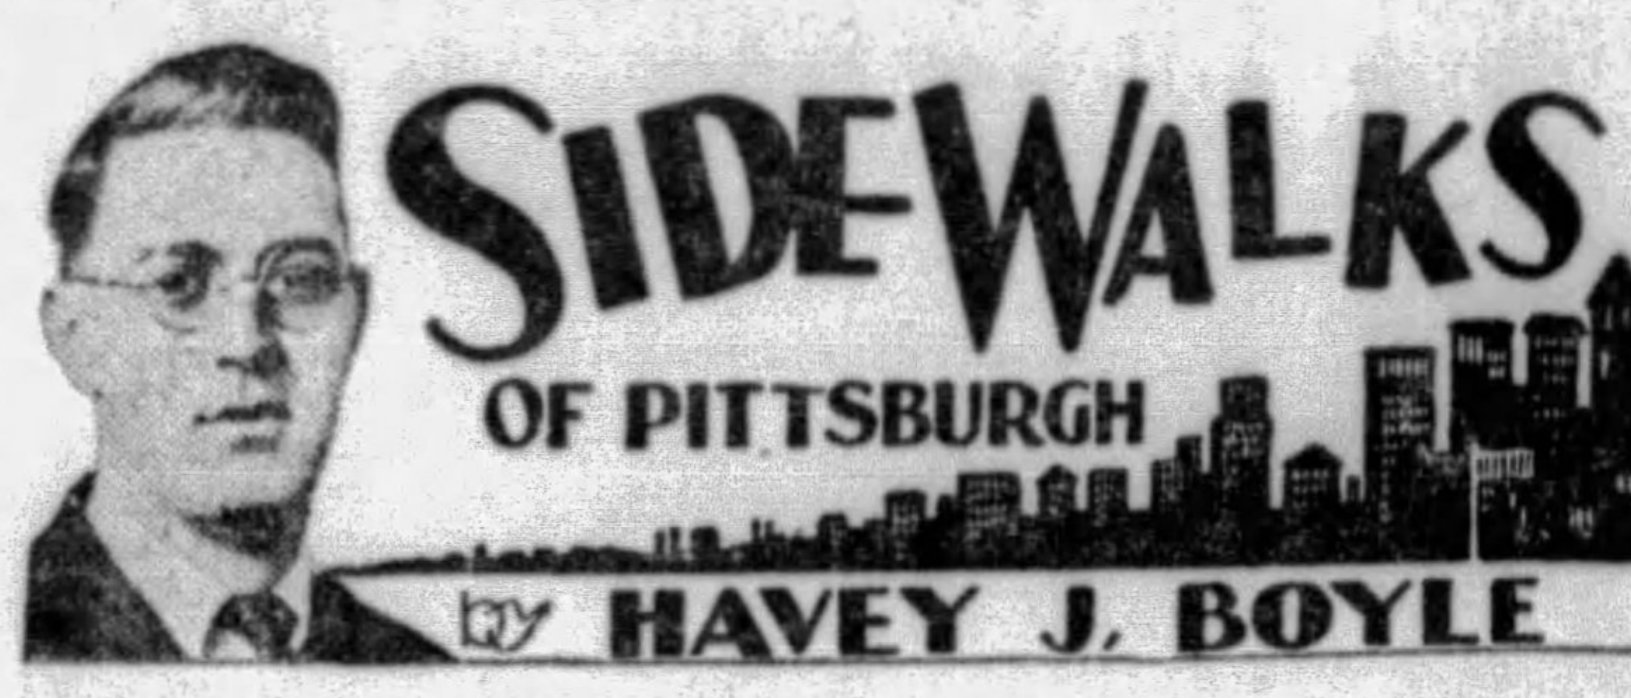
Rod La Rocque, handsome gentleman of the movies, who now is engaged in making the talkie, "The Locked Door," spends his leisure hours making modern furniture. He has a complete workshop at his home.



THERE is consolation in the oft-repeated fact there is no close bond between wealth and happiness. Money is certainly no absolute deterrent to happiness, but the accumulation of wealth does not mean that perfect contentment is achieved along with financial stature. While I am a little skeptical of the men who, having lots of money, say: "Money is not everything," even casual observation reveals that great wealth is far from a cure-all for all worries.

Such reflections are prompted by a long talk I had with a Pittsburgh man who is independently wealthy. Accumulation of wealth has put upon him a problem he is now considering earnestly. He is no longer young and he is anxious that when he leaves this worldly sphere for the regions beyond he will leave his money to accomplish the most good. This concerns him now as much as when he was younger the gathering of wealth concerned him.

He doesn't believe in the popular conception of leaving wealth behind—to relatives that money might hurt; to charities whose overhead and cost of administration result in terrific wastes; to schools that attempt to educate young boys who, lacking natural endowments, are wasting their time and the time of professors and worthier students, and who would be better off without a degree—more useful, that is.

NOW, WHAT SHOULD I DO WITH THIS ?

He said he has looked to hospitals—to help relieve illness—but there are snags in this consideration, too.

He plans to dispose of all his money, but he wrestles with the idea of just how with the same devotion that he wrestled when younger in accumulating his fortune.

Money, inherited, he says, is a bad thing. He would not consider himself a sound thinker to leave a large pile to a young man as it might make of the young fellow an idler, a non-producer, a barnacle on society.

What he wants to do is to leave his money in a way that will make more producers and in a small way lift the folks he leaves behind a notch or so higher in the scale.

MY CONVERSATION with this man lasted almost seven hours—during a train ride. And it pleased me to discover that in the main the things that amused and entertained him most were well within the reach of the average man. I knew some of the books he delighted in and a few plays. He liked to contemplate and reflect on the careers of economists, statesmen and authors and this, too, can be done with a few cents in the pocket.

Here was a country boy who came to the city, worked hard, made good, and became rich. He is now around 60, in perfect health, due to, as he said, moderation in what are termed vices and pleasures, and having made his bundle he is now concerned with how to put it back.

Meanwhile, he has lived better than most of us, perhaps, but perhaps, too, he has worked longer hours and missed certain pleasures of leisure.

It was noted, too, in his conversation that he did not emphasize the money made, but rather he accentuated achievements, against the which the money involved seemed incidental.

AND now that I have attempted to show out of my conversations that millionaires are to be admired and liked as men, and not because they happen to have a long row of figures in their bankbook, and that money is not everything, I hope that the man, to whom I lost a sizeable amount in bridge—and forgot to pay, temporarily—will appreciate the fact that he can very well do without that money. In fact, I think I'll mail him this article.

I never got around to mustering courage to help my wealthy conversationalist with a suggestion, but wth his money he could do worse than seek out and find intelligent, natively intellectual, and artistic boys of the local mills, who, with a start, might go far to enriching the world with education, well directed.

Pittsburgh Radio Artist To Be Heard Tonight

By DARRELL V. MARTIN, Sun-Telegraph Radio Editor.

ANOTHER Pittsburgher who has gone to the top in the radio world will be heard in a concert over the National Network tonight.

A few years ago Marilla Kohary, concert pianist, was staff accompanist at KDKA. She went to New York to study. She asked for an audition at NBC and for several weeks she has been heard incognito on commercial programs coming through Pittsburgh stations.

Tonight at 8 o'clock over KDKA, Miss Kohary will play Brahms' "Rhapsody in G Minor."

Final results of the National Open Golf Tournament will be broadcast by WJAS at 7.31 o'clock and at 9 o'clock over this station the Nit Wits will stage a river regatta. It will be real fun, we guarantee.

Senator David I. Walsh will speak on "Peace and Disarmament" during the WJAS Home Forum at 10 o'clock.

BARRYMORE PLAYED ROLE

Tolstoi's drama, "Redemption," which was produced in New York in 1918 with John Barrymore in the leading role, will be presented.

The play throbs with a strange and empelling vitality, as the story of Fedya, the irrational, poetic genius, unfolds. The poignant universality of his cry, "There has always been so much lacking between what I felt and what I could do," has struck a responsive chord in the hearts of readers and audiences both here and abroad. This cosmic feeling of inarticulate futility, coupled with Fedya's spiritual growth as he degenerates physically, makes his death at the final curtain almost classically moving and beautiful.

Heir to Rich Estate Freed from Mayview

George D. Emblem, 428 Taylor avenue, North Side, heir to his father's estate valued at between $300,000 and $400,000, was ordered released from Mayview yesterday as a result of habeas corpus proceedings before Judge Elder W. Marshall in Common Pleas Court.

The proceedings were instituted by Emblem's wife, through former Judge Frank I. Gollmar, on behalf of her husband. Mrs. Emblem had her husband arrested last March and Magistrate A. D. Brandon of Morals Court sent him to Mayview.

Superintendent James S. Hammers testified he saw no reason why Emblem should be kept there. A brother, Robert C. Emblem, of Wheeling, an executor of his father's estate, testified that his brother had voluntarily committed himself for treatment to a hospital at Huntingdon, W. Va.

New Model Home Opens To Visitors Tomorrow

Features in home building and furnishing of particular interest to the housewife will be found at the Virginia Manor model home at Midway road and Parker drive, Mt. Lebanon. The house will be opened formally tomorrow.

The Virginia Manor model home is the third of a series sponsored by the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph. Builders consider it one of the outstanding homes of the South Hills. It combines beauty of architecture with the practical features which give the home unusual comfort.

The model home is easily reached by automobile. The most direct route is by way of the Liberty Tubes, West Liberty avenue and Bower Hill road. Turn right on Cochran road from Bower Hill road two squares to the model home. An alternate route is offered by way of the West End, the Banksville road and Parker drive.

The model house is located near the entrance to Virginia Manor Plan and is easily recognized by its tall two-story porch columns. It follows closely the style of the Southern Colonial mansion, copying the early design in the finest details of woodwork and hardware.

The house is built of stone and includes 10 rooms and three bath rooms. A two-car garage is attached. All of the more important rooms have fireplaces. Interior walls are paneled and floors are composed of pegged boards of varying width, resembling the work of the early days.

ROBERT L. RIPLEY, author of "BELIEVE IT OR NOT," which becomes a feature of the Sun-Telegraph on July 9, doesn't mind being called the short and ugly word. "Rip" has been proclaimed a liar more often than any other human being—but on every occasion has proved that he was telling the truth. Here is Ripley's own conception of his joining the Ananias Club.

Sewickley Debutantes To Be Honor Guests At Dinner Dance

TODAY'S wintry breezes are hardly what one might expect from a final Saturday in June, but perhaps the weather man has decided that the mean temperature for the month must be a bit lower. And you won't mind if I suggest that today offers a "mean temperature" for a dog show, will you?

The dog show is not society's only event of interest today. Tonight the DeWitt Baldwin Nettletons, of Sewickley, are going to give a dinner dance for the debutante group in the Allegheny Country Club. The two guests of honor will be Margaret and Anne Rose, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Don Rose, of Sewickley, who made their bow yesterday at a tea dance in their home.

Margaret and Anne received with their mother, and they were dressed alike in white chiffon made long in back and short in front, and fashioned with short capes. Mrs. Rose appeared in printed green chiffon. Masses of spring flowers decorated the tea table, where Mrs. Nettleton, Mrs. Francis H. Dunham, Mrs. Alexander Brooks and Mrs. Donald Thompson presided.

The buds had as their aides Mary Robinson, Katherine Collin, Emily Frew, Anne Stewart, Caroline Crittenden, Mollie Cullum, Dorothy Jarvis, Susan O'Neill, Virginia Wright, Frances Johnston, Mary Elizabeth Floyd and Harriet Wickes, all debutantes of this season, and Margaret Holdship, Mary Magee and Ruth Willock. Assisting Mrs. Rose were Mrs. J. Conway Macon, Mrs. Richard G. Jennings, Mrs. James W. Cappeau, Mrs. Harry B. Higgins, Mrs. James L. Leonard, Mrs. Roy Rose and Mrs. Thomas A. McGinley.

After the tea dance, Mr. and Mrs. Rose gave a dinner dance in the Allegheny Country Club for their daughters, and receiving with them were Jassamin Goddard, of New York, and Nancy Barnes, of New Haven, Conn. There were about 185 guests, I understand, and they were seated at five large tables decorated with spring flowers.

LEAVING the topic of the debutantes for a moment, I want to tell you about an interesting betrothal which is announced today. It is that of Anna Knevals Childs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Howe Childs, of Fifth avenue and Woodland road, and Arthur P. Woolfolk, of Pittsburgh. Mr. Woolfolk is the son of the Junius A. Woolfolks, of Louisville, Ky.

Anna is a very popular member of the younger group here, and has been taking a prominent part in Junior League work and other activities ever since her debut several years ago. No announcement of a wedding date has been made.

MRS. HENRY CHALFANT, her daughter, Eleanor, and son, Henry Chalfant, Jr., of Ridge avenue, North Side, are spending a few days at the Berkshire in New York before they go on up to York Harbor, where they expect to spend the summer.

I hear, too, that Dr. and Mrs. Alexander Blair and their son, Alexander Blair, Jr., of Fifth avenue, are sailing today for Europe. They expect to be gone about six weeks, I believe.

THE marriage of Miss Evelyn Dorothy Groah, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Avery Groah, of Dawson avenue, Bellevue, and Norman Bell McKinnon, of this city, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen McKinnon, of Ottawa, Canada, will be solemnized today at 5:30 o'clock in the home of the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Gass, of Ben Avon. The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. Ralph E. Harris, pastor of the Bellevue Methodist Protestant Church. The bride will wear ivory satin and rose point lace with a tulle veil, and will carry a shower of gardenias and lilies of the valley. She will be attended by her nieces, Dorothy Gass, as junior bridesmaid, wearing pink point d'esprit, and Emmy Lou Gass and Peggy Anne Langdon, as flower girls, appearing in ruffled blue chiffon. They will cary Colonial bouquets. Wade Hershberger, of Bellevue, will be best man and the ushers will inlude Alfred Gass and Edwin H. Longdon. A dinner for 18 will follow the ceremony. Mrs. Groah will wear wood violet lace while Mrs. McKinnon will appear in black chiffon and lace, and they will wear corsages of gardenias. Mr. and Mrs. McKinnon will take a trip to Canada and after July 20 will be at home in Dawson avenue.

DR. AND MRS. ERNEST W. WILLETTS, of Liberty avenue, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Agnes Beville Willets, to Dr. Hyllis Seward, son of Dr. Frederick Seward, of Madison, N. J.

THE marriage of Miss Dorothy Ruth Klingensmith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Klingensmith, of Waldorf street, North Side, and John Watson Reed, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Reed, of Indiana, Pa., was solemnized this morning at 11:30 o'clock in the bride's home by the Rev. Grover E. Swoyer, pastor of the Mt. Zion Evangelical Lutheran Church. The bride wore an ensemble of embroidered chiffon and carried a Dresden bouquet. After an eastern trip, Mr. and Mrs. Reed will be at home in Oil City.

JULY 23 is the date chosen by Miss Elizabeth Whitmarsh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Whitmarsh, of Princeton place, Swissvale, for her marriage to Ernest S. Whitmarsh, son of Mrs. F. G. William Hezlep, of Jahnsi, India, brother-in-law of the bridegroom.

THE wedding of Miss Madaline St. John Seibert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Seibert, of Chicago, and the Rev. Herman T. Reinecke, son of Dr. and Mrs. H. L. Reinecke, of Pittsburgh, was performed yesterday at noon in the bride's home by the Rev. Dr. W. L. McEwan, pastor of the Third Presbyterian Church.

MISS GARNETT BRETSNIDER entertained at dinner Thursday night in the Garden Tea Room when Mrs. Anna Bretsnider, of Murray avenue, announced the engagement of her daughter, Miss Dorothy Bretsnider, to James N. Fullerton, of Duquesne and Sharon. There were 30 guests and the tables were decorated with baskets of spring flowers. The wedding will take place early in July.

Who's going to the Sun-Telegraph picnic at Kennywood Park next Wednesday?

It looks as though every boy and girl in Pittsburgh under the age of 16 will be there.

Applications for tickets are coming to the Sun-Telegraph in every mail. In fact, bushels and bushels of letters are arriving, asking for strips of these tickets.

To obtain yours, write to the Sun-Telegraph Kennywood Park Picnic Editor, Sun-Telegraph, Pittsburgh, stating that you are under 16 years of age and enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

In order to be sure that everyone has the opportunity of using all of their tickets, only 8,000 will be issued. Write at once and take no chance of being too late.

Everyone under 16 years of age is invited.

When notified that the Interstate Commerce Commission had canceled a hearing scheduled for July 8 to consider an interchange in switching arrangement in the Pittsburgh district, a meeting of carload shippers adjourned in the Chamber of Commerce yesterday without taking any action on the question. A new date for the hearing will be set soon, it was said.

DEMAND GROWS FOR SCOOTERS

Everybody wants a "Whoopee" scooter.

But only boys and girls are able to use them, because grown-ups are afraid they will be laughed at if they employ them for transportation!

The Sun-Telegraph has offered to give away "Whoopee" scooters, and a very large number of youngsters the city over have already taken advantage of the offer.

"Whoopee" scooters take you to places fast. Pittsburgh's younger generation is going to go places and do things on these speedsters this summer.

And a lot of older people are going to envy them this means of transportation.

They may be had by any boy or girl who secures one 26-week subscription to the Sun-Telegraph. "Whoopee" scooters are new in Pittsburgh, so everyone will want to have one right away.

There's going to be lots of fun on "Whoopees" this summer—all for one 26-week subscription to the Sun-Telegraph.

2 Piggly Wiggly Stores Open Here

Pittsburghers are being introduced to a modern method of food merchandising this week with the opening of two Piggly Wiggly stores. The company has opened stores at 3883 Brighton road, North Side and at 3800 Forbes street, Oakland. While the Piggly-Wiggly stores are well known throughout the Southern part of the country they have never operated here. With the exception of the meat department, the stores are without clerical help other than the cashier. The system is a serve yourself idea.

FLAG WINNERS SAIL AWAY

SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.—Where the sandaled feet of Mission padres trod of old, the four young American pilgrims of patriotism have journeyed on another glorious round of sightseeing, entertainment and acclamation.

Leland Stanford University opened its majestic halls of learning to the honored guests. Ray Lyman Wilbur, in his dual capacity as secretary of the interior and president of the university, greeted them in his private office. The home of President Hoover and the beautiful gardens about it, were thrown open for their inspection.

There were later events Thursday in San Francisco—a ball game for the boys, Robert L. Sullivan and Merle Clarke; a tea at the Women's City Club for the girls, Mary McGonigal and Alma Groves—a brilliant dance aboard the Dollar liner President Monroe last night.

Yesterday—a morning of feverish packing and preparation, a visit to the battle fleet in the bay; luncheon at the officers' mess in the Presidio and then—at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, they sailed for the greatest adventure of all, the four months' trip around the world.

DORMONT DAY PLANS READY

The couple were married in 1917, and got along well until the boarder came last August, so Moore testified. Then she began to find fault with her husband and three times tore the shirt from his back.

MARKET MOVES IRREGULARLY HIGHER

Auburn Shows an Initial Gain of 4 Points—Wright And Westinghouse Rise.

NEW YORK, June 29.—(AP.)—Stock prices moved irregularly higher at the opening of today's market. Auburn Auto showed an initial gain of 4 points, and General Electric, Allied Chemical, Westinghouse Electric and Wright Aeronautical advanced a point or two.

American Power and Light moved into new high ground. R. H. Macy dropped a point. The first sale of International Telephone was a block of 5,000 shares at 99⅝, off ⅛.

Absence of many traders from the financial district over the week-end tended to keep the volume of trading down, but speculative sentiment continued bullish as a result of the growing belief that credit conditions had definitely turned easier. Wall Street still considers the possibility of a flurry in call money rates next week, but this may be avoided if banks pursue the policy adopted last week of enlarging their borrowings at the Federal Reserve Banks.

Some irregularity developed as a result of the usual week-end profit-taking. Peoples Gas, which ran up 25 points yesterday, fell back 4½ points, and American Tobacco "A" and "B," Detroit Edison, Lambert and Union Carbide yielded a point or two.

R. H. Macy quickly made up its initial loss of 1 point and climbed nearly 4 points above last night's close to a new high record at 207¾. Westinghouse Electric quickly ran up more than 4 points to a new top at 189⅝. Trico Products, Misvas-Texas common, Newport Company and Pere Marquette also moved into new high ground. Allis Chalmers was quickly bid up 5½ points, American Telephone 3½, Brooklyn Union Gas 2½ and American and Foreign Power 2.

N. Y. Banking Firm Requests Receiver

NEW YORK, June 29.—(INS.)—Clarke Brothers, bankers, one of the oldest private banking institutions in New York City, posted a notice today that it was unable to meet demands for withdrawals and that, consequently, it was deemed necessary, "for the protection of creditors," to apply to the Federal Court for appointment of a receiver to take charge of the property.

The bank had been in existence since the days of the Civil War. It had a large list of depositors and conducted a substantial business in securities. No estimate of assets and liabilities was given.

Postal's Pension Fund.

An initial fund of $5,000,000 has been set aside by Postal Telegraph-Cable Company for administration of a new pension and benefit plan, involving about 20,000 employes, to go into effect July 1. The plan is designed after that of International Telephone and Telegraph Corporation, with which the Postal is affiliated. "The $5,000,000 is just a beginning and the fund will be increased from time to time," Clarence H. Mackay, president of the Postal Company, said. Under the new plan, male employes of Postal may be retired after they have reached the age of 60, while women employes may be pensioned when they are 55. On their own rquest male employes may be pensioned after they become 65 years old, and women employes after they are 60.

BUSINESS PACE TAPERS OFF

NEW YORK, June 29.—(AP.)—Bradstreet's weekly business review says:

Trade and industry this week show a slight tapering off, part of this, perhaps, due to purely seasonal influences, particularly hot weather, part of it to reports of slightly modified estimates of yields of crops, such as wheat and some fruits. Even with the slight quieting down noted, however, the general trend of reports is still at a higher level than a year ago. In the iron and steel trade the effects of the hot wave of last week finds reflection in reports of a slightly slower speed of operations, but, in addition, the facts are apparently visible that lack of rain in some areas, as, for instance, the spring wheat Northwest, is perhaps responsible for a slowing down in future business, while in others, as, for instance, the Southeast and Southwest, too much rain has been an influence in holding back distant buying. In the steel trade effects of the lessened prospect for fruit crops are noted in a slowing down of tin plate production and in a lessened call for material for automobile and implement manufacture, which is not unexpected, in view of the year-long activity in these lines and—this despite the rally in June in wheat prices—the lower level of prices of most farm crops, as compared with this time a year ago.

Weekly bank clearings $11,925,318,000, an increase of 13.5 per cent over a year ago.

STEEL FOUNDRY IN DEMAND HERE

Shares Advance Sharply as Buying Orders Uncover Small Available Supply

Stocks were strong and active in the short session on the Pittsburgh Stock Exchange today with Pittsburgh Steel Foundry scoring the largest gain in the list.

Steel Foundry jumped a full point overnight and added 2 points to that gain in subsequent transactions. Very little of the stock appeared to be available for trading purposes and buyers were forced to raise their bids sharply to obtain the wanted shares. Expansion of buying in the railroad equipment field has benefited the company materially and it is said this year's business is running from 30 to 40 per cent ahead of the corresponding period of 1928. In January of this year the company paid a dividend of $1 on the common stock and there have been rumors that a similar payment may be made next month. The company has followed a steady policy of bond retirement and this year's redemptions will probably exceed the $200,000 face value retired in 1928.

Miscellaneous industrials continued in good demand, but there were no conspicuous price changes except the sharp jump in Steel Foundry. Blaw Knox was the exception to the general trend, dropping back more than two points when an offer of a 100-share block of the stock met a thin market and fell to 37½ before it was taken.

The fuels were steady to firm, but there was no noticeable activity in that department. Lone Star, Western Public and the Arkansas issues all sold within a fraction of their previous closings. Carnegie Metals slipped back a fraction to 19 and held close to that level.

I. M. M. PLANS TO GET NEW START

Program Wipes Out Deficit And Brings Possibility Of Dividends Nearer

NEW YORK, June 29.—Stockholders' approval of the International Mercantile Marine Company recapitalization plan means the huge profit and loss deficit which has been hanging over the company is entirely wiped out and the capital set-up of the company is completely changed. Under the plan, existing shares will be exchanged for new no-par stock, and the number of shares outstanding will be substantially reduced.

PLAN OUTLINED

I. M. M.'s stated capital has been $120,000,000, divided between the common and preferred stocks, each of $100 par. With 517,250 preferred shares and 498,718 common shares outstanding, the capitalization was carried on the books at $51,725,000 for the preferred and $49,871,800 for the common, or a total of $101,596,800. Against this was a capital deficit of $28,620,122. Under the recapitalization plan, there will be only one class of stock authorized and outstanding, and this will be of no-par value, eliminating the capital deficit, since the new stock will be carried on the books at $30,000,000.

The preferred stock on May 1 had accumulations of $81 a share which, with the $100 par value, made a total of $181. It was manifestly impossible for the company to pay off this huge accumulation, and in lieu of such accumulated dividends, preferred stockholders have voted to accept $20 a share in cash, and one share of the new no-par common.

Common stockholders, whose equity under the old capitalization was nil, will accept one-fifth of a share of the new common for each share of the old common stock. Payments on the preferred shares will require $10,345,000 cash and a total of 616,994 common shares will be issued in exchange for the existing common and preferred shares.

Until the capital deficit, which totals $28,620,122, or $55 a share on the preferred stock, was wiped out, nothing could be paid on the preferred stock accumulations of $81 a share. Earnings last year were $734,743, so that at such an earnings rate, it would take 38 years to eliminate the profit and loss deficit, without touching the accumulations, which, in the meantime, would have increased annually. It was practically impossible for the preferred stockholders to receive any dividends, therefore, under the old set-up. The priority as to earnings which preferred stockholders are giving up was thus of little value.

However, earnings last year, of $734,743 were equal to $1.19 a share on the 616,994 common shares to be outstanding if all the stock is exchanged for the new common. The possibilities which the plan holds for the stockholders are apparent from the statement of P. A. S. Franklin, president, that dividends are a possibility in the near future.

EARNINGS IMPROVE

Earnings are improving now, Mr. Franklin said, and if they continue to improve, the management is hopeful of paying dividends some time in the near future. With the huge profit and loss deficit overhanging the company, such earnings would have to be put back into the company, to liquidate this deficit, but under the new capitalization, any income not required for the physical needs of the company, can be promptly passed on to stockholders. Approval of the plan represents adjustment to changed conditions in the shipping industry.

While all of the company's divisions are not earning money at present, there has been some improvement in the situation, and prospects are brighter than for some time. Another interesting development in the company's affairs is the election to the board of G. Bowie Chipman, a partner of Harriman & Co., indicating the interest which that firm has taken in International Mercantile Marine.

Columbia Pictures Earnings Rising

NEW YORK, June 29.—Banking interests close to the Columbia Pictures Corp., estimate net earnings after all charges and taxes for the fiscal year to end June 30 will exceed $450,000, equal, after preferred dividends, to $3.75 a share on 100,000 common shares. This would compare with $249,931, or $1.75 a common share in the 1928 fiscal year.

The current quarter will be most profitable ever experienced by the company and earnings will exceed the previous peak of $158,148, recorded in the March quarter this year.

Slight Change in Business Failures

NEW YORK, June 29.—The number of business failures in the United States this week as reported by R. G. Dun & Co., varies slightly from those of the past two weeks. There were 425 reported this week, 427 last week and 426 two weeks ago. The number reported for the corresponding week last year was 423.

CONTINENTAL DELIVERIES DELAYED

Stock Exchange Orders Contracts Postponed as Trading Snarl Results

NEW YORK, June 29.—(AP.)—All dealings in stock of the Continental Oil Company made on the New York Stock Exchange Thursday were canceled and the time for performance of contracts in that stock was indefinitely postponed in resolutions adopted yesterday by the governing committee of the exchange.

This drastic measure was necessary, exchange officials felt, because of a mixup when for about an hour brokers and traders failed to distinguish between the stock of the Continental Oil of Delaware, admitted to trading on the exchange Thursday, and stock of the Continental Oil Company of Maine, listed on the New York Curb Exchange.

Continental Oil of Maine recently was merged with the Marland Oil Company and the new company named the Continental Oil Company of Delaware. Under the terms of the merger, Marland stock, which opened on the "big board" yesterday at $34.50 a share, was exchangeable on an equal basis for stock in the new Continental company. Stock in the Maine company opened on the curb at $20.12½. It is exchangeable for new Continental on the basis of 1.56 shares of old for one of new.

Trading in Continental of Delaware was suspended when it was discovered that orders were being given and completed for new Continental at the price of the old Continental stock. It was resumed, however, yesterday.

The governing committee in its resolution yesterday said that in its opinion "it would be in the public interest that such purported contracts for transactions made on the floor of the exchange should not be enforced and should be canceled."

An investigation by the committee on arrangement indicated that substantially all of the transactions in the common stock of Continental Oil of Delaware were made by parties believing they were buying common stock of the Continental Oil Company of Maine.

CONSTRUCTION TOTALS LOW

NEW YORK, June 29.—(AP).—The value of heavy construction projects proposed last week totaled $43,150,000 against $69,800,000 in the preceding week and $83,800,000 in the corresponding week last year, says the McGraw-Hill Construction Daily.

The total was classified as follows: public work, including road construction, $11,000,000; commercial buildings, $7,600,000; industrial buildings, $7,200,000; residential buildings, $5,800,000; educational buildings, $5,500,000; hospitals, $1,250,000; and unclassified, $4,800,000.

Among the larger projects are a $3,000,000 addition to the Chevrolet Motor Company's plant at North Tarrytown, N. Y.; a $2,000,000 addition to the Meyer Frank Co.'s store at Portland, Ore.; a $1,000,000 unit for Jefferson Hospital, Philadelphia; a $200,000 school building for Massachusetts Agricultural College at Amherst. Other school buildings projected are in Cambridge, Mass., Bergenfield, N. J., Portsmouth, O., and Raleigh, N. C.

I. T. & T. MAY SET PEAK

NEW YORK, June 29.—Operations of International Telephone and Telegraph Corporation during current quarter are at peak capacity and earnings for full period will eclipse all previous records. Earnings for full year are also expected to establish a new peak. It is conservatively estimated that the net income during current year will approximate $19,000,000 or about $3.50 a share on present outstanding shares. In 1928 consolidated net income was $14,596,336 equal to $10.26 a share on 1,422,785 shares of $100 par then outstanding.

PINES REPORTS BIG ORDERS

NEW YORK, June 29.—The Pines Winterfront Company is starting the current fiscal year, which began May 1, with an unprecedented volume of business, according to an analysis by the New York Stock Exchange firm of Stein, Alstrin & Co.

Pines Winterfront is now preparing for production on 11 well-known makes of motor cars in addition to 14 standard equipment contracts put in production during the last fiscal year. Four of the new contracts for this year will require more than twice as many winterfronts as were sold during the entire previous year, it is stated.

The company has developed a new design of vertical shutter which is detachable. The new product will require only one model to take care of all makes of cars excluding Fords, not now using built-in shutters.

SUGAR TARIFF INCREASE DEBATED

Great Western Sugar Bares History in Effort to Gain High Import Duty

WASHINGTON, June 29.—(AP.)—One phase of the pending contest over sugar tariff schedules presents an unusual inter-corporation contest, in which the Great Western Sugar Company, leading beet-producer, occupies a central position.

That company, through W. D. Lippet, a vice president, undertook the unusual step of portraying the company's entire financial history yesterday before a Senate committee, in view of the repeated assertion from cane sugar interests that its profits are very great and indicate a lack of necessity for any raising of the present sugar rate.

Senator Harrison, one of the Democratic opponents of the sugar increase, had a pamphlet about great Western profits which Chairman Smoot, who stands regularly for beet sugar protection, scornfully asserted "really came from the National City Bank of New York," an institution credited with important Cuban interests.

"I don't care; what it says about the Great Western Company is very complimentary," Senator Harrison retorted.

COMPANY'S EXACT RECORDS

He proceeded to give exact records, which showed that by 1906, soon after formation, the Great Western had invested $30,000,000 in cash and property in Colorado, Wyoming, Nebraska and Montana beet sugar refining. Total dividends since that date he placed at $83,000,000, while its assets today he said were $65,773,000. He estimated that its earnings over the entire period average 9.24 per cent on actual capital invested, and that the dividend rate had been 8.46 per cent.

That other beet sugar enterprises had been much less profitable, the witness and his senatorial interlocuters agreed. Mr. Lippet said that the Great Western location, in the center of a sugar market lying between Chicago and the Rocky Mountains, into which Cuban or Philippine or Hawaiian cane sugar can reach only on the payment of a freight toll, was the chief factor in maintaining its prosperity.

Whether the company needed a higher tariff on incoming sugar to maintain is position was a point raised by Senator Watson, of Indiana.

"Tariff is only one of a number of factors," Mr. Lippet responded. "If the price of sugar will stay up, we can go on with the present rate; if it falls as it has this year, that will be a different outlook. Tell me what the market will be and I can answer."

UNDERWOOD'S PROFIT UP

NEW YORK, June 29.—Underwood, Elliott, Fisher Company earnings are already well over the $4 annual comon dividend. Earnings for the entire first half of 1928 were $2.92 a common share. The cash position is strong, as evidenced by the company's recent calling of $1,580,000 of a subsidiary's preferred stock without any attendant new financing. Retirement of 8,100 no-par shares of 7 per cent class "B" Underwood, Elliott, Fisher preferred is next to be expected. The floating supply of the company's common stock has been appreciably reduced in the last six months through investment and other corporate trust fund buying and the price reflects this fact, having advanced 20 points in the last three weeks.

Goodyear Dealers Offered Rebates

NEW YORK, June 29.—The Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company is offering its dealers a 2½ per cent rebate, payable in merchandise credit, on all passenger car casings and tubes purchased between May 1 and October 31, 1929. The rebate does not affect the present retail prices to the public. It is expected most other major tire manufacturing companies will adopt this credit rebate.

Continental Motor Earnings Sag Off

DETROIT, Mich., June 29.—The Continental Motor Corporation reports for six months ended April 30 net earnings of $582,418 after all charges, including federal taxes, equal to 27 cents a share on the 2,113,000 shares of no par capital stock outstanding. This compares with $807,497, or 46 cents a share on 1,760,845 shares in the corresponding period last year.

Washington O.K.'s Big Aviation Mergers

WASHINGTON, June 29.—Merger of the Curtiss and Wright airplane interests recently consummated, is seen by aviation officials of the Department of Commerce as another development in the field of producing and operating companies tending to develop concerns with greater financial strength.

Such development is not received with disfavor, as it is pointed out that generally the stronger the company financially, the more rapid the development of the product.

Investment Trust Makes Big Bank Commitment

NEW YORK, June 29.—One of the largest blocks of First National Bank of New York stock to be sold in the open market in recent years has been bought from private interests in Europe by the Insuranceshares investment group, comprising Insuranceshares Corporation of Delaware, a series of Insuranceshares trusts. The block of 200 shares is stated to have been bought at a price about 400 points below the present market, which is $6,300 a share bid and $6,500 offered.

The group has been large buyers of insurance and bank stocks at lower prices recently prevailing for these issues and Insuranceshares Corporation of Delaware, which was formed early this year, has now largely completed its portfolio.

Stock Exchange Topics

Mail Order Head Sees Favorable Outlook for Stores.

MAIL order officials are not inclined to worry over the possible effect on agricultural buying power of the recent break in commodity prices. At least that would seem evident from the optimistic tenor of the remarks of Silas H. Strawn, head of Montgomery Ward & Co., just before his departure for Europe today. The company's prospects are highly satisfactory, he said, pointing out that sales are running ahead of a year ago and should continue to do so. Profits naturally are running higher along with sales, and indications are that the year as a whole will record satisfactory expansion over 1928.

As happened at mid-month, checks going out against semiannual corporation disbursements will be dispatched in the mails tonight. There being no money market in operation today, last minute shifting of funds in connection with such payments, failed to find any reflection in the business of the day. Checks will go out tonight, however, for approximately $875,000,000 in dividend and interest payments. This sets a new record for return to investors on their security holdings and contrasts with payments of $750,000,000 made at the corresponding interval a year ago, which up to this time had stood as the peak for mid-year disbursements.

WHILE the public utilities held the bulk of speculative interest, operations for the rise were pushed vigorously in other directions. Steels were a notably strong group led by Steel common and Behlehem Steel, both of which rose to new high ground for the present movement. Bullish activity in these stocks was adequately supported by favorable conditions in the industry, but was based in a large way on the widely accepted view that earnings for the half-year will be of record proportions paving the way for possible extra or increased dividends in the year.

The bond market, reflecting phenominal dealings in a handful of convertibles, recorded the biggest turnover for a single day in some three of four years. The total trading ran close to $16,000,000, of which almost half was accounted for by the tremendous activitiy in about four issues. Trading in American Telephone & Telegraph convertible 4½s, being dealt in on a "when issued" basis, went ahead on an amazing scale, with the total for that issue alone running to approximately $6,000,000. Other particularly active issues included Public Service 4½s, International Telephone 4½s and Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe 4½s.

CONDITIONS in the market were very much different in this week last year. Stocks were feeling the effects of scattering liquidation as the money market revealed the tightening influences of preparations for mid-year settlements. In that period calling of loans aggregated some $150,000,000, and the week ended with call money exceptionally firm for that time at 8 per cent. The market was just settling from the break which had overtaken it early in the month and the loan statement showed a contraction of $110,000,000. Time money for 90 days was quoted at 6 per cent and bankers acceptances at 4¼ per cent, while the bank rate, both here and at London was 4½ per cent.

Though it is virtually impossible to obtain anything like definite figures on the amount of loans called in the course of a day, well-posted money brokers placed the total of such withdrawals as substantially above $70,000,000. Yet in face of this heavy calling, and the fact that money was in brisk demand at 12 per cent on the outside, the official call rate was maintained at 10 per cent, with floor requirements provided for at that level throughout the day. The ease in time money, incidentally, was ascribed to disinclination of borrowers to take on fixed maturity funds in the belief that when the July 1 strain has passed, and this may extend along until around July 10, the general money situation will be much easier.

Montgomery Ward Prospects Bright

NEW YORK, June 29.—Before sailing for Europe Silas H. Strawn, of Montgomery Ward & Co., said prospects for the year were highly satisfactory. Sales are running ahead of a year ago. Profits are in excess of last year in proportion.

CORN IMPORTS INTO EUROPE LESS

Figures Show Decrease Notable in Germany, Denmark and Sweden

WASHINGTON, June 29.—Imports of corn into the principal importing countries of Europe from November 1 to March 31, decreased considerably from the imports of the same countries in the corresponding periods of the last two years, Italy and France were the only countries showing increases. Large decreases were recorded in Germany, Denmark and the Netherlands, and smaller decreases in Great Britain, Northern Ireland, Belgium and Czechoslovakia.

Imports in the Irish Free State for the period in question were practically the same as in the two preceding years. These figures have been received by the United States Department of Agriculture from the International Institute of Agriculture.

NET CORN EXPORTS

Net exports of corn from the United States, the Danubian countries, Argentina, and the Union of South Africa from November 1 to the latest dates for which particulars are available, totaled 150,552,000 bushels, a decrease of 5.6 per cent from 159,563,000 bushels exported the preceding year. Exports of corn from the United States during the week ended June 6, were the lowest since the beginning of November.

Exports from Argentina for the same week were the largest since the middle of October and the heaviest weekly shipments of the present season. Corn prices in the United States increased somewhat during the week ended June 17, but decreased in the same week in Argentina. The changes left the margin of the July futures for United States corn 9 cents above Argentine corn.

Revised estimates of 1928 corn production raise the total for 27 countries to 2,552,210,000 bushels, only .1 per cent below the production of the same countries in 1927. Hungary's earlier estimate has been increased by more than 6,000,000 bushels. Czechoslovakia's earlier estimate has been raised more than 1,600,000 bushels to 8,763,000.

The first estimate of the 1928 corn crop in Chosen is 3,190,000 bushels, almost 12 per cent above that of 1927. For the Union of South Africa the latest preliminary estimate reduces the total 1,200,000 bushels below the second estimate. A reduced estimate for Kenya is reported also.

Corn area in Italy for 1929 is estimated at 3,756,000 acres, an increase of over 1 per cent over that of 1928. Area sown to corn in Bulgaria is placed at 1,705,000 acres, a record total amounting to almost 7 per cent over that of last year.

COAL OUTPUT GAINS

WASHINGTON, June 29.—Commercial transactions during the period ended June 22, as reflected by check payments, were larger than in either the preceding week or the corresponding week of 1928, according to the weekly statement of the Department of Commerce. Activity in steel plants, while unchanged from the previous week, showed a considerably higher rate of operation than for the same week of last year. The production of crude petroleum and bituminous coal for the latest reported week showed gains over both prior periods. The distribution of commodities, as indicated by the loadings of freight cars covering the latest reported week, was substantially greater than at this time last year.

The general level of wholesale prices showed a further gain over the preceding week and was only slightly lower than a year ago. Iron and steel prices advanced over both prior periods, while cotton prices were lower than for either the previous week or the corresponding week of 1928. Business failures were also fractionally greater than during the corresponding period of 1928.

Receipts of cotton were greater than for either the previous week or the corresponding period of last year. Receipts of cattle and hogs at the principal primary markets during the latest reported week also showed declines from the previous week. Receipts of cattle were smaller and those of hogs greater than a year ago. Wheat receipts showed a substantial gain from both prior periods.

Raw Material Costs Take Linoleums Up

NEW YORK, June 29.—Prices on linoleum were revised upward as a result of the mounting costs of raw materials. The average advance in lines of the Armstrong Cork Company, was 4 per cent, with plain goods rising about 7½ per cent. Felt-base pieces goods and rugs were unchanged. Congoleum-Nairn's list shows increases of 5 per cent in inlaid goods and 7½ per cent in all plans. W. & J. Sloan Mfg., Co.'s, list shows a general 7½ per cent rise in battleship and plain linoleums, as well as a rise of about 4 per cent in printed and inlaid goods.

Branch and Chain Banking Declared Un-American by Hazelwood Trust Head

By MERRYL STANLEY RUKEYSER

NEW YORK, June 29.—Individuals close to President Hoover recognize that the tone of the Hawley tariff bill, which passed the House of Representatives, and which is now before the Senate Finance Committee, has irritated foreign business men who carry on extensive trade with Americans.

Acordingly, the sessions of the forthcoming convention of the International Chamber of Commerce at Amsterdam next month will be used as an opportunity to explain that the Hawley policy is not that of American business or of the executive department of the government. Julius H. Barnes, American vice president of the International Chamber, and chairman of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, is one of President Hoover's closest non-political friends, and his recent statement on tariff principles accordingly has more than routine significance.

PROTECTION HELD DUTY

Mr. Barnes' view is that the tariff should not be so high as to exclude foreign merchandise, but should merely be high enough to offset higher costs in this country ascribable to the higher American standard of wages. He perceives that European wages and living standards are rising, and thinks it is the duty to protect American standards in the meantime, and hold them up as a goal to which Europeans can shoot.

Mr. Barnes indicated that much more should be made of the flexible tariff provision, which in his opinion has been too little employed in the past. He thinks that instead of making interminable preliminary investigations the tariff commissions should act promptly on the basis of rough and ready business judgments to adjust schedules to changing conditions.

NEEDS NO DEFENSE

In stating the viewpoint of organized business toward tariff questions, Mr. Barnes, who sailed last night with Thomas W. Lamont and the other delegates, said:

"America's traditional tariff policy needs no defense. All it contemplates is an adequate protection of American living standards and an equalization which gives our manufacturing and agricultural producers the opportunity to sell in our home markets without the handicap of destructive competition from abroad. It does not mean exclusion against foreign products, however. American business men do not believe that our tariff policy in any way hampers the free flow of overseas commerce, as evidenced by a 100 per cent increase in imports since 1921 and by a substantial growth in exports.

"In applying the principle of protection, with the constant changes throughout the world in costs of raw materials, wages, transportation costs, her factors, business supports the principle of flexible adjustments, within legislative limits fixed by Congress, this flexibility to be maintained and approved in administration so that it may exercise a quickly applied corrective influence."

There is coming to be on antithesis between business activity and public life. Financial leaders are coming to be public figures. Less than a fortnight ago, Thomas W. Lamont, partner of J. P. Morgan, returned from a four-months' mission in Paris as expert at the Reparations Conference. He has just sailed for Holland as chairman of the delegation of American business men to the convention of the International Chamber of Commerce.

PITTSBURGHER'S VIEW

The recent assertion in this column that the opposition among small bankers toward branch banking has become less vocal, brought forth a statement from D. C. W. Birmingham, president of the Hazelwood Savings and Trust Company, of Pittsburgh:

"While the point you bring out about chain banking, wherein double liability cannot be collected where investment trust holds control may be a point in favor of branch banking," Mr. Birmingham declared. "I believe this is such a small item and of such unusual occurrence that the chances of its becoming a serious matter are very remote.

"On the other hand, the arguments against branch banking are so numerous and have been published so many times that I do not deem it necessary to state them. I believe there is no argument that can be brought forth which would make the average citizen believe that any chain banking system can give the great middle class of this country as good banking service as is now given by thousands of small bankers.

"We never turn down good local loans because of lack of money—we give service and when we say service we mean it in the fullest sense of the word. Locally we believe we can compete with any outside institution. However, we are absolutely opposed to branch banking and chain banking because we believe it un-American, that it leads to the concentration of wealth in the large cities and handicaps to a serious extent not only the small business man but also the small individual who has been unable to share in the speculative millions that have been made by a small percentage of individuals in this country during the last few years."

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, June 29.—The cotton market opened steady today at a decline of 4 to 11 points in response to relatively easy Liverpool cables and expectations of generally good weather in the south over the week end. There was considerable week-end realizing, with some local and commission house selling and active months sold about 5 to 15 points net lower by the end of the first half hour, with October declining to 18.58.

The opinion was expressed by some of the local traders that if the tropical disturbances caused rains in South Texas they would probably prove more beneficial than otherwise, but the decline brought in some covering and trade buying, and the market was steady at the end of the first half hour.

Liverpool cables reported local and continental liquidation. The amount of cotton on shipboard awaiting clearance at the end of the week was estimated at 61,000 bales against 78,000 last year.

GENERAL CIGAR DOING WELL

NEW YORK, June 29.—Operations of the General Cigar Company during the current year are being maintained at capacity and earnings will pass previous records. Net earnings for the full year are conservatively estimated at $4,018,000 after all charges, equal, after preferred divs, to $9 a share on 407,570 common shares outstanding, against $3,140,455, or $6.84 a share in 1928. Such earnings are based on the record for first six months to end June 30, 1929, for which period company will report net of around $1,800,000, equal to $4 a common share, against $976,152 or $1.96 a share in same period of 1928.

The net income for the first half of year is particularly gratifying as the second half has always been a period of larger earnings. In the final quarter of 1928 net equalled $2.98 a share, or as much as was earned during first nine months. The outlook is for still larger profits based on the changing trend for lower priced cigars of which General is the largest manufacturer. Sales for the first five months were about 30 per cent ahead of a year ago.

Do you ever lose your temper at the dinner table?

Anger causes the stomach either to "blush" or grow pale, and when indulged in at dinner is likely to upset the digestion seriously. Fear and worry are also meal-time foes. A famous medical authority relates the case of a young woman who was confined to her bed with a severe case of stomach trouble when she was warned by the government collector that she had failed to pay her income tax of $3.85. Other actual cases are cited to prove the disastrous effects of anger, fear, and worry at meal-time. Read an illuminating, scientific article on this subject next Sunday in The American Weekly.

DUTY INCREASE PROPOSED ON MANGANESE

Association Head Tells Senate Committee of Russian Competition

WASHINGTON, June 29.—The fight on the proposed increase in duty on manganese ore has started before the subcommittee of the Senate Finance Committee. An amendment to the House tariff bill introduced by Senator Oddie, Nevada, just before Congress recessed, proposed to raise the duty from one cent a pound to 1½ cents a pound on ores containing in excess of 30% manganese and to put a tariff on lower grade ore of from 30% to 10% manganese, which are now admitted free of duty.

J. Carson Adkerson, president of American Manganese Producers Association, testified before the committee that a large tonnage of low grade ores actually exists in this country and, given the necessary protection, as provided in the Oddie amendment, with known methods of recovery, the tonnage already in sight is ample to assure the complete independence of the United States in respect to manganese for several decades.

Production of domestic manganese is being seriously impaired by the competition of ores produced by cheap labor of Soviet Russia, Mr. Adkerson said. Imports from Russia have increased from less than ½ of 1 per cent of our total imports in 1922 to approximately 40 per cent of our total imports in 1928.

"Construction now complete or nearing completion promises to increase our outfit to 200,000 tons of high grade ore annually, but this is scarcely one fourth of domestic requirements, and much of this may be held back unless the American market is sustained by an increased tariff," he said.

"Of equal importance is our need of protection on ores containing 30 per cent or less of manganese. Let me again remind you that 100,000 tons of ore containing between 20 per cent and 30 per cent of manganese were imported in 1928. These ores, I understand, were mixed with higher grade ores and used in the manufacturing of ferro-manganese. Unless this avenue of evasion is stopped, I feel certain it will make further inroads upon our industry and prevent normal development."

Deisel Tank Ship Ordered by Sun Oil

PHILADELPHIA, June 29.—The Sun Oil Company has placed an order with its subsidiary, the Sun Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company, of Chester, Pa., for a 12,500-ton tanker to cost $2,000,000. It will be a Deisel engine motorship to be delivered to the Sun Oil Company next February.

The first tanker of this size and type for Sun Oil Company, now under construction at Chester yards will be delivered in November.

The contract to supply all the auxiliary machinery for the large electrically driven motorship which Sun ship is building for American-South African lines was placed with Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company. This boat will be delivered next January.

RAILWAYS ARE PROSPERING

NEW YORK, June 29.—"When the situation as a whole is surveyed it becomes evident that the railways are now prospering more than in 1926—their best previous year since the war—mainly because of increases in their economy of operation," says the Railway Age. "Complete statistics of revenues and expenses for only the first four months of the year are now available; but car loadings in May and June were so large as to indicate that the net operating income earned in those months was relatively as large as in the preceding months of the year.

"While in he first four months of this year the total earnings were $23,000,000 more than in 1926, taxes were $10,000,000 more. The increase of $54,000,000 in net operating income over the first four months of 1926 was, therefore, principally due to the reduction of $48,000,000 effected in operating expenses. About one-half of this reduction in expenses was due to a reduction in the number of employes. The number of employes was approximately 116,000 less than in the corresponding part of 1926. This process of reducing the number of employes has been going on steadily ever since 1923. The number of employes in 1928 was the smallest since 1922, and there has been no increase thus far this year, in spite of the large increase in traffic.

"The return earned by the Cass I roads in the first four months of the year on property investment was at the annual rate of 5.54 per cent, as compared with 4.89 in 1923; 4.45 in 1924; 4.41 in 1925; 4.76 in 1926; 4.63 in 1927, and 4.32 in 1928."

STEEL ORDERS GAIN IN JUNE

Consumers, With Exception Of Automobile and Farm Implement Makers, Busy

By B. E. V. LUTY.

On the whole there has been an increase in order receipts of the steel mills in the latter part of June as compared with the fore part. Routine orders from ordinary manufacturing consumers have shown no marked change, but there have been various special orders.

The Pennsylvania Railroad has ordered 4,000 freight car bodies. Smith, of Milwaukee, has booked 20,000 tons of electrically welded pipe for a 100-mile, 20-inch natural gas line to run from Petrolia to Fort Worth, Tex.

Fabricated structural steel lettings reported in the week total 61,000 tons, which with two good weeks preceding makes a three-week average 53 per cent above the previous weekly average, since the first of the year, although that was record high for the period of year. Some tonnage has been placed lately in a supplementary rail buying movement and full tonnages are being taken out on the regular annual orders, placed some six months and more ago. Tank and barge building is rather active and not a little shipbuilding is in sight.

OUTPUT STEADY

To date, steel production has been practically maintained at capacity. There are seasonal decreases in demand in connection with automobiles, agricultural implements and rails. For the near future the chief question is whether, or to what extent, the steel making capacity thus released can be otherwise engaged.

As to the seasonal decrease in automobile production, the official report for May and current trade reports during June indicate that it is no greater than usual. By a precise computation of the average in the last five years, the decrease would be 2.7 per cent from April to May and 12.2 per cent from May to June. Applying these percentages to the 663,232 cars and trucks made in the United States and Canada in April, there would be 645,000 for May when the official report recently issued showed 635,528, and 567,000 for June, when current reports suggest production somewhere in that neighborhood even though June is handicapped by having five Saturday and five Sundays.

The performance must dispel fears entertained earlier in the year that the extremely heavy production then would set forward the time of peak production and result in a heavier decline for summer than usual. Steel for the April automobile production engaged about 25 per cent of the total steel making capacity, while July production, according to average seasonal variation, would engage about 20 per cent, thus making a 5 per cent hole.

OUTLOOK DOUBTFUL

July, August, September and October automobile production has averaged approximately the same, with sharp decreases in the next two months. It is a matter of popular style or taste whether demand for automobiles in the second half of the year will maintain the usual proportion, that is, whether there will be a continuance of the phenomenal pace of the last 12 months, in which period production has been about 5,680,000, or a 22 per cent gain over the record made three years earlier, in the year through June 30, 1926. Obviously such a gain is quite unusual. The two calendar years 1923 and 1928 were record years in their time, yet there was only 10 per cent increase in the five years.

A new item is that agricultural implement works are now ordering less steel, for a double reason, change from autumn to spring implements and uncertainties as to realization on the crops. Rail production against the regular annual orders has begun to taper off and these particular orders will be completed within a few weeks.

SLUMP IN JULY

Decreases in automobile, implement and rail steel will not amount to more than about 10 per cent of the total steel making capacity. Some decrease in steel production is to be expected for July, say 5 per cent, with a further decrease in August, reversing the usual course of a dip in July and recovery in August.

Pressure upon the mills by various consumers during the last few months for full deliveries would suggest that the small amount of steel being released would be steadily absorbed elsewhere, but with a visibly easier situation in steel, and with general commercial prospects not as favorable as two or three months ago, consumers may relax their diligence in seeking deliveries and may even instruct mills to postpone deliveries of some material already ordered. Before the war there were recurrent periods of such experiences. Of late mills have been on the watch for postponements but none have been reported outside the automobile industry.

PRICES STRONG

Finished steel prices are fully maintained. Galvanized sheets are an apparent but not a real exception since they have a reputation of their own. Price concessions long made in the south have become widespread and galvanized sheets are now quotable at 3.50 cents to 3.70 cents against 3.60 cents to 3.70 cents hitherto.

Semi-finished steel prices for third quarter are not yet fully defined. Second quarter contracts were at $34 for billets and slabs and $35 for sheet bars while in the fore part of April mills advanced their asking prices to $36 all around. No substantial tonnage was sold at that price. The leading interest is holding it but seems to have no occasion to sell, being well occupied with other engagements. There are definite reports of some third quarter sheet bars having been sold at $35, Youngstown or Cleveland, while some smaller sales, for short periods, have been made in billets and slabs at $34.

Scrap is off fully 25 cents in the Chicago district while in the Pittsburgh district it has been dull with no quotable price change.

In pig iron June, usually a month of fairly heavy third-quarter contracting, has been dull this year. Prices are not quotably altered, but do not seem to be particularly strong.

Fruit Growers Earn $6.25 a Share

By GEORGE H. SNYDER.

PROFITS of American Fruit Growers, Inc., in the first five months of this year were curtailed by low prices but, in spite of this unfavorable development, the company was able to earn $6.25 a share on the 7 per cent preferred stock. This was equivalent to almost an entire year's dividend requirements.

Net for the five months after taxes and all charges was $358,507. This compared with profit of $1,067,688 or $19.86 a share on the preferred in the entire year of 1928.

The early months of 1928 were the most profitable in the company's history but heavy carry-overs into the summer season resulted in falling prices. No recovery has taken place since that time but officials believe that the situation will be corrected in the latter part of the present year.

Volume Increased

THE company's volume of business for the first five months of 1929 shows an increase of 25 per cent as compared with the same period of 1928. But the greater sales served to compensate for low prices to only a small extent.

Over-production of fruits is not expected to be a problem for the balance of 1929. Recently the Department of Agriculture said: "Fruit crop conditions on June 1 were none too flattering. As fruits are still in bloom along parts of the Northern border it is too early to forecast accurately the production in the Northern states. Indications are that fruit production in the country as a whole will be substantially less than usual. In both California and Florida the reported condition of citrus crops on June 1 approached the low condition reported in June, 1927."

The company is the largest operator of orchards in the world. In addition to owning 15,000 acres of land it markets about $40,000,000 worth of fruits a year under its trade name, "Blue Goose."

Buys Fruit Exchange

THIS year the company has exercised a long term option which it held for the acquisition of all of the capital stock of the Northwestern Fruit Exchange through an exchange of stocks.

American Fruit's holdings of land and its marketing operations are spread over the entire country. This diversification gives it an advantage since unfavorable conditions in a single locality cannot seriously affect profits.

The organization's foreign trade has been substantially increased. During the past 12 months its sales abroad aggregated $2,500,000.

Over-Production of Fruits

DURING most of the past decade there has been an over-production of farm and orchard products. In the opinion of the company's management, there are indications that during the next decade, with the tightening of credit and disastrous results suffered by many producers, production will be more nearly balanced with the demands of the market.

In spite of the fact that profits were equivalent to $19.86 a share on the preferred in 1928 and to $12.48 a share in 1927, no dividends have been paid since January 2, 1921. At the present time accumulations amount to $59.50 a share on the 57,366 shares of preferred stock.

Lack of working capital has been one reason for the tardiness of directors in resuming payments. At the end of 1928 current assets were $6,027,242 compared with current liabilities of $3,692,707. This left net working capital of only $2,334,535.

May Resume Dividends

THE payment of preferred dividends will not take place for some time but President J. S. Crutchfield has indicated that declarations will be resumed as soon as the company's financial position permits.

Mr. Crutchfield said: "Your officers and directors are mindful of the right of stockholders in the matter of current and accumulated dividends, and very careful consideration is being given the matter. Favorable action relative thereto will be taken at the earliest practicable time. This conservative financial policy places the company in a very favorable position and stockholders should be compensated for their patience at no distant date."

Acoustic Products

LEADING radio, phonograph and sound picture concerns are understood to be negotiating for the patents of the Acoustic Products Company. The organization recently acquired valuable underlying patents on recording and synchronizing sound with films.

In some quarters a deal is talked of which may mean the acquisition of the Acoustic Products Company as a whole. As a result of patent and merger possibilities, increased attention has been attracted to the stock which is now selling around 5 a share compared with a high of 19 early in the year.

World Wheat Crop Forecast Smaller

CHICAGO, June 29.—A world wheat crop 300,000 bushels below the 3,710,000 bushels produced in 1928, exclusive of Russia and China, is forecast by J. C. Griffin, former president of the Chicago Board of Trade.

Business Bureau Wins in Boston Curb Suit

BOSTON, June 29.—The full bench of the Supreme Court overruled plaintiffs' exceptions to allowance of five motions to dismiss and affirm orders of the Superior Court sustaining demurrers of defendants to a $5,000,000 suit by Frank L. Adams and 35 other members of the Boston Curb Exchange against members of the Boston Better Business Bureau and Boston News Bureau, Boston Transcript Company, Globe Newspaper Company, Boston Publishing Company and Post Publishing Company.

The suit alleged the defendants combined to injure the plaintiffs by inducing the five corporation defendants not further to publish quotations of the Boston Curb Exchange. The full court says on the allegations that the plaintiffs have no cause of action; their claims are several and not joint and cannot be united in one action; that membership in Boston Curb Exchange does not give them joint right to act and a voluntary unincorporated association cannot sue as such.

Ford Production At New Day's Peak

DETROIT, June 29.—Ford Motor aggregate June 26 output was 9,100 model-A cars and trucks, a new high daily record.

GOOD BUSINESS SEEN BY DUN'S

Commercial Bureau Reports Seasonal Lines in Better Volume in Past Week

With summer weather prevailing, there is considerable activity in seasonable lines and retailers report a fairly good volume of sales, R. G. Dun & Co. say in their weekly review of trade conditions for the Pittsburgh district.

Jobbers in men's and women's wearing apparel report a fair demand for filling purposes and there is also fair activity in sporting and camping equipment. Sales of shoes are quite numerous, but average small. Some orders for future delivery are being placed, but the total amount is not large as yet. Dry goods trade is fair with some orders for fall being received.

There is a slightly better demand for building materials including builders' hardware and lumber, although the total business is somewhat lower than a year ago. Demand for groceries and provisions is rather quiet, although believed slightly better than a year ago.

PRODUCTION OFF

While high temperatures have resulted in a slight recession in industrial operations, the steel plants continue to maintain an unusually high rate of operations for this period of the year. Orders are reported holding up exceptionally well. While the volume of new business in the plate glass line shows a slight falling off, conditions continue unusually good for this season of the year and the total output is estimated at about 15 per cent greater than a year ago.

Production of window glass is still below the seasonal average with demand quiet, although improving slowly. Manufacturers of electrical and radio equipment are estimated to be operating at from 75 per cent to 80 per cent of capacity, with demand for certain lines of equipment very fair.

Sales of sanitary and heating equipment show some improvement and plants are operating at a fair rate. Another sharp increase is reported in the production of crude oil, the total for last week being the highest on record.

COAL IMPROVED

Production of bituminous coal shows a slight increase over the preceding week and is about 10 per cent greater than a year ago. There is a slight improvement in demand and stocks in consumers hands are reported lower than for a number of years. Prices, however, continue at a very low level and Western Pennsylvania grades of run-of-mine coal are quoted per net ton as follows: steam coal, $1.25 to $1.75; coking coal, $1.50 to $1.75; gas coal, $1.65 to $1.75; steam slack, 80 cents to 90 cents and gas slack, $1.00 to $1.10.

The insurance department of the company has been absorbed by the legal department headed by E. W. Criswell, secretary, with headquarters at Pittsburgh.

H. D. Wilson, formerly of the Wilson-Snyder Manufacturing Company, was elected to the board of directors to fill a vacancy caused by the resignation of A. B. Sheets.

Propellers Ordered From Standard Steel Corp.

An order for 100 propellers has been received by the Standard Steel Propeller Corporation from the Curtiss-Robertson Airplane Manufacturing Company of St. Louis, Mo. The propellers will be delivered at the rate of 10 a week for use on Curtiss Robin planes in production at that rate at the St. Louis plant. Curtiss Challenger engines will be used on the planes

Orders for propellers have been received by the Standard Steel Propeller Corporation also from the Panstwowe Zaklady Lotnicze, Company, of Poland, and from the Royal Air Navigation Company, of Holland, one of the largest transport companies in Europe. The Polish company will use the propellers on Wright Cyclone engines of 525 horsepower each.

OHIO TUBE CO. EXPANDING

SHELBY, O., June 29.—The Ohio Seamless Tube Company, has approved plans for an increase of 40 per cent in plant capacity, it was announced by A. C. Morse, president of the company. The expansion program, the result of greatly increased demand from the automobile and aviation industries, calls for buildings and new equipment costing approximately $400,000.

The company, which is the country's largest producer of cold drawn seamless steel tubing, has been running eight to 12 weeks behind orders since the beginning of the year. Its highly specialized product has been used for years in automobile construction, and the company is now the ranking maker of tubing for airplane manufacture.

During the first five months of the year, Ohio Seamless shipments increased more than 35 per cent over one year ago. Earnings for the period were approximately $4.27 a share on common stock, an increase of 106 per cent. Contracts for the expansion have been placed and the new equipment will be in production in approximately 90 days.

AMERICA NOT IN NITRATE COMPACT

Reported European Agreement to Be Discussed at Coming Meet in Paris

NEW YORK, June 29.—The recent report of an international agreement having been reached by German, British and Chilean producers to maintain the present relationship of prices of synthetic, by-product and natural nitrates has added considerably to the interest of American chemical and fertilizer manufacturers in the Conference of American Commercial Attaches stationed in Europe, which will be held in Paris July 29 to August 3.

Whether American buyers of nitrate, the most important of which are the fertilizer manufacturers and the farmers, should immediately protest the reported agreement or adopt a policy of "watchful waiting," with the hope that beneficial stabilization will result, is a query raised by Charles J. Brand, executive secretary of the National Fertilizer association, Washington, who sailed from New York June 29 to address the conference.

American producers of nitrogen are understood by Mr. Brand not to be parties in any way to the reported agreement. He points out that American producers are rapidly increasing their production of nitrogen for all purposes, and that by 1932, if the present rate of increase continues, this country will be free from the actual necessity of importing nitrogen, although probably there still will be importations and exportations of certain nitrogenous materials.

22 BUC RUNS IN SEVEN RED GAMES.

IS Pitcher Fred Lucas, of the Reds, going to equal or beat the record that Art Nehf made against the Pirates? Certainly signs are beginning to point that way. In his old days as a Brave and Giant, Nehf defeated the Buccaneers 12 times in succession. When Lucas trounced the Buccaneers at Forbes Field again yesterday and knocked them out of first place in the National League pennant race he registered his tenth consecutive victory over the Pittsburgh team. He beat the Rovers in his last three games against them in 1927, dropped them four times last year, and has won three decisions at their expense this season.

Art Nehf.

No approach, of course, to the record that Walter Johnson set in beating the White Sox nine times in one season, 1912, but nevertheless Lucas is beginning to get on local fandom's nerves. Pittsburgh has not defeated Lucas in more than two years, or since June 22, 1927, when he lost an 11-to-9 game after pitching 3 2-3 innings in a relief role. In the 10 straight contests that he has won from the Pirates, the Cincinnati right-hander has allowed a total of only 23 runs and 70 hits, or an average of only seven hits and a fraction more than two runs per game.

AND at that, Lucas isn't the only Cincinnati thorn in Pittsburgh's side, as other hurlers on the Red staff appear to be more than ordinarily troublesome propositions to the Bushmen. Of the last seven games between these teams, the Reds have won four, and in the seven games the Bucs have scored only 22 runs against their opponents' 35.

It's queer what a source of bother the tail-enders have been to other pennant contenders while winning only three games out of 17 played with St. Louis. They have won four out of six from the Giants, and made the Cubs and Corsairs fight hard for four out of seven and eight out of 13 respectively. Perhaps the Bucs can turn the tide in today's double-header here and tomorrow's single game in Cincinnati. No club could lose two men like Burleigh Grimes and Lloyd Waner and remain normal.

GLENN WRIGHT'S trip home for a month's rest did more good for the Brooklyn club than merely to start the shortstop's ailing arm on the road back to recovery. The ex-Pirate has been of some service to his team after all.

For it was because Glenn happened to be out near Kansas City that the Robins acquired the services of Johnny Morrison, and Manager Wilbert Robinson declares that the former Pittsburgh flinger is the most valuable pick-up that the Dodgers have made in many years.

Johnny Morrison.

WITHIN a period of 23 days, Morrison has been used as a relief pitcher or a finisher in nine games. He is credited with four victories and has saved three other games for Brooklyn that might have slipped away. On the whole his relief pitching during that period has been the best in the country. Now it develops that Wright is entitled to the credit for getting him. Robinson was told he could buy Johnny from Kansas City for railroad fare, but turned the proposal down. Later, however, he wired Wright to make a short trip from his home to Kansas City in order to look Morrison over, remarking that he was forced to get a pitcher or two from somewhere, even if only for batting practice.

WRIGHT reported that the Kentucky curve specialist "looked pretty good," and Brooklyn bought the pitcher for the proverbial song on 30 days' trial, the closing of the deal hinging on Johnny's success. No other club could pry him loose from Brooklyn now. Robbie plans to use him as a regular starting pitcher at an early date. Morrison attributes his improved efficiency to a better fast ball than he had while with the Pirates.

"I'm just beginning to get my full share of pitching stuff," Morrison told Tom Holmes. "I'm 32 years old now, and fully matured. I'm stronger physically and my pitching arm in particular is stronger. I no longer have to depend entirely upon my curve ball in the pinches. I am glad that I am to get a regular turn on the mound. Relief pitching is wearing work. It's got so now that I wake up with the bases full."

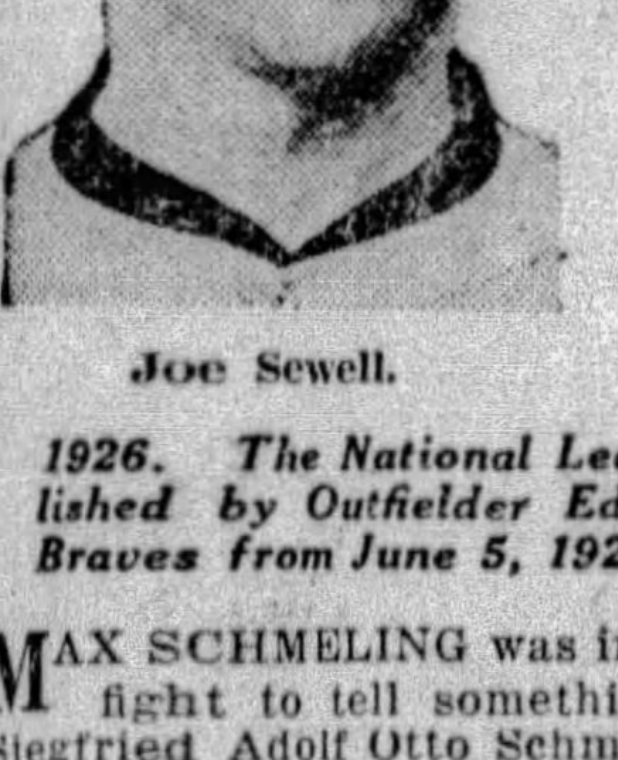
THOUGH Joe Sewell, former shortstop and present third baseman of the Cleveland club, cannot hope to equal or break the standing record in the major leaguues until near this date in 1931, he has placed to his credit one of the most remarkable performances in the line of consecutive playing in the history of the big show.



Joe Sewell.

For Sewell is about to play his one thousandth successive game for Cleveland—ten hundred day in and day out, year after year, without ever being absent from his post of duty, for the duration of a full contest.

SEWELL would have set a new record before now, but for a break in his chain in 1922, as he played in 1,315 games up to date since he joined the Indians late in 1920. The interruption forced him to start all over again, however, so that he still will have a long way to go after playing his one thousandth consecutive game. The all-time major league record for consecutive playing is 1,307 games, set by Shortstop Everett Scott, with the Red Sox and Yankees from June 10, 1916, to May 5, 1926. The National League record is 618 games in a row, established by Outfielder Eddie Brown while with the Dodgers and Braves from June 5, 1924, to June 2, 1928.

MAX SCHMELING was induced by Harry Salsinger after Thursday's fight to tell something about himself. His full name is Max Siegfried Adolf Otto Schmeling. Imagine Joe Donnelly handing that name to a crowd when he was the last word in fight announcers here 10 years ago. The family name is pronounced as if spelled "S-h-m-a-l-i-n-g."

Max wears a wrist watch with a black silk ribbon and frequently attends moving picture shows. Emil Jannings is his favorite screen actor. He has two large gold teeth. Thus far he seems human, but —he dislikes women and is never seen in their company. He has learned English since coming to the United States, speaks it with surprising fluency, and reads American newspapers, magazines and

JACK CUMMINGS
C. A. CUMMINGS

LEADER, YOUNGEST

Gene Sarazen, former Pittsburgh pro, who was one of the leaders in the national open golf tourney this morning, has Jack Cummings, of Cleveland, for a playing partner in the title competition at Winged Foot. Sarazen attained an advantageous position by scoring two rounds of 71. Cummings, the youngest player in the tourney, is "chaperoned" by his father, C. A. Cummings. Young Jack scored a fine 74 on Thursday, but turned in a poor 89 yesterday.

MRS. SNOWDON GAINS TITLE ROUND

By PAUL G. SULLIVAN.

Dr. John O'Loughlin, ace of the P. A. A., will defend his Western Pennsylvania men's singles net title and strive for the first leg on the new David I. McCahill trophy against the formidable onslaught of Byron Baur, Erie flash and 1927 West Penn champion, in the final round of the local sectional tournamen on the Stanton Heights Golf Club gallery rectangle at 2 p. m. today.

The dazzling Winged Head star crashed to the finale yesterday at the expense of Billy Ramsay, Uniontown youth and sensational tourney dark horse, in a 6-1, 6-1, 6-4 semi-final tilt that was as brilliantly played, despite the disparity in the tally, as any contest beheld here in many a moon. Baur attained the ultimate bracket by downing Brother Billy O'Loughlin, slender Duke prep streak, 6-2, 6-0, 6-3.

MRS. SNOWDEN WINS

In the women's titular fray, Mrs. Martha Guthrie Snowdon, Steel City luminary who is staging a splendid comeback after several seasons out of competition, will take the court at 11 a. m.—if the ground is dry enough by that hour, which is doubtful—with Mrs. Dorothy Lewis, Alliance chop stroke artist and 1928 West Penn premiere, for initial possession of the lately donated Honus Wagner cup. Mrs. Snowdon displayed all of her old-time skill and tactics to eliminate Rose Straub, Johnstown entrant, 6-2, 6-2, in the semi-finals, while Mrs. Lewis outsteadied Mrs. Winifred Eschner, Erie representative 6-2, 6-1 in the same bracket.

Ramsay played excellent tennis in dropping his straight-set decision to O'Loughlin, but the game of the East End dentist was utterly airtight. It is improbable that the dashing victor has never performed better before a Pittsburgh audience. Ramsay drove with blistering force to the corners and O'Loughlin returned brilliantly down the side lines. Ramsay hit deep and O'Loughlin scooped 'em up and slapped 'em back just as close to the baseline; Ramsay tried being consistent and O'Loughlin outwaited him or slashed cross-court

AYCOCK WINS COLLEGE TITLE

DEAL, N. J., June 29.—(AP.)—Tommy Aycock, a frail, 22-year-old youth from Jacksonville, Fla., and Yale, won the national intercollegiate golf championship yesterday in one of the most erratic matches that ever decided an important title.

Their nerves frayed and tattered by four days of play in which they had survived all encounters and came down to an all-Yale final, the bespectacled Aycock and his rangy captain, Marshall Forrest, of Lowell, Mass., missed putts and approaches all over the place until Aycock finally won by a margin of 5 up and 4 to play.

Whatever the reason, Forrest played golf that would have failed to qualify for match play if it had been produced in medal rounds earlier in the week. For the 32 holes it took to end the match he totaled 23 strokes over par, visiting nearly every trap in this tricky layout and missing the easiest of putts.

Aycock was little better. Thursday, every putt was dropping for him then, but yesterday Tommy found himself failing on the veriest setups.

GENE SARAZEN MAY REGAIN OPEN TITLE

By HORTON SMITH,
French Open Champion and Sensational Young U. S. Pro.

MAMARONECK, N. Y., June 29.—While there will be a new open champion golfer of the United States, as Johnny Farrell, present titleholder has failed to qualify for the final 36 holes today the news is very likely to come from one of three players who have each held the honor at least once before. The second round did not change the complexion of the championship, the leaders on the first day holding their lead.

Horton Smith.

Bobby Jones dropped two shots behind Gene Sarazen and Al Espinosa who are tied for the lead at 142, with Jones and Denmore Shute at 144 and Tommy Armour at 145. In looking at these leaders, Jones, Sarazen or Armour, all former champions, appear the most likely to provide the winner, although I have great respect for the games of Espinosa and Shute. It seems to be more difficult, however, for a new man to break through.

HAGEN OVERGOLFED

I think that Walter Hagen and I are a bit overgolfed. I have not played well since my return from Europe, and feel I need a lay off and am sure that Hagen has been doing too much. My score yesterday was 77 for a total of 153. Eleven

DOG SHOW TODAY

The annual Sewickley Kennel Club show is scheduled for today at the Allegheny Country Club, Sewickley Heights. A pretentious entry list has been obtained, and the affair promises to be the best in its history. The proceeds will go to the social service fund of the Allegheny General Hospital. The Ladies' Auxiliary of that hospital is sponsoring the show.

SWETONIC, GRIMES TO PITCH

By CHARLES J. DOYLE

In the first doubleheader of the season at Forbes Field, Burleigh Grimes and Steve Swetonic this afternoon will attempt to put a stop to the Red outbreak which has militated against our Pirates since the Buccos returned from their victorious Western drive. The first battle will start at 2 o'clock.

Frederick Charles Lucas, known to his intimates by the endearing nickname "Red," toppled the first-placers yesterday afternoon as the cellar champs made it two out of three from the ambitious Bushwhackers. Lucas was able to record a tenth successive victory over the Freebooters, his victory string dating back to the 1927 campaign.

DROP FROM LEAD

And to make matters worse, the Cubs hammered out another victory over the sinking Cardinals and galloped full tilt into first place. The Bruins now lead the National League pack by a half a game and three percentage points. If the Chicagoans win today, it will mean that our Pirates will have to blot out the Reds twice, no mean task, considering the way the Rhinelanders are playing at the present instance.

Today's Lineup

First game starts at 2 o'clock

Something's got to be done about this, so the Wisconsin Wildcat will take a hand in the matter this afternoon, provided he is able to perform. Grimes has been nursing a sore left side since the Pirates were in Chicago, but he was on the mend yesterday and it is likely that he will be able to work one of the contests this afternoon. Swetonic is listed for the other game. Manager

SCHMELING MAY GIVE SHARKEY TROUBLE

★ SUN-TELEGRAPH ★ SPORTS ★

GOB SEES MAX IN FLASHY FINISH

By HARRY KECK,
Sports Editor.

One of the most interested spectators at the Max Schmeling-Paulino Uzcudun fight at the Yankee Stadium in New York, Thursday night, was Jack Sharkey, of Boston, who sat with his wife immediately behind the press section and was introduced before the main bout as the man who, in September, will uphold the honor of America against the winner of the battle between the Basque and the German.

Jack Sharkey

While the bout was on, Sharkey observed the rivals closely. In the early rounds, a smirk of disdain was visible on his features, but, as the rounds wore on after the tenth and Schmeling came from behind to buffet about the iron-jawed and rock-ribbed former woodchopper, Sharkey suddenly became serious and eager in his observation of the work of the "German Dempsey." He undoubtedly was duly impressed by the blazing finish made by Maxie to come within a round or so of knocking out Paulino, a feat never accomplished by any man.

MAX A BOXER

It was a good break for Sharkey to have Schmeling win, and, in winning, leave a sound impression in the minds of the fans, for it means a tremendous gate when he clashes with Sharkey. A Sharkey-Paulino bout would not have been so hot from a box office standpoint. Yet, at the same time, it was a bad break for the former gob, for Paulino is not a dangerous puncher, while Schmeling is. So long as Schmeling is in the fight he always has a chance to wing the other fellow with his straight right that dumped Johnny Risko for the latter's first knockout and almost repeated the dose against Paulino.

The most significant feature of Schmeling's fighting is that he boxes along American lines rather than the European style. That is to say, he keeps on the move, jabbing deftly with his left and making openings for his right, which he uncorks with deadly speed and accuracy. And he does not easily become flustered or discouraged. Paulino, with his greater experience, and his shell-like defense, had him shooting at the moon through the early rounds and meanwhile kept up a crowding body attack that would have bothered many another man. But Maxie merely kept plugging away and biding his time, and, contrary to expectations, it was Paulino and not the youngster who blew up when the 10-round mark was reached. From there on in it was a romp for Maxie.

NOT ANOTHER "DEMPSEY"

Schmeling is no Dempsey by any stretch of the imagination and probably never will be. He looks like him, but that lets him out. However, he is a good fighter and a likeable one and may go on to greater things. Whether or not he can beat Sharkey is a question. The real Sharkey, boxing or fighting as well as he can, would figure to stab Maxie's eyes out with his left and chop him up with his right, but Sharkey is the most erratic man in the ring today, and there is no telling in advance of any bout whether he will have a good or a bad night. Catching Jack off his feed, it is conceivable that Maxie could hand him quite a trimming on what he showed in the latter rounds against Paulino. And he is likely to improve considerably in the meantime. Writers who saw him polish off Risko say that the left hand he showed against Paulino had been acquired since then.

The main difference between Max and Dempsey is that the German lacks the dash and fire of the Manassa Mauler. He is inclined to be a methodical boxer rather than a slugger and to gradually cut his man down before trying for a knockout. And even in seeking a decisive finish he does not display the fury that made Dempsey famous. A bit of hustle in the last two rounds might have spelled Paulino's doom. Instead of walking in and throwing everything into a bid for a knockout triumph against a foe who never was dangerous, but merely baffling in the early rounds, Max elected to keep moving about seeking openings for his right up to the final bell. And then Paulino, blinded and groping about the ring on sheer instinct, just barely managed to last the limit. If he had been in the same condition in an earlier round, the referee might have stopped the slaughter.

EARLY LEAD FOR PAULINO

Despite the fact that the early rounds of the fight were so bad that they called forth boos and hisses and catcalls and whistling and stamping and clapping and even singing from the fans in the distant seats, who clamored for more and better action, and Paulino was making it this sort of a fight by his bulling tactics, which were forcing Max to play into his hands and look like a tyro, few of the New York newspapers, in their ringside accounts of the battle, credited Paulino for his good work in these sessions. Some gave him two or three of the first 10 rounds and some of them a round or two and a few dead heats and awarded the others to Schmeling, despite the fact that the German appeared to be considerably at sea and was most ineffective up to the tenth round. My score sheet showed five rounds for Paulino, two for Schmeling and two even in the first nine, not so much on what Paulino was accomplishing, but for the manner in which he was bluffing Max into doing just what he willed and keeping the German from working to advantage.

Walking in with his arms crossed in front of his face, Paulino offered Max no target at which to shoot without danger of hurting his hands, and, once inside, he battered Max at will. The German appeared to be lost in the clinches. It was not until Paulino began to be bothered by a badly cut mouth in the tenth round that Maxie started his victory spurt and then it was by discarding his fencing with his left hand to bring down Paulino's guard that he began to get anywhere. Suddenly shifting to blazing away with the right, without preliminary jockeying with his left, he discovered he could hit Paulino at will on the "button," and, as Paulino followed him and tried to work in close, out of danger, Max brought both fists into play with short range blows. This was his attack then until the finish and the cumulative effect of these repeated jolts to the head were what reduced the Basque to a gory, blinded mess at the final bell.

PASSES UP KNOCKOUT

Had Max opened up earlier in the fight as he did over the last one-third of the route, he undoubtedly would have knocked out Paulino. With the stuff he possesses, he could be another Dempsey, if he would gamble a little more and mix from the start. But it evidently isn't his nature and he'll probably go on being a combination boxer and puncher to the end.

Max entered the ring a 2-to-1 favorite in the betting after having ruled at only 6 to 5 for weeks before the battle. On the day of the fight the betting went to even money and then for a time to 7 to 5 on Paulino. When the show got under way, Max was back on top at 6 to 5 and just before he climbed into the ring the layers of odds quoted him at 2 to 1 with few takers, although the consensus of opinion among the so-called better minds of the game was that the 31-year-old Paulino, with his vast experience against the leading heavyweights, would prove altogether too smart for the 23-year-old German. He was too smart for a while, but couldn't keep it up when the going became tough.

Sharkey will be the favorite when he meets Schmeling for two reasons. One will be American patriotism and the other his known ability. But he will have his hands full with the German. The kid's the goods and it will take more than the Sharkey glare and a few harsh words to beat him, especially now that he has got safely over the Paulino hurdle.

GENE SARAZEN MAY REGAIN OPEN TITLE

strokes behind the leaders, too much to catch, although I hope to pass a number of players and better my position before the final 36 holes.

Yesterday afternoon it rained hard. Sarazen and Espinosa who were early starters, got in fine rounds long before noon and were tied at 142. Those who played in the afternoon had rain to contend with, but it did not seem to affect their play, as Armour did a 71, Von Elm a 70 and Jones a 75, in the rain. The rain fell very hard for about 15 minutes, but for the remainder of the afternoon it was not hard enough to affect the play.

Of the leaders, it seems to me that Espinosa and Sarazen have played the most consistent golf. Jones has not been particularly steady and can attribute his position near the top to his very brilliant last nine holes of the first round when he shot five consecutive threes followed by four fours to come home in 31 and do a 69 in the first round. Jones has not been the perfect machine here, but he may become just that in the final two rounds today.

SARAZEN PUTTS WELL

Sarazen, equipped with a good fighting spirit and a great long game, has found a very good putting stroke. In his second round he only used nine putts on the last 12 greens. He looks mighty good and one of the strong men for the professionals against Jones.

Al Espinosa has never won a major title, but for years he has been a great player, won plenty of money in competition and can easily shoot well enough to win.

Tommy Armour is the mystery man. I remember his finish at Oakmont two years ago, when he won the title. I remember in California last winter his two remarkable rounds in the Los Angeles open, both under 70. Armour is one of the artists of the game, capable of those scores in the 60s.

Jones is paired with Al Watrous for the final 36 holes. Over in England a few years ago, at Stanne's, Jones played with Watrous on the final day and won the British championship. History may repeat, although Jones has not been as steady here as he has been in other championships.

To return to Armour: He fought through the war, and at one time two Germans had him standing with his back to a tank which he had just crawled out of, and he wiggled out of that situation alive. I cannot think of a more determined golfer than Armour, just as long as he has a fighting chance to do it, and of a more mild one when that last chance has vanished. I look for Tommy to make a brilliant effort.

Whatever happens, it is going to be a great finish.

Blue Larkspur Picked To Win Dwyer Stake

NEW YORK, June 29.—(INS.)—The $20,000 added Dwyer stakes, eastern turf classic to be run at the Aqueduct track this afternoon, appeared tobe a "set-up" for Blue Larkspur, Col. E. R. Bradley's famous picture horse. Only four opponents were slated to go to the post against him, and these were so inferior in quality that the Kentuckian's great 3-year-old was installed a 2-to-5 favorite to win the historic turf mixture.

The other entries were Frisius and Flag Day, the Belair stud and Wheatley stable entry; Folking and Grey Coat. Blue Larkspur frightened off practically all opposition.

The Dwyer was called the Brooklyn Derby when inaugurated in 1887. The distance is a mile and a half.

Long's Sport Comment

books. Joseph Conrad and Jack London are his favorite authors. He prefers a soft felt hat to a straw and likes chop suey.

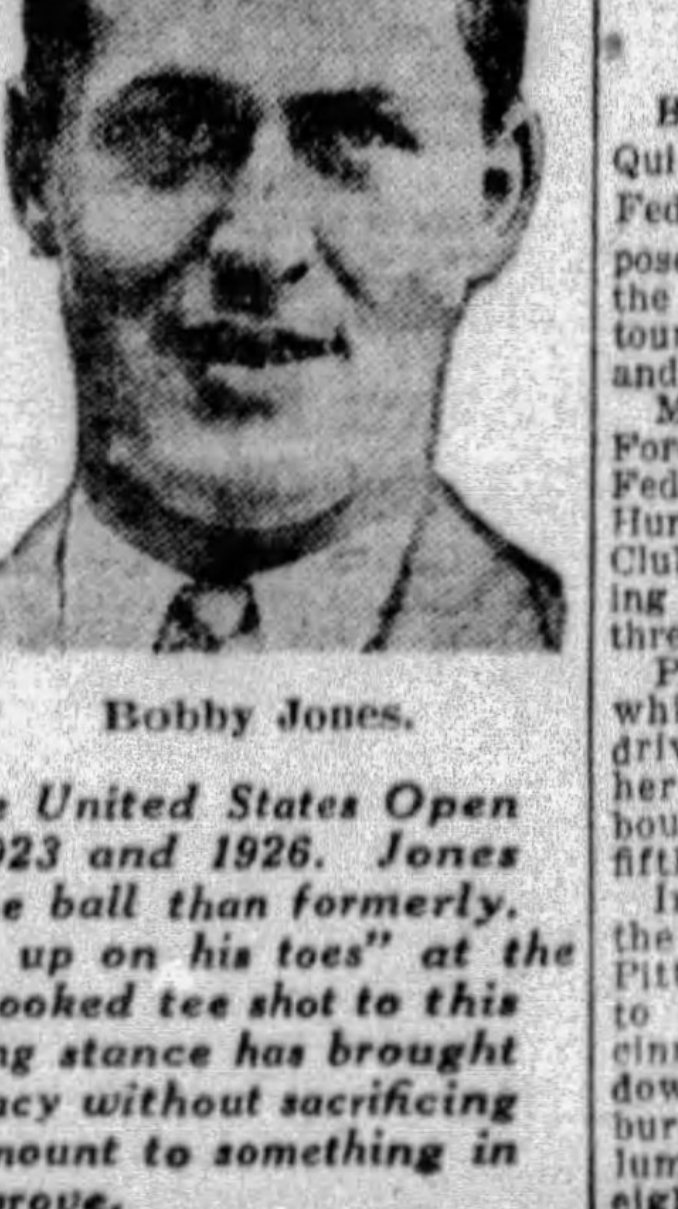
SCHMELING tried various jobs before he ever saw a pair of boxing gloves. He was a copy boy for a German newspaper, a miner, stone mason, clerk, structural iron worker, art student and plain hobo. He also traveled with a one-ring circus as assistant to the strong man. He dropped into a gymnasium one day and was invited to box. Expert eyes saw possibilities in him. He entered an amateur tournament, won in his class and turned professional.

Speaking of names, Schmeling's defeated rival, says he was christened "Paulino," not "Paolino," as he has been called. He was 24 before he wore his first pair of shoes, and claims to be the world champion woodchopper. He has a sister, Pauline, who weighs 220 pounds and also claims to be a champion woodchopper, champion of her sex.



Bobby Jones.

HERE'S something that might be classed with painting the lily or changing Babe Ruth's swing—improving the golf form of Bobby Jones. Can you imagine anyone's suggesting a defect in the play of the Atlanta marvel, the greatest golfer that ever lived? Well, Bobby himself thinks he found one and he proceeded to correct it. Probably he is using his new style in the final rounds at Mamaroneck today in striving to add the United States Open championship of 1929 to those he won in 1923 and 1926. Jones now stands two inches farther back from the ball than formerly. He decided he had always been "too much up on his toes" at the instant of impact, attributing an occasional hooked tee shot to this tip-toe stance. So far he says his new driving stance has brought good results, and that he has gained in accuracy without sacrificing distance off the tee. Bobby may one day amount to something in golf if he keeps on trying so earnestly to improve.

ZIVIC IN FINAL DRILL TODAY

Jack Zivic, local welterweight boxer, who is doing a comeback, winds up his training at Flynn's gym today for his 10-round battle with Sergt. Sammy Baker, of New York, in the Meyers Bowl, North Braddock, Monday night. He is in fine fettle for the event, having been training for the past week under the care of Luke Carney, who also has been handling the gym routine of Buck McTiernan. Luke and Zivic were on the "outs" for a time, but have buried the hatchet and all is serene between them again.

Baker, who defeated Georgie Levine in New York last Wednesday night, will arrive in Pittsburgh tomorrow morning.

The Meyers Bowl will be the scene of two mitt shows next week. Announcement has been made that a special popular price show has been arranged for Thursday night, July Fourth, tickets selling for $1 and $2. Rudy Ceder, of Tarentum, will meet Dick Ramies, of Canton, O., in the 10-round windup, and Mike Payan, Indian stablemate of Ramies, will tangle with California Joe Gans, Negro lightweight, in the light-round semi-final. Two six-round preliminaries will complete the bill.

Buck McTiernan will undergo an operation on Monday for the removal of his tonsils, which have been giving him trouble for some time, and he likely will be on the sidelines for three or four weeks.

Phil Goldstein has resumed training in New York for his return bout with Tony Herrera, which will be held at the Meyers Bowl either July 8 or July 15. His stablemate, Dan Billick, meets Heine Hart in an eight-round bout at Allentown, Pa., next Monday night.

Anjeanette Hunter Loses at Buffalo

BUFFALO, June 29.—(AP.)—Edith Quier of Reading, Pa., and Mrs. Leo Federman, Glen Lakes, L. I., disposed of their semi-final opponents in the ninth annual women's invitation tournament at the Country Club Links and will meet today in the final.

Miss Quier defeated Miss Louise Fordyce, of Youngstown, O., and Mrs. Federman turned back Anjeanette Hunter, of Stanton Heights Golf Club, Pittsburgh, both matches ending with the same scores, four up and three to play.

Poor iron play by Miss Hunter, which resulted in seven balls being driven out of bounds, brought about her downfall. She sent four out of bounds on the deciding hole and the fifth was dangerously close.

In the beaten eight of the 16 of the first flight, Mrs. F. Campbell, Pittsburgh, was four down and four to play with Martha Kinsey, Cincinnati, but carried on to lose, 2 down. Mrs. W. C. Boggs, of Pittsburgh, lost to Mrs. Curtis Sohl, Columbus, 4 and 3, in the beaten eight of the first flight.

CUBS, GIANTS AND BROWNS ADVANCE

By LES CONKLIN.
International News Service.

NEW YORK, June 29.—One of the freak developments of the major league races this season has been the inability of several of the pennant contenders to defeat certain other teams which, on paper, do not appear stronger.

The champion St. Louis Cardinals have captured only eight out of 28 games from the other three first division clubs, the Cubs, Pirates and Giants. New York has lost nine out of 15 to Brooklyn. The St. Louis Browns top the Yankees in the standing of the clubs, but have dropped six out of seven to the champions. And the tail-end Cincinnati outfit has won more games from the powerful Pirates than from any other club in the National League.

CUBS GAIN LEAD

These jinxes were strikingly illustrated yesterday when the Reds knocked the Pirates out of first place while the Cubs took the lead by vanquishing the Cardinals, 9 to 5, for their ninth triumph at the expense of the champions in 13 games this season. The Cards, who have been beaten by the Cubs six times in succession, dropped to fourth place, below the Giants.

Pat Malone hung up his eleventh victory of the season for the Cubs and helped win his own game with a home run; Wilson and Hornsby also got homers, and Kiki Cuyler stole his twenty-second base of the season. Wilson's homer was his nineteenth, and put him in second place in the National League home run derby. The blow featured a seven-run rally in the second inning in which Jess Haines, making his first start of the year against the Cubs, was knocked out.

Red Lucas, of the Reds, beat Pittsburgh, 10 to 3. Cincinnati knocked Brame off the mound in the fifth inning.

BROWNS PASS YANKS

As a result of their 7-to-2 win over the White Sox, the St. Louis Browns jumped to a game and a half ahead of the Yankees, but are all of 10 games behind the Athletics. Heinie Manush of the Browns, got his hundredth hit of the season, the first American League player to turn the trick.

Strong arm work by his team mates cost George Uhle, Detroit mound ace, a 5-to-4 defeat at the hands of Cleveland. Outfielder Johnson threw from center field clear into the grand stand in attempting to prevent a score and Catcher Shea hurled the ball almost as far in trying to nip a runner at second.

Errors also were partly responsible for the 5-to-2 defeat which Myles Thomas, of Washington, sustained at the hands of Jack Russell, of the Red Sox.

Rain washed out other scheduled games, including the second game of the series between the Athletics and Yankees in Philadelphia.

Miss Gladman Wins First College Title

BROOKLINE, Mass., June 29.—(AP.)—Miss Marjorie Gladman, of the University of Southern California, yesterday became the first woman intercollegiate tennis champion by defeating Miss Marjorie Sachs, of Radcliffe, 6-0, 6-3, in the title round at the Longwood Cricket Club.

The East-West net clash of the Marjories was a one-sided affair, as Miss Gladman completely outplayed the Radcliffe girl in both sets.

Miss Gladman won her second intercollegiate title later in the day, when she paired with Miss Josephine Cruickshank, of the University of California, and defeated a Smith College team composed of Miss Polly Palfrey and Miss Fanny Curtis, 6-3, 6-1, in the final doubles play.

LAUBACH WINS

LANCASTER, Pa., June 29.—(AP.)—Whitey Laubach, 147, Williamsport, won the decision over Bob Schilling, 150, New York, in the featured eight-round bout of the boxing card here last night.

George Bender, 140, Girardville, was awarded the decision over Harry Kid Ross, Lancaster, in the semi-final.

Hornsby Gains In Big Six Scramble

Associated Press.

Robers Hornsby continued his fight upward in the Big Six yesterday when he got two out of four at St. Louis to lift his mark two points to .350. One of the drives was his thirteenth homer, which helped the Cubs win from the champions by 9 to 5. All of the remaining Big Six entries were kept idle, by rain, save Paul Waner, who got one out of four.

PIRATES PLAY TWO TODAY

There is some doubt as to whether Lloyd Waner will be at his post in the twin bill. The star centerfielder has been out for two days with a sore throwing hand, but he may be able to go back to his post today. If he remains on the bench Fred Brickell will continue in the game.

PIE, PAUL HIT HOMERS

Lucas had the Pirates for seven frames yesterday, but Paul Waner and Pie Traynor broke out with a pair of homers in the eighth, the three resultant runs serving to stir up the crowd a bit. But that is about all they did, for the sorreltop had a commanding lead as the result of a five-run drive in the fifth. The final score was 10 to 3.

Evar Swanson, the Flying Swede, was the first Red to cross the plate. The speedboy walked at the start of the fourth and moved along on Dressen's sacrifice. The dangerous Walker was taken out of the picture on a fly, but Kelly whipped a single to center to score Swanson.

Hughey Critz opened the big fifth for the Reds with a bunt that confused Brame. The tall pitcher started in after letting go of the ball and when Critz popped his bunt back toward the box, Brame could not turn quickly enough to catch it and Hughey was safe on first.

FORD SMACKS TRIPLE

Allen moved Critz ahead with a bunt and Ford whacked a triple to right-center that scored his mate. A single by Gooch, doubles by Lucas and Swanson and Dressen's single followed to make the round produce five markers. Petty relieved Brame with Dressen up.

Petty had two of the Reds out in the sixth when Ford and Gooch hooked up a double and a triple to register another tally. Two infield hits mixed with a walk and a sacrifice added one more for the Rhinelanders in the eighth.

With French working in the ninth, the enemy added two more counters on one hit. George Kelly and Swanson put over a squeeze play for one of the runs.

Legion Clubs Meet In Third Round

COLLEGE NET CHAMP LOSES BY DEFAULT

HAVERFORD, Pa., June 29.—(AP.)—Julius Seligson, of Lehigh University, lost an opportunity to defend his singles title in the intercollegiate tennis championships when he was defaulted yesterday by Referee Charles N. Beard for failing to appear for his semi-final match with Berkeley Bell, of the University of Texas.

Bell will clash with Gregory Mangin, of Georgetown, who gained his final round bracket by scoring a sensational straight set victory over Edward Jacobs, of Pittsburgh, 11-9, 6-4, 6-4, in a semi-final match today.

Shortly after the Mangin-Bell match got under way it began to rain, and the match was halted when the score was 4-all. When the players reached the clubhouse the rain fell in torrents. It was then that Seligson asked the referee if it would be all right for him to go to Philadelphia.

CHAMPION WARNED

"We will play as soon as it clears up, as the courts are now covered," Mr. Beard said. "No matches will be called off until 5 o'clock, when I believe the sun will be shining. 'Ve will play if we have to wait until 8 o'clock."

Convinced, apparently, that the rain would not cease for several hours, precluding any possibility for play, Seligson disappeared.

The Mangin-Jacobs match was resumed at 4:15 and concluded half an hour later. The officials waited until 5 o'clock, and then Referee Beard announced his decision, after conferring with R. Norris Williams and William Breck.

Seligson returned to the club house shortly after 7 o'clock.

WILL NOT APPEAL

"The way it was raining, I didn't think there would be any chance of playing," he said. "I left with friends to go to a movie in Philadelphia, but we could not find parking space, so we returned to Wynnefield, where I am staying, about four miles from here.

"I do not intend to make an appeal, although I believe I have been dealt an injustice."

Bridgeville Racers Hold Fine Records

Of the first 12 entrants in the all-champion drivers' race at the Pittsburgh-Bridgeville Speedway July 4 afternoon, 11 were participants in the 1929 Indianapolis and Altoona classics. Only Louie Schneider, of Chicago, who was unable to compete, owing to illness, failed to qualify in the two big AAA derbies, but the Windy City speed boy has fully recovered and hopes to pay up for lost time by getting his share of the rich prizes offered for the holiday grind.

Maytag and McCary In Trans-Miss. Final

OMAHA, June 29.—(AP.)—Bud Maytag, Newton, Ia., and Bob McCrary, fiery little Scotchman from Des Moines, twisted the twenty-ninth trans-Mississippi golf championship into an all-Iowa affair yesterday by romping into the finals. McCrary, the upset genius of the entire week's play, drove into the final round by sandbagging Nathan Grimes, Denver medalist, 10 to 9, while Maytag almost matched his one-sided triumph by eliminating Larry Moller, youthful Quincy, Ill., shotmaker, 8 and 7.

The pair, who are alike in temperament but as different as Mutt and Jeff in size, will fight for the title today over 36 holes or less on the Omaha Field Club course.

FORMER PILOT MAY BOTHER SCHMELING

NEW YORK, June 29.—(AP.)—Fear that Arthur Bulow, deposed manager might tie up his ring future in a mess of legal entanglements has dimmed the thrill of victory for Max Schmeling, German youngster who belted Paulino Uzcudun from the front ranks of the heavyweight contenders in the ring at the Yankee Stadium Thursday night.

A flood of theatrical offers have poured in on the clouting Teuton who looks so much like the former champion, Jack Dempsey, and who battles in much the same fashion. Schmeling has about decided to accept one of the vaudeville offers for a month's tour.

After that, Der Maxie hopes to find the way paved for his meeting in September with Jack Sharkey here for the heavyweight throne, Gene Tunney left vacant. Both battlers have agreed to the match but fears are felt that legal action by Bulow will complicate matters.

SHOW DRAWS $381,280

Although the show, the first of the outdoor festivals of the season, was a financial success the receipts did not come up to expectations. The official figures published yesterday showed gross receipts of $381,280, and net receipts after payment of state taxes of $362,216. The official paid attendance was 38,690. Both Paulino and Schmeling received approximately $72,500 apiece for their services.

Fight critics, taking apart in the calmer light of the morning after, the brilliant battle waged by the young German against the sturdy Paulino, were almost unanimous in the opinion that Schmeling is headed for the heavyweight title. But even the most enthusiastic failed to award him such a wide margin of victory as was disclosed in the official reports of the two judges and referee of the match.

VICTORY DECISIVE

According to their tabulation, Paulino failed to win a single round. One judge and the referee, Arthur Donovan, gave Schmeling the edge in every round, while the second judge gave the German 14 rounds and called one, the third, even.

WEST PA. NET FINAL TODAY

for a placement; Ramsay attempted drop-shots and O'Loughlin raced in to dig them out and stow them away.

No matter what the Uniontown satellite attempted, the Winged Headsman was on deck to circumvent it. It is a long time since home fans have enjoyed opportunity to behold a more convincing exhibition of all-around fine play than that offered by O'Loughlin—and for that matter by his game and talented opponent.

BAUR PLAYS WELL

Arriving immediately after the O'Loughlin-Ramsay affair, the fracas of Baur and Little Bill came as a sort of anti-climax. The youngest O'Loughlin drove murderously and brought off a host of scintillant shots, but his huskier and more experienced rival proved too cool and too accurate for him. Realizing the futility of seeking to exchange drives to great extent in the half-gale that blew gustily through the enclosure, Baur permitted his over-eager companion to take most of the chances and contented himself with keeping the pellet in play till O'Loughlin either erred or grabbed off the point cleanly—and one can seldom grab off sufficient points cleanly to capture a match.

DOUBLES BUGBEAR

Men's and mixed doubles still remain the problem of the tourney and the bugbear of officials in charge. A cataclysmic downpour deluged the Heights just as fourth-round two-man contesting was getting well under way early yesterday evening, so that this afternoon will find the going far behind schedule and virtually impossible of completion before tomorrow. Very much the same situation—only more so—exists in the mixed division, wherein only one joust has been actually run-off to date. Favorites remain in the chase in both sectors, the lone feature of the Friday program being the achievement of Baur and McCaskey in accounting for the strong Beatty-Ritterbush combine of Stanton Heights in consecutive love sets. The summary:

Men's singles, semi-final round—Dr. John L. O'Loughlin defeated W. S. Ramsay, 6-1, 6-1, 6-4; Byron Baur defeated William L. O'Loughlin, 6-2, 6-0, 6-3.

Women's singles, semi-final round—Mrs. Dorothy Lewis defeated Mrs. Winifred Eschner, 6-2, 6-1; Mrs. Martha G. Snowdon defeated Rose Straub, 6-2, 6-2.

Men's doubles, third round—Reed and Hicks won from Seitz and Taylor by default; Cochrane and Stephens defeated Bair and Miller, 6-2, 6-1. Fourth round—Hoover and Glaser won from Walton and Sullivan by default; Ramsay and Hammer defeated Snively and Maloney, 6-1, 6-4; Baur and McCaskey defeated Beatty and Ritterbush, 6-0, 6-0.

TODAY'S PROGRAM

BULLETIN.

WIMBLEDON, England, June 29.—(AP.)—George Lott, American tennis star, reached the quarter-finals of the men's singles of the Wimbledon championships today, eliminating Jan Kozeluh, of Czecho-Slovakia, 6-1, 6-1, 6-4, in the feature singles match.

WIMBLEDON, June 29.—(AP.)—America's women tennis invaders stepped into the breach yesterday and saved the United States from an almost utter rout in the English championships on the Wimbledon courts.

In the elimination of John Hennessey and Wilmer Allison, United States Davis Cup players, by Henri Cochet and Jean Borotra, Uncle Sam's forces were given a taste of what might be expected if they hook up with France in the final Davis Cup round. With the win of P. Landry, the French are assured of three of the eight players in the quarter-final round.

HELENS VICTORS

But the two Helens from California—Wills and Jacobs—and Mrs. May Sutton Bundy did the same for America in the women's section. All three qualified for the quarter-final round. The California girls won with comparative ease with Mrs. Bundy turning in the sensational upset victory of the day in the downing of Miss Eileen Bennett, English Wightman Cup player.

Rising above the setbacks handed America's men racquet wielders was the old war horse, "Big Bill" Tilden seeking his third Wimbledon title. Tilden by beating Christian Boussus of France, 6-3, 9-7, 6-4 became the only American to qualify among the last eight today. George Lott, Davis cup youngster, still has a chance of gaining a berth by winning from Koseluth today.

It was a day of blazing sunshine and sensational upsets in the women's matches, in which special honors went to Mrs. Bundy. With her 12-year-old daughter looking on with approving eyes the 42-year-old mother defeated Miss Bennett 3-6, 6-4, 6-4.

The other sensation of the women's play was the defeat of Senorita Di Alvarez, of Spain, picked to meet Miss Wills in the championship match, by Mrs. C. O. McIlquham, a comparatively unknown to tennis circles, Mrs. McIlquham won 6-4, 4-6, 6-2.

TILDEN BEATS BOUSSUS

Under a blazinng sun, which provided the best of tennis weather, Tilden opened up the center court play against Boussus. Boussus carried the second set to 8-7 before Big Bill unloosed a few cannonball services to win.

Hennessey was far from his top form during his first two sets, which went to Cochet, 6-1, 6-4. The young American rallied and forced the third to 9-7 before Cochet won. The Allison-Borotra match provided the most exciting finish of the week. The Texan won the match six times before finally giving in, 6-3, 6-1, 4-6, 6-3.

HOME PLAYER WINS W. G. A.

Miss G. L. Bell, of the Allegheny Country Club, captured the one-day invitation tournament of the Women's Golf Association of Western Pennsylvania, held at the Allegheny Country Club yesterday, when she turned in a score of 93-22-71, for the best round of golf she has played this year.

Miss Alice Gundelfinger, of Montour Heights, was second with a tally of 102-22-80, and Mrs. S. K. Friedman, of Westmoreland Country Club, third, with a card of 92-9-83.

The field of almost 100 players was out considerably due to the inclement weather of the morning, although the play in the afternoon was under ideal golf conditions.

Other leading scorers follow:

Miss Mary McCune, 107-22-85; Miss Jane Allderdice, 108-22-86; Miss Anna A. Wood, 103-17-76; Miss Oliver Boschert, 117-30-87; Miss Nancy Brown, 117-30-87; Miss Betty Scott, 108-18-90; Mrs. A. C. Sunstein, 121-29-92; Mrs. P. W. Gundelfinger, 122-30-92; Mrs. Gillespie, 117-24-93; Miss Tenney, 110-16-94; Mrs. F. M. Hutchinson, 124-30-94; Miss Rebekah George, 121125-96; Mrs. Oliver Einstein, 126-30-96; Mrs. Richard Fishel, 126-30-96.

WILKINSBURG ROTARY WINS

The Wilkinsburg Rotary Club defeated the Verona-Oakmont Rotary Club, 5 to 4, in a match at the Edgewood Country Club. The results follow:

Lee Cratty and Stanley Ecker, even; Less Miles and M. Smith, even; John McCrory defeated Charles Carey, 3 up; Will Clutton defeated Ray Warner, 3 up; Guy Engle defeated Charles Westlake, 3 up; Walt Radclippe defeated W. H. # VALLEY HEIGHTS CADDIES PLAY TODAY

By VERN SWARTSFAGER.

Time is growing short—only six more days remain for individual entries to the second annual Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph's Western Pennsylvania junior amateur tournament for the William Randolph Hearst Trophy, which is to be held on the municipal links in Schenley Park, on Thursday, July 11. The entries will close with the Golf Tournament Editor on Friday, July 5—not a day before, not a minute after.

The junior tournament of the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph is open to all amateur golfers 18 years of age and under, not attending classes above high school grades. Caddies who are eligible to play are participating in qualifying rounds at their various clubs for eight-men teams—four of which will play for the special team championship plaque and medals. Caddies who are now working must be 15 years of age or under—a boy 16 years of age and working at this time is NOT eligible.

QUALIFY TODAY

A number of clubs have qualified their lads, but others have yet to enter the fold. The Edgewood Country Club, Alcoma Country Club, Nemacolin Country Club, Chartiers Heights Country Club, Shannopn Country Club, Butler Country Club, Thornburg Country Club and Schenley Park Golf Club have all qualified their eight-men teams. Highland is playing a 36-hole test, and will conclude its qualifying on Monday, although the qualifying round may be at either nine or 18 holes at the convenience of the caddie-master.

SET MONDAY DATE

The Pittsburgh Field Club will qualify its team on Monday, while on Tuesday, the boys at the Pup's Foot Golf Club will meet the test. It is expected the lads at Longue Vue, Westmoreland, Oakmont and Castle Shannon, all of whom have a number of entries in, also will qualify.

There is no entry fee—but all contestants must provide their own clubs and balls.

The tournament is not a strictly caddie tourney, and all amateur golfers within the requirements are welcome to enter—the deadline is July 5.

Maxie's Victory Didn't Fool Dempsey

SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.—(AP.)—Jack Dempsey arriving here yesterday to begin a three weeks' vaudeville tour, said he would "begin training immediately after his theatrical engagement."

The former heavyweight champion was uncommunicative about his future plans, but indicated he was open to offers.

The defeat of Paulino Uzcudun by Max Schmeling Thursday was expected by Dempsey. He said he never expected a knockout as he says the Spaniard is too rugged for that.

Pressed for a statement as to his own plans, Dempsey said they were indefinite, but the general impression was he might be looking ahead to a fight. The Manassa Mauler carries considerable extra poundage over his own fighting weight, being well over 200 pounds.

Dempsey's popularity again was demonstrated at the railroad station when several hundred admirers surrounded him and neglected nearly 50 movie stars, who arrived on the same train to participate in festivities opening a new theater here.

GUNNERS LOSE TO LEADERS

By TOM BIRKS.

Baseball fans in Canonsburg learned the why and wherefore of Homewood's being at the top of the ladder in the Inter-County League last evening when the leaders walloped the crack Canonsburg Gunners 8 to 2 before the home town folks. The victory clinched the first half title for the Pittsburghers.

Homewood hammered out 11 safe hits from the delivery of Mosley. Joe Semler, on the mound for Homewood, was touched for six.

In the Junior League, the Rooney Reds walloped the tar out of the Chester Club, grabbing off a 25 to 3 win.

The sandlot baseball schedule for the evening was very slack, rain halting most contests. Ingomar and P. & L. E. nine battled to a scoreless tie in one of the few independent tussles played. Lawrenceville Business Men nosed out the Iroquois Club, 8 to 7, and Duquesne Steel won from Glassport by a 1 to 0 count.

Sweet Lies—and Bitter Truth

PERHAPS it's just a complex, but I never could hate a cheerful liar—and I just love a graceful one!

The people I hate are the "worthy" ones, who are perpetually telling me the TRUTH.

To this day I hate the brutal little boy who first told me that there wasn't any Santa Claus. He robbed me of my Fairyland, and dimmed the glamour of all my Christmas Eves, forever and ever afterward!

I hate the artist who draws an "honest likeness" of me—and I love the photographer who uses his skill and his imagination to make me look like a prize beauty. HE'S the artist!

I hate the first man who confessed that he had lied to me. Why couldn't he have gone right on lying—and left me my illusions?

I hate the people who tell me that filet-of-sole is nothing but glorified founder, and that pate-de-fois-gras is made by torturing geese. They spoil my appetite.

Also the people who insist on informing me that my favorite movie star always uses a "double" for the thrilling feats; that my favorite blonde is purely "chemical," and that my favorite author uses a "ghost-writer."

I hate the woman who tells me that I'm not the type for sport clothes. Why can't she say that they make me look "cute" or younger or snappier—and let me go on dreaming?

I hate the biographers who tell the cruel truth about my favorite historical heroes and heroines, their little foibles and sordid domestic squabbles, their human weaknesses and pettinesses. I need my ideals to live by. And what do I care how many baths they took, what forks they used and how many women they fooled?

I hate the clever little cook, who tells me that they put soda in the peas, to make them that lovely green, and baking powder in the eggs to make them light and fluffy, and coloring matter in the jelly, and grenadine in the cocktails to kill the taste of the gin.

I hate the pessimists who assure me that there's no such thing as brotherly love, or world peace, or honest men, or good women, or happy marriages, or genuine buttermilk—or Paradise!

I don't hate the people who DECEIVE me. I hate people who are forever trying to UNdeceive me. I hate the Know-It-Alls! They make me TIRED!!

The Sun-Telegraph Fifteen Cent Pattern

A STYLISH DAYTIME FROCK FOR SLENDER FIGURES.

Crepe de chine in a new shade of blue with trimmings of beige crepe is here pictured. White flannel with black crepe or satin is also suggested. The front of the dress blouses above—a yoke cut in pointed outline, and to this yoke the plaited portion of the front is joined. The back is in one piece. Neck and sleeve trimmings are in pointed outline.

The pattern for this model is cut in three sizes: 16, 18 and 20 years. To make the dress for a 16-year size will require 3⅝ yards of 39-inch material. To make neck and sleeve facings, and belt of contrasting material cut crosswise will require ¾ yard 39 inches wide. To finish pointed edges with bias binding will require 3¾ yards 1½-inch wide. The width of the dress at the lower edge with plaits extended is 2½ yards.

COUPON.

This pattern will be sent on receipt of 15 cents (silver or 2c and 1c stamps). Make number, name, address, etc., plain. Send to Pattern Department, The Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Yellowed Garments

Small linen articles or garments that have yellowed through careless laundering can be restored to their original whiteness by boiling them for half an hour in a mixture of milk and water to which a little shredded soap has been added. Rinse in several lots of tepid water, adding a small piece of blue to the last.

Woven Furs

You don't have to go big game hunting to get the skins for the new woven furs. Tussah silk, mohair clipped from the fleece of the Angora goat, and the hair obtained from other animals are transferred into a cloth resulting in a close resemblance to real fur. Raccoon, Cross Fox, Gray Fox and Mink are some of the "animals" obtainable.

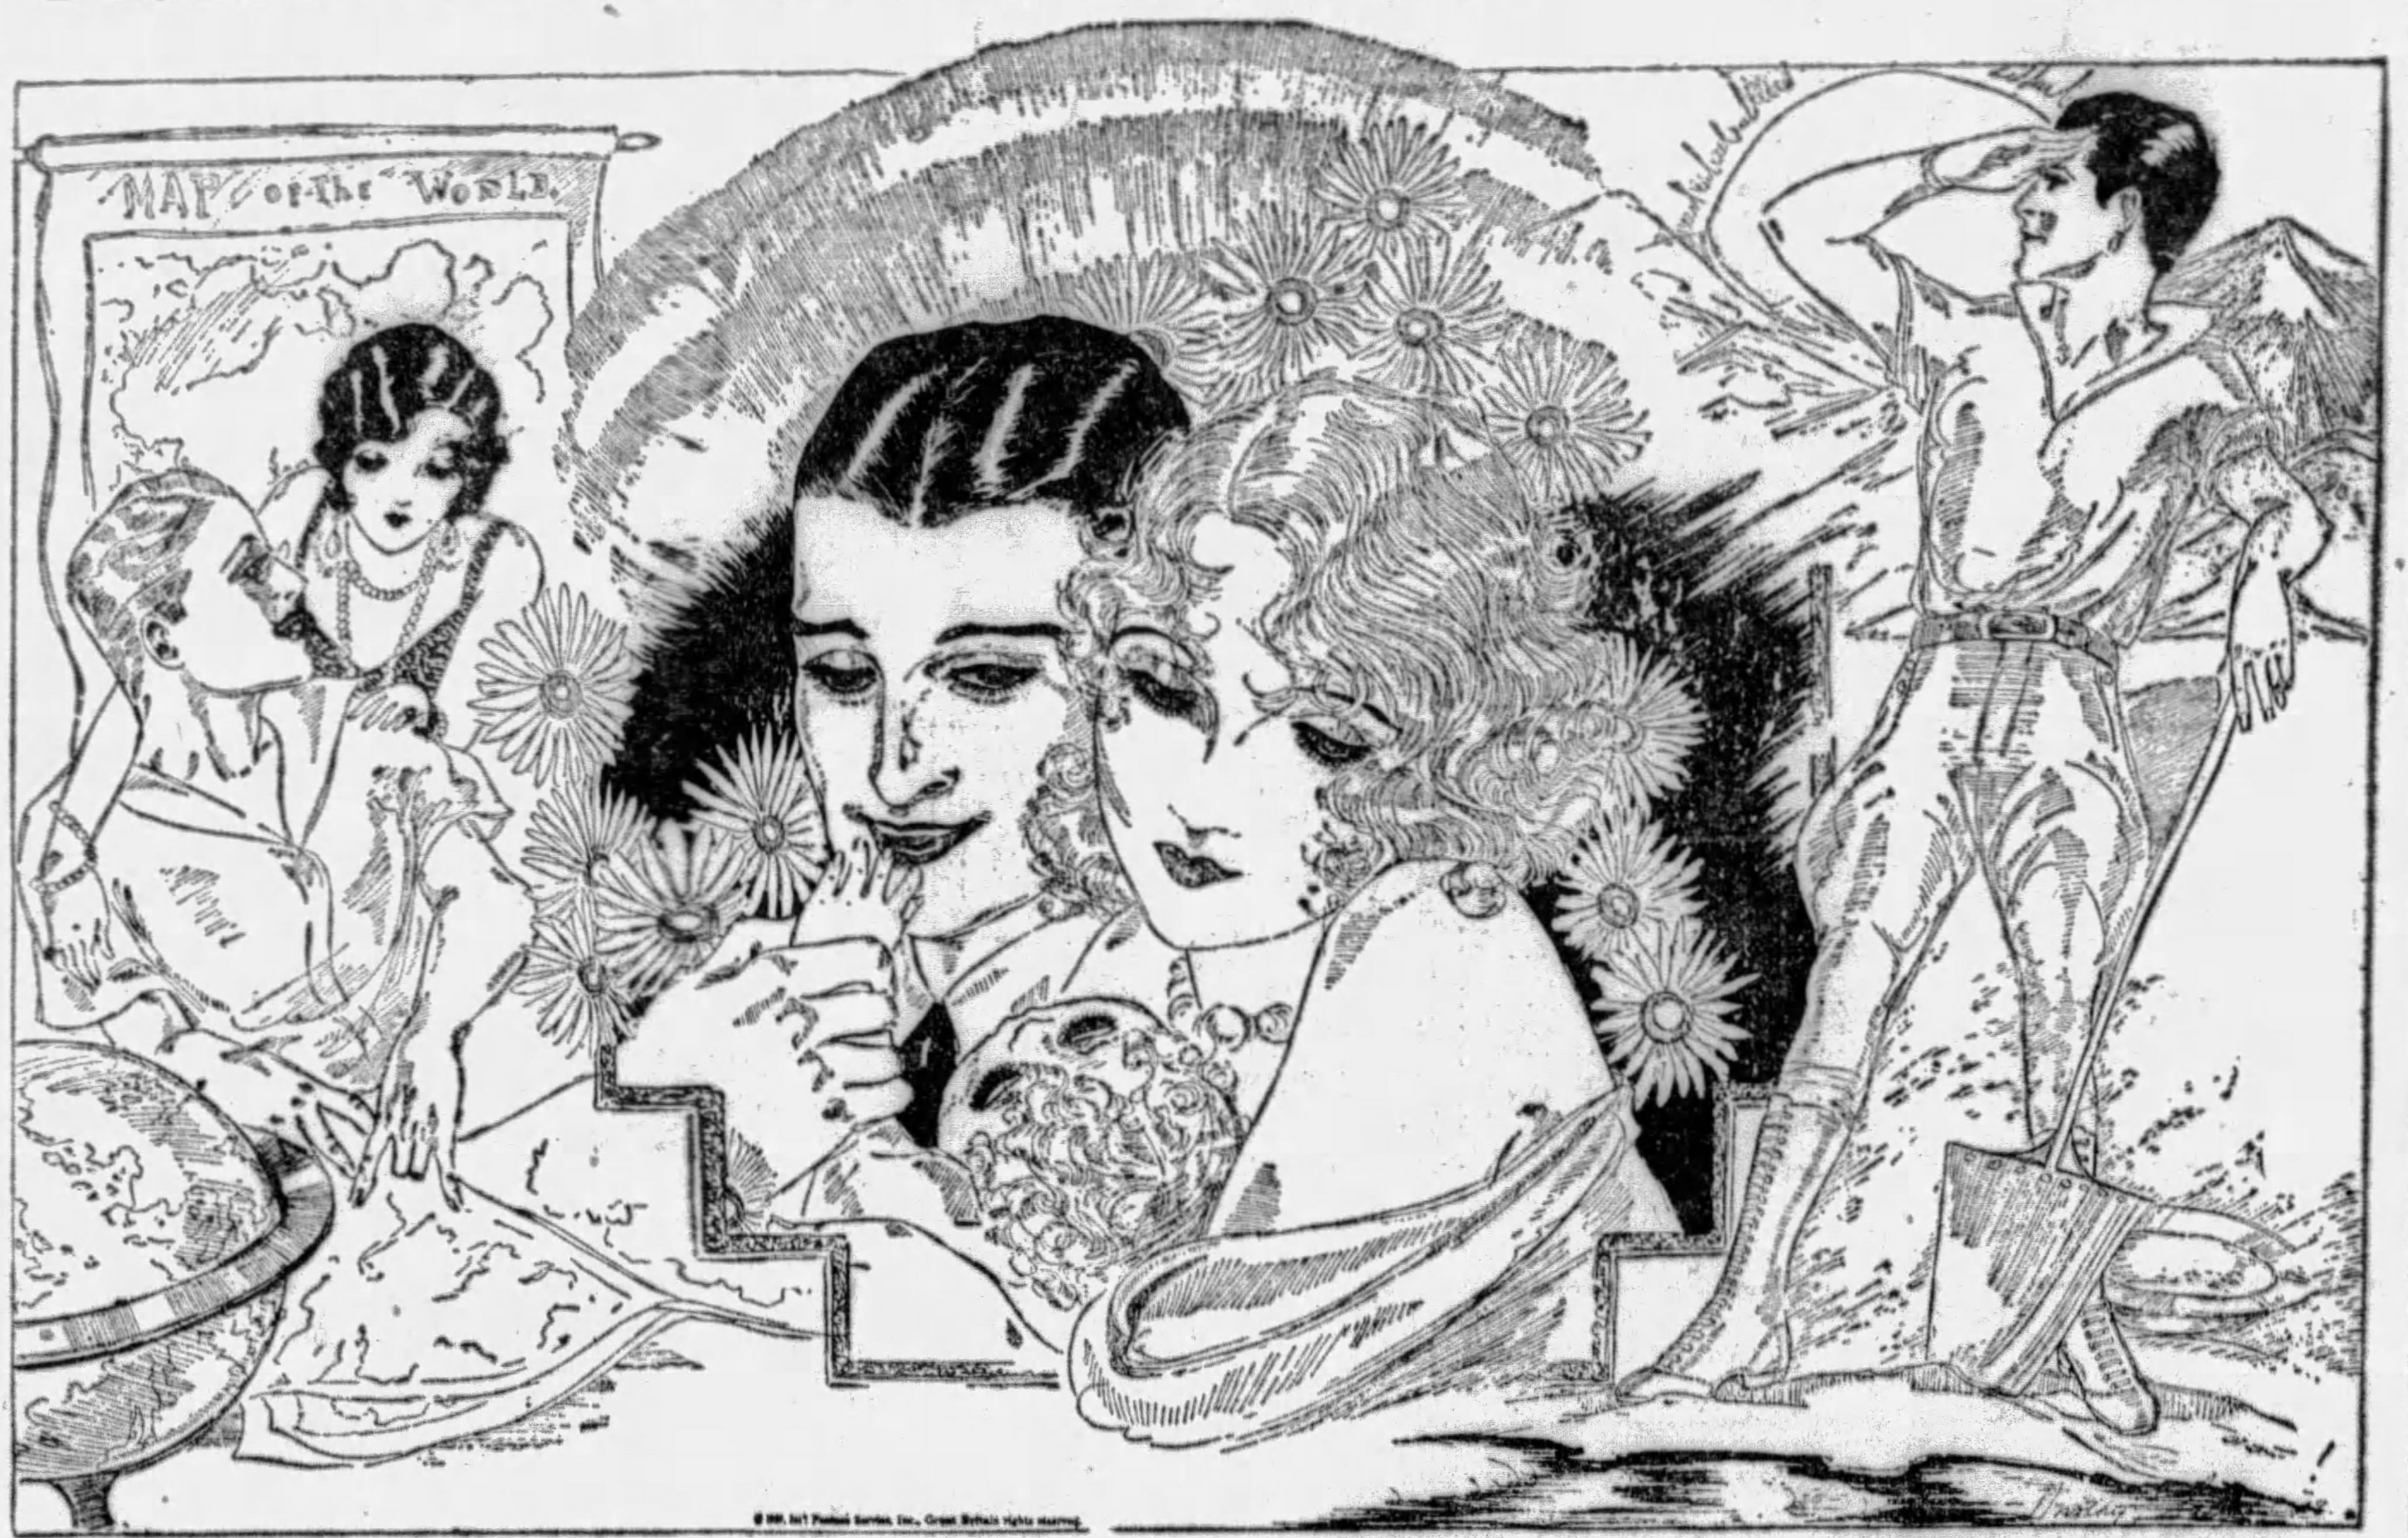
Drawn by Dorothy Flack



FROM the time man has been on the face of the earth he has been relentless in search for the pot of gold which lies at the end of the rainbow. Some seek the far corners of the earth, hoping against hope that the fortune they seek will come to their hands and they'll be able to live happily ever after.

Each to his liking, of course, but sometimes I wonder why people seek happiness and wealth so far from home. Because happiness is right to one's hand if only one will see it. So often that which lies closest to us is the real, true happiness, only we refuse to see and acknowledge it.

And often after people wander all over the face of this globe of ours they return to whence they started and find Happiness camped right on their own doorstep. And wealth, too! For Love is both Wealth and Happiness. And when one possesses love one is bound to have wealth and happiness—the only wealth that really counts. Material things may be wealth to some, but the wealth that counts is the richness of baby fingers and the gold of a baby's hair that is beyond price.

So look well before you seek the far corners. Look around first and see if what you seek isn't right to your hand! It is there, for Love comes to everyone, and if you will but recognize it then you will be richer than Midas, and far happier.

Love's Awakening

A Continuation of Love's Embers

By ADELE GARRISON

Ronald Wins Permission to Call on Sister and Marion

MARION gave a pettish little exclamation as her classmate put the query concerning the "sheik," meaning Ronald Brixton. But I did not believe she was as annoyed as her voice would indicate. She did not whisper, either, as did the girl accosting her.

"He isn't a sheik," she said a bit primly. "He's the brother of that girl with me, who's going to be my roommate if Mrs. B.'ll let us."

"Climb down the cupalo," the other girl admonished. "We've all heard that 'roommate's brother' dope before. We all saw the way he was lamping you. And the girls told me to warn you if you don't introduce him to all of us and bring him down for the senior hop your life won't be worth living this year."

She whisked away upon the last word, and Marion, with face and eyes trying hard to look annoyed, but failing dismally, came to her mother's side and caught her hand.

"There's Mrs. B. in the hall now," she whispered excitedly. "Let's catch her before she gets away."

The next minute we were being welcomed by a tall, magnificently proportioned woman, whose somewhat regal graciousness was tempered by the humorous glint in her keen, clear eyes.

"Now, Marion," she said when she had greeted Lillian and acknowledged my introduction to her, "what is it that I see in your eyes? You want to ask me something, don't you?"

"Yes, I do," Marion answered bravely, and then she told of Carolyn waiting with her mother outside and her wish that her new friend should be her roommate. Mrs. Barnes wasted no time in making her decision.

"If your mother approves, and I see she does, I shall be very glad to make the arrangement," she said. "Let me see, Carolyn is to be a senior, and I haven't seen her as yet. Would you find it convenient to have her come into the school today instead of tomorrow, when the new girls are supposed to arrive? I might waive the rules if it wouldn't interfere with your program."

Her eyes were twinkling as she put the question, and Marion laughed gleefully.

"I am sure it will be convenient," she said demurely, and then ecstatically, "Oh, Mrs. Barnes, you are so wonderful to us—"

"We'll admit all that," Mrs. Barnes smiled. "Run along now and bring Carolyn in. Did you say her mother was with her?"

"Yes, Mrs. Barnes," Marion answered, then shot a hesitant appealing look at her mother.

"Also her brother," Lillian said. "A young man who wishes to ring the front doorbell of Whitney occasionally."

Marion's face was crimson, but her voice was clear, though low.

"Ronald Brixton," she said.

"That sounds attractive," Mrs. Barnes commented, with another twinkle. "By all means bring Ronald also. We want to be able to recognize him when he comes down to see—his sister."

Marion scurried off, apparently not noticing the mischievous hesitation in Mrs. Barnes' voice. But I saw that even her neck was crimson.

"I might as well give you now my formal approval of Ronald's occasional calls upon Marion," Lillian said hurriedly. "I had hoped she would get through her senior year without any nonsense of that sort, but Ronald Brixton's mother is a friend of many years ago, who recently has come back into my life. And her son is really a charming chap. I cannot forbid his attentions to Marion."

"Why should you?" Mrs. Barnes countered, and there was that in her eyes as she put the query which told me that she welcomed the diversion for Marion. And I was sure that she comprehended the jealous seclusion in which Lillian had kept her daughter and disapproved of it.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. ROYAL S. COPELAND

Avoid Infection by Keeping Razor Clean

AGE has its penalties. Everybody admits that; but who would think of it in connection with shaving?

Of course every boy reaches an age when he "borrows" his father's razor and takes a sly shave. He may cut his face in a place or two, but the joy of scraping off the fuzzy beard is an experience never to be forgotten. It is really the initiation into manhood.

DR. COPELAND

But that isn't what I have in mind. I am thinking of the increasing irritation of the man past 50, growling over the "inferior quality of the modern razor."

A few days ago I went to the factory of a progressive razor manufacturer in New York City. Having used this shaving outfit for about 25 years, I became impressed with the idea that my old razor was out of order, or else that the blades were not made so well as formerly.

The president of the concern invited me to his office for a talk about shaving. I told him of my troubles. In as kindly and polite a way as possible he suggested that as men grow older their beards get heavier and harder.

I saw the point at once. The good man is right. These hairs that are cut off every day are getting tougher with every passing year. At the same time the skin, especially of an indoor man, is growing more flabby and tender.

I am speaking of these matters because men write me about them. They ask about beards, as they do about baldness and its causes.

By the way, what a pity it is men don't get bald on the chin instead of on the crown! Wouldn't it cause a grand and glorious feeling to wake up some morning to find the face as smooth as a bald pate?

It is fortunate for us men-folks that razor makers are improving their product. The frames are firmer and the blades keener. They are finding ways to make the edges still sharper and to keep them sharp.

Shaving would be easier to do if the flesh were kept firm by proper feeding, out-of-door exercise, sunlight and an abundance of sleep. The skin of the body is improved or kept in normal condition by appropriate application of the rules of hygiene. Just as the general welfare of the skin surface is promoted, so is the skin of the face.

Your whole day may be spoiled if you swear over your shaving. It is a wise thing to begin right. With a smooth shave and a smiling face you are ready for whatever offers.

In a sense, shaving is a sort of surgical operation. It should be done with a good instrument, the best of soap and attention to absolute cleanliness. Infection, irritation and skin diseases are avoided by sensible practices in shaving.

Answers to Health Queries

R. P. Q.—My little boy of three is not strong and I would like to give him orange juice to strengthen him. When should it be given and how much should be given at a time? Could the juice of grapefruit be substituted at times?

A.—The child may have the juice of an orange every morning, about half an hour before his breakfast. You might alternate with the grapefruit juice occasionally if you find that it agrees with the child. He should have pure codliver oil after meals and should be exposed to direct sunshine and fresh air whenever possible.

R. R.—Q. What should a girl weigh who is 18 years old and 5 feet tall?

2. How can superfluous hair be removed?

3. What will increase the growth of the eyelashes?

A. For her age and height she should weigh about 112 pounds.

2. When the electric needle is properly used there is little scarring of the skin, but it must be employed by an expert. In some instances, a bleach is helpful.

3. Apply 1 per cent yellow oxide of mercury ointment to the lashes each night.

ERNEST L. Q.—What causes premature grayness and what can be done for it?

A.—Premature grayness may be due to serious illness, heredity or a sudden shock. There is really nothing that can be done other than keeping the scalp and hair in perfect condition all the time. A stimulating ointment is recommended.

* * *

A. G. F. Q.—Which is better, wheat or rye bread?

A.—Both are good. It is a matter of individual taste.

Correct Manners

By MRS. CORNELIUS BEECKMAN

The Groom's Clothes

FOR the informal day wedding, the groom, his best man, and ushers may wear:

1. Formal day clothes, cutaway coat, striped trousers and formal accessories.

2. A short, black, single-breasted jacket with striped trousers or gray worsted (not flannel) trousers. Accessories: Those that are correct with the formal cutaway. This attire is correct only at informal weddings where there are no ushers.

3. Or, at very informal weddings, where the bride wears, say, her "going away" costume and where there are no ushers and no wedding procession, the groom may wear a dark blue business suit, his "going away" suit.

With this suit the accessories that should be worn are the accessories that are worn on any other occasion with a sack suit. That is, the groom should not choose accessories that seem more festive, more "wedding-y"—a white bow or white four-in-hand tie, for instance, or a colored waistcoat, or white socks, or tan shoes, or gloves. He should wear a wing collar, or a stiff turndown collar. A four-in-hand tie is usually most becoming and most appropriate, not all white or black, but of a conservative color and pattern, one, for instance, with a dark background and narrow white single or grouped stripes. His shoes should be black oxfords, and his socks of dark silk or lisle. The appropriate hat for this suit is the derby or soft felt, or a straw hat. Scarf pins are now not often worn. Cuff links should be of a conservative style. No gloves are worn.

For the informal house wedding, taking place after 6:30 or 7 o'clock in the evening, the groom and the other gentlemen in the wedding party may, if the bride dresses informally, substitute for full evening dress the informal dinner jacket, tuxedo suit. (And it must be kept in mind that the tuxedo suit is informal attire).

The tuxedo suit, since it is evening wear, should not be worn before 6:30, or, better, 7 o'clock in the evening. Under no circumstances is it a substitute or alternative for formal day clothes—although many men try to convince themselves that it is.

Present or Letter?

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

My brother, who lives a long distance from here, was married a few weeks ago. The bride sent me a piece of wedding cake. Shall I write a letter thanking her, or must I send a wedding present? B. R.

TO acknowledge her kind thought in sending you the piece of wedding cake, you must as soon as possible write her a note of deep appreciation. For this girl to realize, in the midst of all her busy days that you would like to have a piece of your brother's wedding cake, since, because of the distance, you would not be able to come to the wedding, I think is very touching, and I hope that you will write her an especially gracious and friendly note of thanks and gratitude for her thought.

And I think that it would be natural that you would want to send your brother and his wife a wedding gift, even though your budget may permit only the simplest of presents. The present should be planned carefully, and with good taste, and these count more than the cost.

A New Idea

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

1. I would very much like to have an explanation on "the host cutting the lady friend's meat." Just how should this be done? Passed to the lady? Received by her?

2. I would appreciate criticism of my paper and writing as well as letter in general. JEAN.

I DON'T know what you mean by this. I'm sorry. Why doesn't the "lady friend" cut her own meat? Only if she is unable to do so, should the host cut her meat. There are many other gallant, and more interesting things that he may politely do for her, without performing this nursery act. Or have I misunderstood?

2. Your letter paper is excellent, in color, texture and in size. Your handwriting is almost excellent, and could be if you take a bit more care in forming the letters especially the e's and r's. And don't try to get too much on one page when you have so much room left over. Leave margins on all four sides of the pages, so that you will have an artistic frame for your handwriting-picture.

How Will 'Grouchy' Fiance Be?

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

WHEN two people who are engaged to each other can't get along happily, but quarrel and hurt and offend each other constantly, the question arises: Will they get on any better when they are married? And is marriage worth while if it means a cat-and-dog existence.

"Dear Miss Fairfax," writes Worried, "Won't you please help me? I am really unhappy.

"I have been going with a young man for two years. We are engaged to be married. When I first met him he was lovely and so gracious. But now we fuss and fight every time I see him, which is on the average three times a week and every Sunday.

"I cry every night after I leave him. He criticizes my clothes, which, though not elaborate, are spotless and up-to-date. Just the other day we went on a picnic. I wore one of last year's dresses, nice, but not new. He spoiled my entire day by criticizing it. I cannot have a good time at a picnic in my best clothes and I try to live according to my salary. When I first met him he was always complimenting me on my good taste.

"He has left me on the street for trifles and is jealous of every friend I have—even of his mother, who is one of my best friends. He is acting very rudely. I figure, if he loves me, why does he act the way he does? Why does he try to make everything unpleasant for me?

"His mother tells me I have worked wonders in him. But he is dreadfully spoiled—he has his own way at home, regardless! If I have worked wonders, goodness knows what it will take to finish him.

"He has his good points, but he is hurting me and killing my love for him. You see my feeling for him is not so slight that I can give him up 'off the bat.' But if he treats me like this now, what will it be after we are married?

"Will you please advise me—tell me of some little way to treat him? I don't want to give him up. I feel that deep in his heart he loves me. He will not take his ring back. I have offered it to him several times.

"I don't know what to do—maybe I haven't explained things right—I am so upset. But anyway, I am heart-sick. Honest, I can't be myself. Maybe he thinks he owns me. But things will have to stop going as they are now, or I will give him up. Won't you help me? Your advice will go a long way. I thank you so much."

Is the trouble all his fault, my dear? Is it, honestly? Have you tried your best to be sweet and charming to him, just as you did when you and he first met? Or have those meetings of yours, "on the average three times a week and every Sunday," which were so delightful and gracious at first, gradually developed into contests to determine which can be the ruder, the more touchy? It is easy even for two who are fond of each other to drift into this nerve-racking sort of companionship.

On the other hand, you have probably tried in every way to be tactful and agreeable. In that case, his persistent rudeness is inexcusable. It proves, not any lack of interest in you on his part, but that, like many spoiled individuals, he can't get on with anyone—not even with himself.

Be sweet and tolerant when you and he are together. Give him every chance. I agree with you in believing that deep down in his heart he loves you. But make it quite plain, if he continues to treat you insolently, leaving you on the street, criticizing your clothes, deliberately nagging at you, that you will not stand for that sort of thing.

A certain statesman remarked lately in a much-quoted speech: "We must not only be just—we must be respected." Any man who fails to treat you with courteous respect is not entitled to your companionship or friendship. Doubtless your fiance will see the justice of this stand if you maintain it with firmness and good humor and will mend his ways.

Should he persist in treating you as he has of late—well, my dear, you, alone, can decide whether you wish to let him go now or put up with a "grouchy" companion who will have the opportunity of making himself disagreeable, not "three times a week and Sundays," as at present, but 365 days of the year when you marry him! Do you care enough for him to endure that fate?

Household Hints

A candle may be made to fit a candlestick by dipping the candle in very hot water.

Wash all fruit such as raisins, sultanas and currants as soon as they come from the grocer; dry thoroughly and store in jars or tins, then they are always ready when wanted.

Turpentine removes grease stains from carpets. Use the turpentine on a piece of cloth, and rub vigorously until the spot has disappeared; rub afterward with a dry duster to remove all traces of the turpentine.

Nancy Plans to Attend Party With Handsome Roger Decatur

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

Nancy Hollenbeck, young, vibrant and beautiful, reluctantly drops her latest beau, Mat Tully, when her mother warns her against marrying a poor man "as she did." At the rich Craigs' house party, Nancy receives the attentions of Jack Beamer, handsome sportsman unhappily married. Nancy and Louise, her sister, are called home. Their rich Aunt Ellie has arrived. She promises the girls a trip to Yosemite. Nancy hears from Jack Beamer. She pictures herself as the second Mrs. Deamer. Arriving at Yosemite, Nancy finds it dull until a handsome man enters the door.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER VIII.

LOUISE'S eyess followed her sister's, to the man who, cigaret in hand, stood looking around the spacious lobby.

He wore the olive drab uniform of a ranger. His boots and hat were dusty, even his impudent, smiling face was dirty; but for all the dirt and fatigue he was the youngest, freshest, most virile creature in the room. From his sunburnt blond hair to the tips of his old riding boots, he sparkled. His bright blue eyes twinkled; white teeth, under the stubby toothbrush mustache, flashed as he encompassed the place in an all-enveloping, supremely good-natured grin. Then, with a friendly wave for a passing bellhop, he turned suddenly and went out, banging the door energetically behind him.

Nancy whistled. "The first real man I've seen. And he's leaving."

Lou smiled understandingly. Nancy was incorrigible—in the dumps over one man one minute, and up on her toes for another the next. Still, it was a good sign. Maybe she would forget Jack Beamer and her wild ideas of marrying him after he got his divorce, if she got interested in somebody else. "Oh, he'll be back. Those rangers are in and out all the time. And he is attractive. I'd like to know him myself, honestly I would!" she said.

"I saw him first!" Nancy laughed. The old bubbling, lilting laugh, and her eyes widened and darkened with excitement. "Now I'm going to find out all about him. Watch me. By tomorrow we'll be intimate friends!"

Tomorrow came and went without any sign of him, but Nancy didn't give up hope. She had found out that his name was Roger Decatur, that he was "in and out" of the hotel every day. The knowledge got her through the day.

It was one of the longest, dreariest days that either of them ever remembered. Here they were, in one of the wonder spots of the world, not seeing an inch beyond the hotel windows. Surrounded with every luxury, they were too bored to enjoy it. Aunt Ellie spoke vaguely of "making a tour of the valley"—in a sight-seeing bus presumably a little later, but for the present the spacious veranda, with its comfortable rockers, was more to her liking.

Here, in the warm, dry air, she rocked and crocheted, and comfortably complained: "It's robbery what they charge here. I don't know why people come. I was never one for this vacation nonsense. A body can be just as comfortable at home. More so. As soon as I felt the bed I knew I wouldn't sleep. The food isn't so much either. Filling but not nourishing. You overeat, but it doesn't do you any good. I wonder if they'll have turkey for dinner? What time is it, Louise? Only four o'clock? I suppose tea is extra. Just go in and inquire, Nancy.... Nancy! Inquire—don't order it, unless included. Just inquire. . . . Do you think she understood? Go after her, Louise. I don't want to spend money for tea unless it's . . . Hurry! She'll have it ordered!"

That was about the only time they got away from her side together. One or the other, preferably both, had to sit right there and rock and listen.

Nancy wriggled and twisted like a schoolgirl, eyes expectantly fixed on the door, the road, the laughing groups that came and went. Impossible that they didn't know a soul! That not one of their friends was passing. . . .

Not a word from Jack Beamer, either. Too soon for a letter, but he could telephone. Still, one had to be careful . . . Anita could make it very uncomfortable if she wanted to . . . suppose she was named as correspondent . . .

That nightmare thought sent a chill right down to the tips of the new scarlet pumps . . .mamma . . .the newspapers . . . what would people think? "Oh, dear, I was never meant for an adventuress. I almost wish I'd never met Jack . . . at least until he had got his divorce, but then some one else would have snapped him up. . . . Oh, if mamma were only like other mothers, good at managing! Mrs. Craig. She's just practically nailed Gil Neal for May Belle. May Belle never has a thing to do but look innocent. But if I sit back and wait for things to happen, I'll end like Louise, or worse than that, because I haven't got Lou's disposition . . poor Lou, she'd be stunning if she had the right clothes; she can't get by with trash like I can. . . ." And in spite of herself Nancy brightened and preened a little because her homemade white georgette was effective, and every paterfamilias who passed found an excuse for lingering to give her a second look.

But Louise, who lacked Nancy's natural buoyancy of spirit, was denied even the consolation of dreams. She saw themselves just as they really were, poor relations chained to the side of a grotesque old person who had brought herself and them here just to spite a sick husband. Hospital, indeed! If Joseph was going to insist on listening to that nonsense from his physician, Aunt Ellie would show him she needed a rest cure, too. He wouldn't be the only one to spend money foolishly. If he did, so would she! She had picked the most expensive place she could think of and had brought her nieces to help run up the bill.

So here they were, eating and sleeping and sitting within the little space of the hotel while flowers bloomed—patches of gold and purple and scarlet—near enough to smell them on the soft little wind that came down from the mountains. While waterfalls pounded (you could hear them in the quiet of the night) and thin, curly trails wound their almost invisible way beyond the low-lying trees, beyond the bare, painted rocks, to the pinnacles of distant, jagged peaks.

"As comfortable a home as any man ever had," Aunt Ellie's cracked, whining voice went right along, biting acidly into Louise's thoughts, "and the best mattress in the market. Curly white hair, picked over once a year, mind you, and he prefers a hospital cot! So I said to myself, 'Well, Joseph Watson,, I said, 'if it's money you want to spend I can help you, same as I've helped you save all these years. . . .'"

"Yes, Aunt Ellie." And, watching one khaki clad, laughing group after another mount sturdy mules and rangy, sure-footed mountain horses and go off into the leafy distance, Louise felt, more poignantly than ever before, that life was indeed going off without her. Here, with beauty, adventure, romance almost within reach of her finger tips, she had to sit rocking on a porch with an old lady. Her very muscles ached with cramped longing, her slim feet, planted so fimly and precisely in their neat brown slippers, itched to go. She wanted to run, screaming and panting, after every laughing, outgoing party with slickers and lunches strapped on their saddles. "Wait—wait for me! Take me—take me, too!"

But being Louise, unaccustomed to giving way to mad longings, she sat, a pleasant enough picture in fresh rose colored linen, and slick, satiny brown hair, rocking on the veranda, being "nice" to Aunt Ellie. Exerting herself to be still nicer, so that Aunt Ellie would not notice that when a dusty ranger with twinkling blue eyes stamped up the stairs and swung into the lobby, Nancy got up and followed.

From five to six—blessed hour—Aunt Ellie took her nap. "Rest," she called it. To hear her talk she never slept. Louise closed the communicating door softly now, to shut out the resounding snores, and wondered if she had time to take a walk before dinner.

"Lou, darling, is that you?" Nancy poked a rubber-capped head and a wet, rose-leaf shoulder out of the bathroom shower.

"Oh, Lou—I've met him. He's wonderful. I'm going over to the camp bonfire with him tonight. Lordy, I'm glad we came. This is a wonderful place. Aunt Ellie isn't such a total loss. Lou, dear, lend me your new flesh chiffon stockings? Mine have a run or something. I've got so much to tell you. Keep Aunt Ellie off of me tonight and I'll make it up to you tomorrow, cross-my-heart-and-hope-to-die!"

REKINDLED LOVE -:- Daily Short Story

By JACK WOODFORD.

"I WILL set you free," Guerda said, levelly, "on condition that you earn your freedom." As she said it, she drew up her firm little chin in an attitude almost regal.

Huntington could not help but admire her, even though he was head over heels in love with Marion.

Six years Guerda and he had been married. Somewhere, somehow, love seemed to have flown. He could not have told just when and where; but he was frank to admit that Guerda was no less beautiful today than she had been when he married her. But there was Marion—!

"And how shall I go about earning my freedom?" he asked. She glanced at him, trying to conceal the love she still held for him and succeeding very well, for Guerda had been an actress, and an excellent one, before Huntington had married her. She knew that she would never stop loving him.

Straight, tall, dark, the very image of perfection in manhood to her, she could not kill her love for him, no, not even though pride directed her to do so.

They were alone together in the library of their Park avenue residence. It was the first time in months that they had been alone together. Guerda wished that a happier subject of conversation might have existed at the moment; but she steeled herself and went on, speaking steadily:

"When you came to me for the first time, back stage that night, I told you that I could not go to supper with you. You pleaded so admirably that I was unable to resist.

"And, then, later, when you asked me to marry you, I said 'No!' I didn't believe that I had the right to marry into such an illustrious and wealthy family.

"You asked me again and again. And every time I refused you—until you beat down all barriers and won my consent. You worked hard—awfully hard. If ever a man earned a woman's love—you earned mine. Now, if you want freedom, you will have to earn it in the same way. You will have to convince me that you ought to have it."

"You mean—" he put in, in puzzlement, running his long, slender fingers through a thick crop of shiny, black hair.

"I mean that from now on we shall be man and wife in name only. I will see you whenever you care to see me. You shall have every opportunity you wish to plead for your freedom. If you do as well in your pleading for freedom, as you did in your pleading for my love—you ought to regain your freedom. It's all up to you—and I'll be the sole judge."

And so the matter rested, nor could he get any more out of her on the subject. Huntington was furious—but he saw no other way out than to submit to her whim. Certainly there was no cause for divorce between them, other than the one of which he was the instigator. With sad grace he decided to do as she asked.

But the following morning matters were complicated. Guerda suddenly packed up and booked passage on the Leviathan.

It was a queer passage. They occupied different staterooms. At every opportunity Huntington sought Guerda out and pleaded with her. And she chided him:

"Why Huntington! You're putting nowhere near the fervor into your words that you did when you were begging me to be your wife. What's wrong? Surely your great love for this other woman should lead you to more eloquent pleading."

He retreated, baffled. And whenever he left her side, others gladly stepped forward. Guerda was one of the most sought after women upon the boat. Her dances were always taken. Always there was someone wanting to promenade or play deck games with her.

Huntington raged, and, day by day, came to the conclusion that Guerda was a very beautiful and desirable woman—a fact he seemed temporarily to have forgotten—but then, there was Marion. Fluffy little Marion of the sapphire eyes!

On the last night out he went to Guerda in desperation, as she stood at the prow, miraculously alone.

"Guerda," he began dramatically, "It is you I love. Marion was a passing, fool infatuation, I guess. I can't think how I ever came to make such a fool of myself. Please forgive me."

"No!" she said firmly, eluding his arms and his lips. But he took her by storm, there in the dark. His arms were about her against her will. His lips found hers, and only the moon winked down. And then he pleaded, as with the voice of Apollo.

"Nonsense!" he almost shouted.

"But are you sure you want me?"

"You're mine," he affirmed. "Nothing can change that. This separation stuff is the bunk." And then he pleaded as he never had before. And Guerda, completely routed under the spell of the moon and his kisses, surrendered.

BUGS BAER Says

RECEPTION GOOD—ENTERTAINMENT BAD.

"Bugs" Baer

LESS than some time ago we turned on the two-family radio and were astonished by hearing the roar of Niagara.

But were disappointed when the announcer did not go over the falls in a barrel.

Seems they are improving radio by giving us wet static.

Not a bad idea. The next time they include the roar of Niagara Falls as entertainment why not make a soprano go over them in a potato barrel with three hoops missing?

The roar of Niagara is some magnificent open air plumbing. And proves that radio is still in its infancy.

If they are going in for disorganized orchestrations on the air why not give us the amalgamated mumble of both branches of Congress?

Old Faithful erupts a mob of water 10 feet high and very moist in diameter. It gallops at a temperature of about 200 degrees hot. Which is a trifle too warm for a borrowed umbrella.

But any time you can snare Old Faithful on your radio it is willing to give you an educational scalding.

It is wonderful to hear the barking of the field mice in Manitoba.

The rattle of the war drums as Canadian tourists settle down for a quiet evening in the emergency hospitals.

In a short time we will be in touch with the infinite and the cosmos. We will be able to hear anything that goes on in any place in the world.

Which is all very nutritious and appetizing to the radio gossips. But the next time there is another Democratic convention in Madison Square Garden we are going to smack that radio box in the face with an axe.

Now, the roar of Niagara ain't John McCormack. We must admit that it is deafening and inspiring. But, like blisters on the feet, it is something that you never get used to.

We heard it distinctly. The critics were a trifle harsh. The concensus of opinion seemed to be that Niagara was not in good voice and that some understudy must have been playing the part.

It's going to have a bad effect on stingy bridegrooms. Instead of tthe bride getting that honeymoon trip to Buffalo she will have to listen to Niagara on the radio.

If it is all the same to the big broadcasting syndicates we would have appreciated it during that last torrid wave if they had tapped the Frozen North and permitted us to hear what an iceberg listens like.

Garbage Charges Should Be Tried in Open Court

Henry O. Evans, city controller, charges the American Reduction Company with having overcharged the city about $1,000,000 for the removal of garbage over a number of years. The accusation involves an auditor in his own department, accused of having failed to make a sufficiently exhaustive examination of the books of the company, as he was supposed to do annually.

The company's president answers the charges of Controller Evans by stating they are "trifles."

Some of the "trifles," which Mr. Evans contends were improperly charged to the operating expenses of the company, are said to include initiation fees and membership dues of the president of the company in the Duquesne Club, maintenance of a box at Forbes Field, gifts of Christmas cigars, donations, etc., amounting to more than $12,000; advertising, $11,000; radio set for an official of company, $125; plant replacements, $276,456; rent, $148,999; four years' salary to the late George Flinn, $93,000.

se may be "trifles" to the company, but they scarcely o the city, if it shall be proven that the complaint of s is a just one.

n justice to the company and the city, it is a matter that should be decided in open court.

To Help Flying

Suggestions for the Government.

This government and all the people that live under it are interested in the development of aviation. In Europe flying is subsidized directly by the different governments. That cannot be done in this country as yet.

But our government CAN and SHOULD do many things to encourage flying.

For instance, the Postoffice Department, which has done more to develop aviation than any other public or private agency in America, might help the fliers to identify many cities by painting the names of cities on the roofs of the postoffices.

A simpler plan for easier identification might be to print a number indicating a certain city with a letter next it to indicate the state. Thus 1-K might mean Louisville, Kentucky. Fliers could carry an index, identifying the cities by numbers and state initials.

Also our government, the army particularly, could give instruction to officers in command of landing fields to treat civilian fliers hospitably and courteously, maintaining public stations to supply gas and other necessary equipment, for proper payment, of course.

Some civilian fliers have complained that those in charge of an army landing field, with many men standing about idle, have told them that they would have to go 20 miles farther to get gasoline. That is not encouraging flying.

SCIENCE—HUMANITY

By Archibald Henderson

SCIENCE nowadays is taxing the imagination of man to the utmost. The miracles of modern science are frequently miracles of the intangible, the unattainable, I had almost said the occult. No one has ever seen an electron—only its impact as indicated by a flash. No Augstroem unit can be measured by a scale held in the hand. The enormous gravitational force upon the surface of the Companion of Sirius is beyond our ken. The imaginative scientist of today imposes as his first condition the voluntary abdiction of "common sense." Bernard Shaw has characteristically expressed the occult and mysterious quality of modern science in the following passage, in the preface to his great play, Saint Joan: "The mediaeval doctors of divinity who did not pretend to settle how many angels could dance on the point of a needle cut a very poor figure as far as romantic credulity is concerned beside the modern physicists who have been settled to the billionth of a millimetre every movement and position in the dance of the electrons.—Why the men who believe in electrons should regard themselves as less credulous than the men who believed in angels is not apparent to me . . . In the Middle Ages people believed that the earth was flat, for which they had at least the evidence of their senses; we believe it to be round, not because as many as 1 per cent of us could give the physical reasons for so quaint a belief, but because modern science has convinced us that nothing that is obvious is true, and that everything that is magical, improbable, extraordinary, gigantic, microscopic, heartless or outrageous is mathematics, which arge measure to the Boole, the American Pierce, talian Plano, "consists entirely of asseverations to the effect that, if such and such a proposition is true of anything, then such and such another proposition is true of that thing. It is essential not to discuss whether the first proposition is really true, and not to mention what the anything is, of which it is supposed to be true." It is from such irreproachable premises of formal logic that my erstwhile teacher, Bertrand Russell, disengaged this witty and accurate definition: "Mathematics may be defined as the subject in which we never know what we are talking about, nor whether what we are saying is true." Those who find mathematics puzzling and incomprehensible may derive abiding comfort and satisfaction from this paradoxical definition and experience profound belief in its essential accuracy.

To primitive man, the universe was anthropocentric. It was a comforting and essentially egoistic theory for man to regard himself as the center of the sidereal universe. A new conception introduced by Ptolemy and his school; the earth became the center of the universe. The anthropocentric theory yielded to a geocentric one. With Copernicius was ushered in the theory that the sun was the center of the stellar realm. The geocentric theory yielded to a heliocentric theory. "Thus the significance of man and the earth in the sidereal scheme has dwindled with advancing knowledge of the physical world, and our conception of the dimensions of the discernible stellar universe has progressively changed." A new order of magnitude has been introduced into the universe by the findings of such astronomers as Shapley, Russell and Eddington. Whereas Curtis gives 30,000 light-years as somewhat larger than the galactic diameter indicated by the Milky Way, Shapley, on the basis of recent researches, assigns to the galactic diameter a length of at least 300,000 light-years. Thus dwindles into greater insignificance the earth and man. We are reminded of Mark Twain's "Capt. Stormfield's Visit to Heaven." On stating that he came from the earth, Capt. Stormfield was told by St. Peter that he had never heard of it. He referred captain to the celestial map, and after an indefatigable search lasting several days, Capt. Stormfield finally pointed out a tiny dot on the map which he identified as the earth. "Why," exclaimed St. Peter, with great scorn, "We call that The Wart!"

We know now that not even the sun, much less the earth, is the center of the solar system. It is at least 50,000 light-years' distant from the center of the solar system. That is to say, about 300,000,000,000,000,000, or three hundred quadrillion miles. We now know that instead of a paltry 6,000 stars, there are at least 10,000,000,000 stars in the universe. But in face of these colossal numbers and gigantic magnitudes, Prof. Shapley upheld man's high and commanding position in the universe. "Science minimizes man's position in the universe with regard to duration and energy content," he says, "but it enhances man's significance in the cosmos as a comprehending individual. By showing man to be an integral part of the whole scheme, the new study lends a greater dignity to his existence."

Bible Passages

Obedience Blessed

(Deuteronomy 28; 1-11)

AND it shall come to pass, if thou shalt hearken diligently unto the voice of the Lord thy God, to observe and to do all his commandments which I command thee this day, that the Lord thy God will set thee on high above all nations of the earth:

And all these blessings shall come on thee, and overtake thee, if thou harken unto the voice of the Lord thy God.

Blessed shalt thou be in the city, and blessed shalt thou be in the field.

Blessed shall be the fruit of thy body, and the fruit of thy ground, and the fruit of thy cattle, the increase of thy kine, and the flocks of thy sheep.

Blessed shall be thy basket and thy store.

Blessed shalt thou be when thou comest in, and blessed shalt thou be when thou goest out.

The Lord shall cause thine enemies that rise up against thee to be smitten before thy face; they shall come out against thee one way, and flee before thee seven ways.

The Lord shall command the blessings upon thee in thy storehouses and in all that thou settest thine hand unto; and he shall bless thee in the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee.

The Lord shall establish thee an holy people unto himself, as he hath sworn unto thee, if thou shalt keep the commandments of the Lord thy God, and walk in his ways.

And all people of the earth shall see that thou art called by the name of the Lord; and they shall be afraid of thee.

And the Lord shall make thee plenteous in goods, in the fruit of thy body, and in the fruit of thy cattle, and in the fruit of thy ground, in the land in which the Lord sware unto thy fathers to give thee.

DUNMOW NEVER BOLTS

By Herbert Kaufman

THE Prince of Wales is 35 years old. He wasn't knee-high to a grasshopper on the morning of his grandfather's coronation, as he leaned from the nursery window and watched a Gurkha regiment, encamped at St. James Park, perform their ablutions and begin to preen for the procession.

George the Fifth, then the quietest and most retiring of all the Coburg-Gothas, wasn't especially popular.

The writer remembers an Imperial Industries dinner at which the gentleman opposite sneeringly dubbed him a "bloody German," who hadn't yet lost the family's Hanoverian accent.

Men were not wanting in those days to insist that the new king would prove the final British monarch, just as folk NOW prophesy that the next Edward will be the last Briton to wear a GOLD HAT.

They also said the same thing in Watt Tyler's day, and a minority actually believed that John Bull had permanently discarded ermine robes with the coming of Cromwell.

BUT conservatism and Englishmen are synonyms.

Even Carnegie couldn't QUITE get it out of his system. If Victoria had been less hidebound in bestowing titles on repentant strayed sheep, the Laird of Skibo might have attained his secret heart's ambition and swaggered in peer's robes, too.

The Old Lady of Windsor didn't like the little man, and he forever spilt the beans and spoiled his chances for baronage, by impudently offering to contribute two stained windows to one of her favorite chapels, provided the glass portraits of Cromwell and Monk were respectively installed to right and left of the altar.

Victoria was as fond of her deadlines as Mrs. Astor. Social climbers found it HARD GOING during their parallel reigns.

BUT neither of them held a CANDLE to the exclusive set at Dunmow, some of whose family trees were planted there when the Roman Emperor Hadrian built the town.

Dunmow's chief claim to distinction is NOT the flitch of bacon immemorably bestowed upon the married couple who have not quarreled for an entire year.

Or because H. G. Wells and DeVere Stackpole acknowledged themselves liege villeins of Lady Warwick, and thereby hold feudal leases to cottages on her neighboring estate.

These were ONCE Dunmow's CACHET. But they became inconsequent when one of her patriotic sons, hearing that a family from Bishop Stortford (two miles away) contemplated the purchase of a home in those sacrosanct precincts, proceeded to buy up all the available property within bounds, "to keep the damned foreigners out."

A CHARACTERISTIC gesture of a community which has consistently ostracized several long wealthy and cultured citizens, guilty of descent from a SIXTEENTH CENTURY FARMHAND!

While the English countryside cherishes like fetishes and taboos and competes with the Chinese in ancestor worship, don't let a trivial incident like the Labor Party's recent victory deceive you into thinking that either London Bridge or Buckingham Palace is FALLING DOWN.

The Upper House, with its aristocratic privileges and vast entails, will eventually pass—India will compose caste and religious differences and become autonomous—Canada and Australasia set up their own political households—these evolutions are selfevident.

But LONG after they transpire, scions of the Prince of Wales will kneel in Westminster Abbey to receive the crown from an Archbishop of Canterbury.

DUNMOW NEVER BOLTS THE TICKET.

Worst Story I Have Heard To-day

By WILL ROGERS.

GOING to hospitals ain't so romantic as it used to be. You got to have your blood examined and your bankroll tested and everything, and all that makes it kinda businesslike.

One lady that was nervous about her operation says to the girl in the hospital office, "Say, do you know my doctor, and is he very careful?"

"Yes, we know him. He's fine.'

"Does he take every possible precaution in advance?"

"Sure, he does. He left word that we are to collect his bill before you are assigned to a room."

.:. LISTEN, WORLD! .:.

By Elsie Robinson

YOU'RE tossed into this life as a chip is tossed into the ocean.

From the day of your birth you are buffeted and beset by countless conflicting currents and winds of fortune. With every hour of your life this conflict increases—and the richer your nature, the greater the conflict.

Another friend tells you to do that—

One opportunity leads to a certain goal—

Another opportunity points in an entirely different direction—

Which opportunity shall you embrace?

Nor are these conflicting outside influences your worst problem; you are besieged within as well as without. You are yanked a dozen ways at once by your own emotions.

One day you blow hot—the next you blow cold.

The next day you're serious, cynical, on your guard.

And the next day you may be all steamed up with grief or resentment.

What shall you do? How shall you plan your life?

You may do many things, follow scores of different plans, ALL WITHIN THE SCOPE OF YOUR OWN NATURE.

You may lead a cautious life of a reckless life, a merry life or a serious one—AND YET ALWAYS BE YOURSELF.

We're apt to forget this fact. We usually realize that we, ourselves, are very complex, but we don't realize that the other chap is equally so. We think of him as ONE PERSON—with only one set of impulses—a nice person or a mean one, a wise on or a foolish one.

BUT EVERYONE IS MANY PERSONS.

EVERYONE HAS A CHOICE OF FOLLOWING VARIOUS COURSES.

Many people do follow various courses, hopping from one personality to another, and thereby making a dreadful mess of their lives.

THE GREAT THING IS TO PICK ONE COURSE AND STICK TO IT.

You will sometimes regret that you picked that course, you will always feel the tug of other impulses, but it's the only way you will get anywhere. If you surrender to every conflicting impulse and influence, your career will be as futile and tragic as the career of a chip on the ocean.

The Most Marvelous Animal

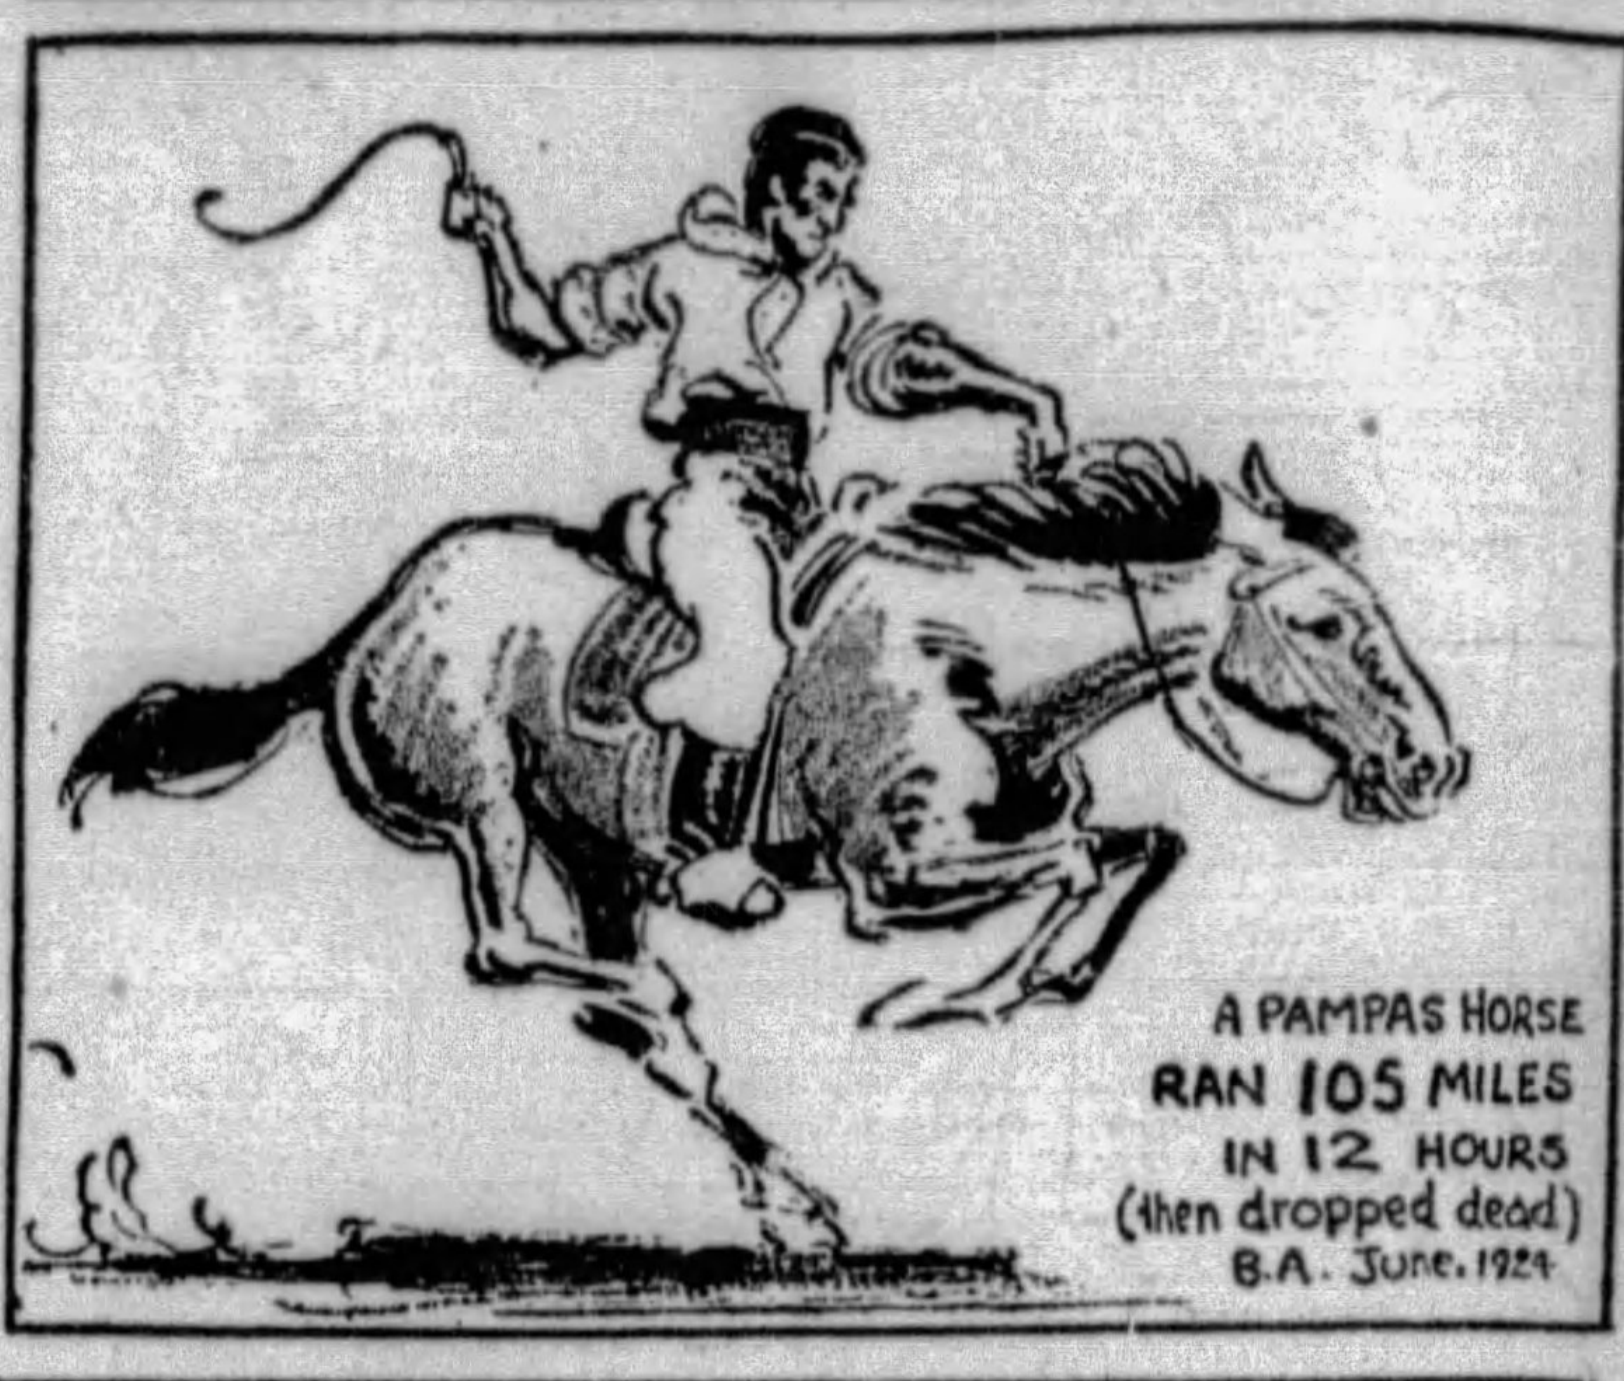
It Has Two Legs and Its Name Is MAN.



ICHIDO RAN A GOOD RACE, BUT—

Ripley, who collects strange facts for that eminent publisher, Mr. Cyrus H. K. Curtis, made this picture of a horse than ran 105 miles in 12 hours and dropped dead. It was a marvelous achievement.

But what a horse can do with all its power is not much compared to what a man can do.

Take a horse to the North Pole, he will die. A man will thrive there.

Take a polar bear down to the Equator, and he will die. A man will live there. Millions of them do live there.

When it comes to running, nothing equals man, although he wasn't made primarily to run far or very fast.

In a six-day race a man ran more than 600 miles in six days "go as you please." No horse on earth could do it.

And the man didn't die at the end of his race. On the contrary he was elected Mayor of Long Island City, N. Y., and lived happily for a long time afterwards.

He builds a little automobile runabout that in two hours can go as far as the horse Ichido II ran in 12 hours, keep it up for 100 hours, and be none the worse for it.

Of all the animals that roam the earth, man is champion. He can talk around the world without wires, measure the weight of the sun, moon, and distant stars.

He can photograph objects so far away that the light traveling 186,000 miles per second would take 1,000,000 years to get there.

Man can't help fighting other men yet, but perhaps he will conquer even THAT.

He is only 12,000 years from the Stone Age. This earth still has several hundred million years to go. Plenty of time for civilization and improvement.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

By O. O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, June 29.—A huge army of 20,000 night laborers are loosed on Greater New York streets and building excavations after the sun goes down daily. They are better paid after dark and few of them after a short while return to day labor.

The night worker has found that aside from the higher wage, he can put by more for the rainy day and is better able to withstand temptation. By dawn he is so exhausted he is interested in nothing but a square meal and sound sleep. He is accounted a steadier workman.

When they arise in the late afternoon, the convivial companions of the usual night are at work. There are few places to go during daylight. Consequently the relaxation is simple. Their chief form of amusement is in the neighborhood movie.

Two big building contractors were formerly night workers and were able to save enough money to start on their own at the auspicious time. At night the roar of the city has simmered down to a hum. Dreamers may work and plan their future without so much interruption about them.

The night forces often recruit men who have met failure in various parts of the world and are seeking a new start. It offers a way to hide from the heavy crush of day crowds. Among them, too, are those who made their mistake and wait in shadowy obscurity for the world to forget.

There is a peripatetic preacher who has for years spread the gospel among the toilers of the night. He goes among them at the midnight lunch hour, mounts a soap box and is always accorded a respectful hearing. There is no collection and he is known merely as "The Night Parson."

Often one sees workers during relaxing hours reading worthwhile books or studying various text tomes. Many have taken advantage of the extension courses offered by various colleges and graduates from pick and shovel to more profitable callings.

ONCE OVERS

By J. J. Mundy

DON'T let ridicule cause you to drop something that you believe might be beneficial to you.

Why let pride dictate the order and course of your life?

If it be necessary for you to do unimportant work for a while, have the courage to carry on.

If you have a plan, worthwhile in the end, don't be afraid of what others might say, if you must personally attend to minute details, not understandable by those who think you ought to be above doing such work.

If the goal is something big, coming from a start at the very bottom, there should be no hesitancy.

But to remain in low position, without the grit to brave scorn or misunderstanding, is the thing that means you are an individual of small caliber.
